In this case he is right.
MURS Designated Frequencies
MURS 1 = 151.8200
MURS 2 = 151.8800
MURS 3 = 151.9400
MURS 4 = 154.5700
MURS 5 = 154.6000

In this case, the PD has no business claiming their territory since the FCC has stated the frequency is open channel.

That's kind of like a PD using CB and demanding the citizens stay off the channel.

Dude, the FCC assigns who can use any frequency. MURS is not amateur radio.
The 2 meter amateur radio band consists of frequency between 144mhz and 148mz.
Just because you have a radio that can transmit outside that band, does not grant you authority to do so.

Does "eight equals equals equals D" count as profane language?

I'd fucking love to see that in an IC naughty words report.

i am trying my hardest to deal with alot of profane language so what industry canada is recommending is ignore all rude cb radio operators.i am gonna make sure local cbers follow the rules or suspensions will apply for incidents on the CB RADIO!!! I do not have to deal with rude local cb radio operators from barrie ontario or canada. they will suffer.all cb radio complaints should be directed to these phone numbers right below!!

1-416-973-5000(jennifer wilson)

I HOPE THIS HELPS THE PROBLEM WITH SWEARING ON THE CB RADIO.I'VE HAD IT WITH RUDE CB RADIO OPERATORS FROM BARRIE ONTARIO INCLUDING CANADA.

?Thank you for pointing out that MURS is open to all.

Back when I was in college, the local police used 27 MHz CB. Open to all.
And one of the idiot students made a rude remark to one of the cops.

He was given a choice - resign and leave the school or face charges. He dropped out.

MURS is not amateur. Nearest amateur is 2 meter (144-148 MHz). 70 CM is the 440 MHz band. And in certain areas, it is highly regulated. Near Arecibo is one for instance.

160 meters used to be highly regulated in some areas (including Rochester, NY), due to LORAN.

Things change.

Not according to tjhe FCC which is FEDERAL law. There is a police department (located near a an interstate freeway) which uses the MURS channel 154.570 MHZ for it's daily police business.

Although MURS isn't as heavily used as CB or frs, there are some users.

When travellers down the freeway using MURS radios (and perfectly legal FCC-certified radios), they listen hear no one talking and transmit when they need to, the the police department using the MURS frequencies gets all P.O'ed and replies by raadio, tells them to stop illegally transmitting on the police channel and to get off the police channels, and if they don't they will arrrest and jail them and confiscate their radios because their radios are illegal since they are able to transmit on the police channel and that if they don't have the proper paper license (isssued by that police department) to allow them to transmit on that radio frequency, the y WILL be jailed, after being arrested and fined for illegal possesion of a radio capable of transmitting on police frequencies which their state law specifically says is aagainst the lawe to have.

Acording to you and the police, I and everyon e else need a license to transmit on the police frequency of 154.570 MHZ or we're not allowed to transmit at all.

According to the FCC (which is FEDERAL law), NO ONE needs a license to transmit their because every citizen of the U.S. is already licensed by rule to transmit there.

According to you and the police, I and everyone else am not allowed to have our MURS radios because it is illegal to ghave such a radio sincer it can transmit on the police channel of 154.570 MHZ being used by the police.

According to the FCC (which is FEDERAL law, the radios are NOT illegal and are in fact perfectly LEGAL for EVERY citizen of the U.S. to have and transmit on.

And no MURS frequencies will be assigned exclusively to one group or one person or one agency. The channels MUST be SHARED. That is FEDERAL law.

So once again, the police have absolutely no right arressting, fining, or jailing me or anyone else, or confiscating mine or anyone else's perfectly-legal FCC-approved radios just because the radios can transmit on their police frequency ("police channel" of 154.570 MHZ

Furthermore, from everything I read, the FCC has never ever assigned 154.570 MHZ to any police or public safety groups.

The frequency was a business channel used by commercial businesses before it was a MURS frequency.

Also, there were many cars made which came directly from the factory with radios which could tune into the audio portion of the tv broadcast stations and had the normal scan button to search them (which also searched for am and fm radio broadcast stations if you had it set for the am or fm band instead of the tv band.

Ever since the tv stations have been removed from that band by the FCC last year (2009), those factory-installed car radios now tune into the 700 MHZ police channels instead of the 700 MHZ tv channels because there aren't any tv stations on those channels anymore.

So now when the geberal public pushes the scan button to search for their tv station audio, it only stops on police and public safety channels and acts just like a scanner.

The cops will arrest you for having such a radio installed in your car even though it was factory-installed in all those model cars by the manufacturer before they were first sold by the manufacturer because it violates their state laws of "you shall not equip, install, nor have equipped or installed in your car any scanner which now or hereafter recieves police frequencies now allocated or allocated in the futture by the FCC or it's sucessor in your vehicle.

Even though it was installed in your car BEFORE the new rules (new law) went into effect.

Which makes it an ex-post-facto law and a violation of the U.S. Constitution.

So any cop or city arresting, fining, or jailing you for that is holding you on an illegal ex-post-facto law.

?That 156 MHz frequency is not an amateur frequency.
Understand that there are no sanity tests required to get a license.
The guy is lucky that is all he got for a penalty.

BTW, that article is from 2003 .... uh ...???

Where do you come up with this shit?
This township law you refer says I can't drive my 1955 Chevy because the township consider it to be junk? Even though the state has issued a proper license state and is well maintained?

Have you ever considered challenging these HOA's assholes in court?
As well as the township?

Did you not state once this was in Arizona?
I looked up the law on Arizona HOAs and that law clearly states, the HOAs do not have any legal authority concerning vehicles on a dedicated street.
Dedicated, has a wide meaning. The only way an HOA could have total control of a street is to declare it "private".

What you need to do is take action. Get off your lazy armchair ass and get involved with the HOA. My brother did and how he's even on the board.

FYI, if there is a federal law on the subject, the federal law takes precedence over any other jurisdiction law. So no, the township can not restrict a ham radio operators license in any manner.

I wish the Gov't would pay me to sit on my ass all day and think of dumb shit to type in to my computer and post to see what folks with a life will type in to reply to his Gov't financed drivel.

Tip Of The Day:
Never reply to any newsgripe post that starts with "X-No-Archive: Yes".
It's a sure sign of a troll that doesn't want to archived so you can't prove it's them in a few years. Of course, they better keep copies of it so they can repost it years later and save having to rethink about it.

A lot of this stuff looks like a guy named Randy in other places. Very

Use the factory alignment procedure. Don't bother with the snake oil parts clip. You'll need frequency generators, oscilloscopes, meters and any other equipment noted in the manual.

It would be a lot cheaper to take it to a radio shack that knows what they're doing and has the equipment.
But if you want to buy the equipment for say around $10,000, just so you can totally toast your radio, thats your business dude.

Are these video systems for backing up being outlawed on RV's and Postal trucks as well?

I wonder about retrofitting these to existing cars - in particular, where does the screen fit? (how big is it?) There's existing stuff in the way, like stick shifts, heater/AC controls (you really HAVE to adjust those if your windows start fogging up) and space for the driver to see forwards.

Do you have a cite for an actual state court (I'm not interested in Canada for the moment), or state police officers, outlawing these cameras and viewscreen? No, I'm not talking about someone who got caught watching football or porn on one. I mean one that was there obviously for the purpose of safety and no other, and nobody disputes this fact.

It's quite obvious to me that the viewscreen that acts like a rear-view mirror, only it sees parts normally blocked by parts of the car, IS being used for the navigation of the car (around pedestrians, not over them).

Why would these cameras need to transmit? (except incidentally that coax leaks signal). Why would the viewscreen need a tuner?

Since you only use this device when you are backing up, I would program the screen to emerge from the dash in front of the window whenever you put the car in reverse, and remain retracted at all other times. If it blocked your front window, who would care?

Its not like them using CB. It IS them using CB and demanding the citizens stay off the channel.

not only does the murs site state it is cb, so does the fcc on the fcc website.

the fcc says it is a citizens band frequency for all citizens no licensce req\uired and that those frequencies will NOT be assigned to any one individual or group.

definitely. the fcc preemtion sure didnt do that ham any good even though his radio could not tx or rx on police frequencies and he had legal help from the arrl and the cops could not reproduce what the arresting cops claimed even from the same spot. and all the charges from it except one stuck after it went to court.

the court dropped the "using a radio which can recieve police transmissions" charge, however the kentucky court ruled that since police use a walkie talkie that anyone carrying a walkie-talkie IS illegally impersonating a polce officer and anyonne showing an ares card is also illegally impersonating a police officer.

and ruled that the fcc has asolutely no authority over local laws regarding impersonating a police office and that the fcc is oit of their urisdiction and overstepping their jurisdiction y trying to preemt local laws regarding whether a person is impersonating a cop or not.

so that charge and another charge and the fine for for them stayed even though he was operating completely legally according to fcc rules. and was not dressed as a police officer.

te kentucky court claimed it is illegally since simply having a two way radio is "illegally impersonating a police officer" since cops carry two way radios (even though he was not dressed as a cop and did not impersonate a cop, and did not transmit on any cop frequencies.
his radio was incapale of it and incapale o eing modifie to do so, and he was only talking to other hams on it on ham frequencies.

so what good did the fcc preemtion do him? absoluteely nothing.

he got a raw deal. except for one, all the charges from him simply legally talking to other hams on his ham radio stayed since the FCC does not have any urisdiction over local laws aout imprtsonating police officers.

so according to you, a police department can just decide to use the 27 mhz c channel 14 for all their communications and when some traveller comes along , hears nothing and calls out eaker reaker 14 to his friend, the police can claim ge interference and arrest him forr interfereing with them since it is "unintentional interference" ecause your state law says so even though the FCC says it is open to ALL citizens of the U.S. and will NOT be assigned to any one individual o one group?

where does your state get off superceding FEDERAL laws???

your police department wold sure have a field day setting up their regular police operations on 27 mhz CB channel 19 ans arresting all the truckers and other highway travelles who decide to transmit on their "exclusive police frequency"' of CB channel 19 even though the police werent talking at the time since it is "interfering with them" to do so since they decided to use CB channel 19 as their main police channel 24/7.

well, if they can afford it, someone is going to get sued if the FCC yanks their license for simply possessing a radio which the FCC itself said is perfectly legal for anyone to have.

when they did not make any illegal transmissions on any frequency at all

when the cops confiscate it simply because it is capable of transmitting on the police fequency which is either a ham radio frequency in most of the nation or a CB frequeency in the entire nation.

Only for dickheads who stick the monitor to the middle of their windscreen in front of their face thus blocking their vision forward, which would be the direction they most travel in

In Australia is has been law for many many years that you can't put anything on your windscreen that blocks your forward vision, yet Navigation units and reverse cams are all the rage, because you can place them down at dash level and they don't block your vision instead of the middle of the screen so you can show off to others that you have such things and making you look like a complete Dick..... Where do you come up with all this CRAP????

There is NO provision in CFR 47 Part 95 SubPart D for ANY local Police Fire or other Public Safety Outfit to commandeer any authorized Frequency for their specific use. Therefor your premise is BOGUS from the get-go.. Any local LEO who tries to enforce, such a contingency, will find him/her self in a serious confrontation with the local FCC Office when it becomes know, and the local US Attorney soon there after.
I have known local Podunk Sheriffs, to be locked up in their own jails, by a US Marshal, for tangling with FCC field Agents, about such violations of CFR 47.

Sonny, you need to go back and reread CFR 47 Part 95 AGAIN.
the frequency above in NOT a CB (Citizens Band Radio Service) Frequency, PERIOD. It is a MURS (Multi-Use Radio Service) Frequency, and th two are totally different Radio Services in CFR 47 Part 95.... Lordy Your an Radioguy?

You should apply for a job with the Coast To Coast AM show. They are your horrible Burger King King dude with the Shiny Plastic Head.

It's a big job. You'll need a big sammich to help get you there.

Got the new Cobra 29 LX LE 50th Anniversary CB and the Palomar 450 HD and have no idea how to tune the CB to run with the amp. I've read that the I need to adjust the CB so the input on the amp is not to high, so it doesn't wreck the amp. Can someone please help? I've been searching for a few days now on just exactly how to do this. I'm very new to radios but am exited to get into it.

THANK YOU!!!!

A 2290 can draw up to 15 amps each and a 2879 can draw up to 20 amps each.
What pills are in the amp and how many?

For a 2 pill, 8 GA if short and 6 GA if over 6 feet.
For a 4 pill, 6 GA if short and 4 GA if over 6 feet.

You can ground the amp to the vehicle's frame but make sure you run an equal size negative lead to the battery to match the positive feed. Fuse both leads AS CLOSE TO THE BATTERY as possible. Use STRANDED wire. Crimp and solder the terminals to the wire. Make sure wire is secured and won't flap around.

<Sonny, you need to go back and reread CFR 47 Part 95 AGAIN.
<the frequency above in NOT a CB (Citizens Band Radio Service)

<PERIOD. It is a MURS (Multi-Use Radio Service) Frequency, and th two

<IDIOT

"4. Is MURS "VHF CB"?

Yes. MURS is the only "VHF Citizens Band" in the United States available for general two-way voice and data communications.

MURS is one of five Citizens Band Radio Services. (See 95.401.) The others are the (original) Citizens Band Radio Service at 27 MHz, the Low Power Radio Service (LPRS) at 216-217 MHz, the Medical Implant
Communications Service (MICS), the Family Radio Service (FRS) at 460
MHz, and the Wireless Medical Telemetry Service (WMTS).

The General Mobile Radio Service (GMRS) at 460 MHz is sometimes (if incorrectly) described as "the old UHF CB." That description has no legal or historical basis in fact. GMRS is the former Class A of the Citizens Radio Service, but was never "Citizens Band" as such.

LPRS, though legally a form of CB, allows only certain limited uses including theft tracking, auditory and health care assistance devices and control stations in automated maritime radio networks. No two-way voice communications are permitted in LPRS.

MICS and WMTS, though also legally a form of CB, allow only certain limited medical telemetry transmissions, usually in a hospital or health-care setting.

The FCC is currently considering an additional CB service. "Personal Locator Beacons" (PLBs) would be alerting devices that persons would be able to use in remote areas to summon assistance in emergencies.

MURS, CB, GMRS, FRS, WMTS and LPRS are all members of the Personal Radio Services as designated by the FCC. The Personal Radio Services should not be confused with the Personal Communications Services (PCS) in the 900 and 1900 MHz bands."

125. Local cops arrested me for using my radio

Last week I was walking my three-legged dog through my neighborhood and was walking slowly so that my dog could take his time.
I had a hand held walkie talkie with me that I was using to keep in contact with my wife.
One of the HOA women saw me using the small walkie-talkie and determined that I was in violation of my HOA deed restrictions.
So she called the police.
The police showed up and made me stand against their squad car while they searched me...then they confiscated my MURS walkie-talkie.
I told the officers (there were two squad cars there, with two officers in each) that the radio is perfectly legal.
Well, that almost got me free, until the president of the HOA showed up and swore out a warrant for my arrest.
She told the police that using two way radios in my neighborhood was a direct violation of our deed restrictions.
I had to give my radio to the cops and was cuffed. They called the animal shelter to come get my dog, too.
I was taken to jail and had to stay there for four hours. I got to make one phone call to have my daughter, who lives 60 miles away, come post my bond.
Then I had to go to the shelter to get my dog. That cost me $120 for several fees, including one that they charged me for spaying my dog while she was in their custody. And they gave her a rabies shot, too. They told me that the HOA would not allow me to take my dog home if she was not spayed and licensed.
The police told me the next day that they would not return my radio since the HOA did not allow it. They said that they would give the radio to a family member, provided that the family member would sign an affidavit that they would not return the radio to me. Then the police told me that to get the radio handed to a family member that they would have to pay a sixty dollar fee for the paperwork.
And get this! The police said that they would release my MURS radio only after a local Judge signed a Release Order.

And all of this because of a cheap Walmart radio that would not transmit more than a few blocks at best.
And now I have a police record because of this.

I'll probably lose my job because of this. And I might even lose my house, too. I'm already two payments behind, and this arrest and job loss could be the straw that breaks my financial back. So who is going to pay for my kids' education if I can't? And my wife is a mental wreck because of this. She is still shocked at seeing me placed against the trunk of a police car, being handcuffed and being treated like a common criminal.

And I hear that the HOA is now wanting to ban the use of cell phones when we are outside. Even in our own yards.

FAKE.

but howdidyou know I had a three-leggd dog?

My one legged wife and I dearly love our three-legged dog.
My wife often takes the dog for a walk around our neighborhood, but just recently was told by the HOA that three legged dogs were not allowed in our subdivision and that such dogs could be confiscated by the Humane Society if we refuse to abide by their rules.
She said that there is a current deed restriction that does not allow dogs with less than four legs in our area. I am going to be forced to hire an attorney to contest this restriction.
The HOA said that we must keep the dog inside a fenced area in our back yard and further, that the deed restrictions do not allow us to bring the dog in the house unless it is raining heavily or the outside temperatures fall to 32 degree Farenheit or less.
We were also told that our dog must be spayed, must be groomed monthly and that we must show the HOA a receipt each month from the groomer.
And to make things worse, the Nazi HOA told my wife that she is not allowed to use her cell phone while walking the dog. That is part of the deed restrictions that ban the use of any kinds of two way radios outside of our home. And cell phones ARE two way radios.
They went so far as to tell my wife that she is not allowed to use a cane or a crutch either, since both can be used as a weapon. She IS allowed to use a wheelchair, but the HOA mandates that all wheelchairs must be registered with the HOA along with a Doctor's note as to why the chair is necessary.
Our HOA issues an eight by ten inch tag for the wheelchair...a tag that must be displayed on the frontal area of the wheelchair and which must be lighted at night.

Just two weeks ago one of the homeowners called 911 because the lights on my wife's wheelchair tag had gone dim...bad battery.
The police showed up and gave my wife a warning ticket for the improper display of a registration tag. They followed her home and made her install new batteries in the license plate frame while they watched.
Then, while our three-legged dog was barking at them from inside our living room, the cops threatened to write her a citation for having the dog inside when it was not raining or freezing. She was forced to put the dog outside until they left. They said that if they had to come back that they would confiscate the dog and issue her a $200 citation that would be tacked on to our next house payment.
And the cops did a background check on me, too. They saw that I have a CB license, so they walked around the outside of my house to look for hidden antennas and coaxial cables. They found none and left.

This is how government works. This is how HOA groups work.

Well, good buddy, you tell that to the cops who were going to take my dog and give my wife a $200 fine.
She can't even go outside without having a light on her wheelchair tag.
Now she is afraid to go out at night, so she now stares out the window instead. She is even afraid to use her cell phone when she is in the back yard.
Next thing we hear is that the HOA is going to ban cordless phones in our homes because those are two way radios, too.
The HOA says that we have to get permits for them and have to give them the serial numbers.
The HOA reserves the right to come in and inspect them too, but they did say that they would only do this while we were at home.

First off I would say no it's not hard to peak and tune BUT one needs to have a little savy on how it's done....it can be done with a meter for modulation and power But if you have not ever done one I would say watch someone do a few so you'll know what you are doing...

A man walks out to the street and catches a taxi just going by. He gets into the taxi, and the cabbie says, "Perfect timing. You're just like Frank."

Passenger: "Who?"

Cabbie: "Frank Feldman. He's a guy who did everything right all the time. Like my coming along when you needed a cab, things happen like that to Frank Feldman every single time."

Passenger: "There are always a few clouds over everybody."

Cabbie: "Not Frank Feldman. He was a terrific athlete.
He could have won the Grand Slam at tennis. He could golf with the pros. He sang like an opera baritone and danced like a Broadway star and you should have heard him play the piano. He was an amazing guy."

Passenger: "Sounds like he was something really special."

Cabbie: "There's more. He had a memory like a computer. He remembered everybody's birthday. He knew all about wine, which foods to order and which fork to eat them with. He could fix anything. Not like me. I change a fuse, and the whole street blacks out. But Frank Feldman, he could do everything right."

Passenger: "Wow. Some guy then."

Cabbie: "He always knew the quickest way to go in traffic and avoid traffic jams. Not like me, I always seem to get stuck in them.

But Frank, he never made a mistake, and he really knew how to treat a woman and make her feel good. He would never answer her back even if she was in the wrong; and his clothing was always immaculate, shoes highly polished too. He was the perfect man!

He never made a mistake. No one could ever measure up to Frank Feldman."

Passenger: "An amazing fellow. How did you meet him?"

Cabbie: "Well, I never actually met Frank. He died. I'm married to his fuckin' widow."

I am not a troll. You guys can make light of my plight, but I have to live with this restrictive HOA crap every waking moment.
Just this morning, when I left my house at 0530, there was some new snow that fell last night. We got about an inch or so.
Well...when I went out to get in my car the HOA had already posted a warning ticket on my door that I had just three hours to shovel my driveway...and they told me that if I did not wash the road salt from my car by this evening that I would have to park it in the garage so as to not be an eye sore.
They said that dirty vehicles detract from our property values and reminded me that I can be fined for having a vehicle that is "less than eighty percent clean".

I was already late for work, so my wheelchair bound wife said that she would do her best to clean the driveway.
I went to work.
Since it was 0530 and still dark, so my wife turned on our outside spotlights to aid her.
And one of the neighbors called the HOA President to complain that my driveway lights were "invasive" and that my wife was making too much noise with her snow shovel.
My wife couldn't call me on her cell phone since those are restricted to inside use only, so she went back inside.
And guess what? An hour later, at 0630, the HOA gal showed up and wanted to know why my wife had only partially cleaned our driveway.
My wife explained that the outside lights were not the best, that she is not in the best of health, and that she wanted to wait until the sun came up.
The HOA gal told my wife to use a flashlight and to tape it to her wheelchair. She told my wife that if the driveway was not clear of snow by 0800 that we would be fined.

We are seriously considering moving out of this neighborhood.

?Hey Scott,

You - or anyone remember the last year the FCC issued CB licenses? That almost goes back almost as far as my licenses do .... LOL ...

I'm guessing mid 70s. They started really deregulating around 1978 to early 80s. I believe 78 was the last year they issued 3rd class radiotelephone tickets and then grandfathered 1st and 2nd class radiotelephone tickets to the GROL license in the very early 80s.

And an HT wouldn't count as an antenna either. It is not affixed to the house nor imbedded in the ground. Heck, otherwise they could nail you for your car's FM antenna (or satellite antenna, or gps for that matter).

Oh well, it served to liven up an otherwise dead group, right?

I grant you that these radios and CB are different, but I thought you CB buffs might know off hand something about VHF's as well. I'm aware that some people have CB's with a linear? mabe broadcasting 20-30 watts, or way illegal, but my question is for a VHF. Can you also pump up these radios from stock. Not that I'd ever, ever do something to tamper with, and incur the wrath of the FCC. Ahemm. Thanks for your responces.....also what about if that (radio) ahemmm, was found to be pumped up, would the antena requirements be aparrant? Thanks in advance for this tutorial....ahemmmm....

Height is might. The higher the antenna, the better your range.
VHF is more line of sight then CB is. Don't use marine frequencies on land. MURS will keep you out of trouble. Use the lower three channels on 151 because there is too much stuff on the 154 MHz ones.

Of course a ham tech ticket is a simple test and the range there can be statewide on 2 meters with through a repeater. Since 2 meters sounds like CB, you'll feel right at home!! :)

Commercial VHF radios are totally different animals. Yes, they can be legally pumped up quite a bit. What will incur the wrath of the FCC is transmitting out of the assigned band or frequency and splattering the airwaves so bad nobody nearby can talk. But most commercial radios are so designed that outboard linears are not needed.

When I operated a search and rescue group's radio system on 47mhz, we had a 100 foot tower with a 100 watt radio as a base. Each of our mobile radios ran 100 watts. We covered about 75 miles from the base with ease.

As for marine radio, that is definitely not to be compared to CB. As marine radio has a purpose and is very strict on it's use. Yes, you could even mount one in your car if you wanted to.

As for the antenna, most antennas can handle quite a bit of power with no apparant changes that would catch the FCC's eye. A stainless steel whip can handle nearly a 1,0000 watts with ease.

If you wanted to get into 2 meter ham radio, you wouldn't really need much power unless you were off the beaten path. As most major cities generally have a good network of repeaters.

Certainly is. Do you know why the FCC changed the rules for CB radio antennas to be no more than 60 feet above the ground?
Because of what some friends of mine did as a test.
The radio shack store had their regular antenna up on the roof. So we decided to see what would happen if we put one on a 60 foot mast.
Within two weeks after we had it running, an FCC inspector came and had a look. For two hours he sat in his car going through his book. He was pissed because he couldn't find any law to slap us with.

We tested the system by talking to people and switching antennas. We got something like a 6 to 10 db gain on the taller antenna, with no added power. Most people thought we were running a linear.

The VHF Marine Radios (generally) operate in a Freq. range of 156. and 157. MHz. VHF FM. These radios are generally not designed to put out more power than the way they come from the factory doing. They just are not made that way. However adding more power to these radios is very easy, all you need to do is get a VHF linear amplifier such as what ham radio operators use for 2 meter VHF FM, you can find these amps in all sizes and shapes with many different input and outputs capabilities. But be sure that the linear amplifier you get does include the 156 and 157.MHz frequencies. A lot of them are very broadbanded and will work between 140 and 170 MHz. But be sure to ask around and make sure or it will not work.
Concerning the antenna, unless you really boost the power up (way up) you will (should) be able to use the same antenna..... Happy sailing.....

Mark hates Robeson. Stalked him for years and made fun of Robeson's Special Needs daughter's death.
Mark Morgan once opined that Steve's wife should have had an abortion before his Special Needs daughter was even born.
Mark even made light of the fact that Steve held his beloved little daughter as she took her last breath.
Mark Morgan is a cruel person. He himself is dysfunctional...cannot decide if he is gay, bisexual, or what. It is a shame that Mark's mom did not destroy HIM while he was still in her womb.
And Mark's wife is equally as dysfunctional. She is also bisexual, by Mark's own posts.
And she is a self proclaimed, practicing Witch to boot.
And the fact that Steve is a Major in the military reserves seems to rankle Mark.
Mark, who has claimed to be everything from a Colonel to a Lieutenant in the National Guard has no proof of his claims. (Mark once stated that he was drafted into the Army as a Colonel)
There are no records that show that Mark Morgan ever served in any of the military services.
So what did liar Mark do? He falsely claimed that the Govt. allowed him to serve under a different name for secrecy reasons.
Mark Morgan is delusional. Mark lives in his own fantasy world. He is a liar.

Do you think these rude operators even care?

Maybe you should spend some money, put an ad in the

I expect CB to have bad language on it. I also hear cuss words on the 2 meter CB.

It's california dude. They do as they damned well please.
Federal law says possession of marijuana is illegal, except in california.
Persons who cross the US border illegally are violating federal law, but not in california.

Mixed Decision from the California Court of Appeals in Palmdale, California Antenna Case
TAGS: court of appeals
02/08/2011

On January 27, 2011, the California Court of Appeals, Second Appellate District, issued its Opinion in the antenna case of Alec Zubarau, WB6X. In several respects, it is a win for Amateur Radio in California. Working with his ARRL Volunteer Counsel, Len Shaffer, WA6QHD, Mr Zubarau is now considering their next course of action.

The Court found that the Palmdale antenna ordinance, as it pertained to the height limit for vertical antennas, was “unenforceable” because it allowed a radio amateur to have a vertical antenna up to 75 feet high when measured from the ground but limited the “active element of the antenna array” to 30 feet. The ordinance did not define “array” or “active element” and did not specify from where the 30 permitted feet for such “array” was to be measured. The Court found that if even one reasonable interpretation of the ordinance could be found, the ordinance could be upheld, but that in this case, no one could understand what the limitations were and how they could be applied. That portion of the City’s ordinance was therefore unconstitutional and unenforceable.

The Court also held that the ordinance was unenforceable to the extent that it attempted to regulate radio frequency interference. The City maintained that it could regulate RFI, but the Court, citing case law and argument in ARRL Amicus Curiae brief, held that only the FCC could regulate RFI. Any State or municipal law that attempts to regulate RFI is preempted.

Of some concern to Len Shaffer, however, is that the Court held that Palmdale properly ordered Zubarau to remove his permitted 55-foot crankup tower. The Court opined that the small, VHF/UHF vertical on the roof constituted “reasonable accommodation” under PRB-1 and California PRB-1 statute (California Government Code Section 65850.3). The Court said that leaving Zubarau with a VHF/UHF antenna constituted a reasonable accommodation because it allowed him to be active in some part of Amateur Radio. There was no analysis of the “minimum practicable regulation” test in PRB-1 and the California statute, so that part of the three-prong PRB-1 test was left unexamined. Because the Court reversed the trial court on this finding, Zubarau had no longer clearly “substantially prevailed” in this case and so the Court remanded the case to the trial judge to re-examine the issue of attorney’s fees claimed by Zubarau.

The Court’s application of the “reasonable accommodation” standard of PRB-1 in this case is, in the view of Len Shaffer and ARRL, both unique and very narrow. Said ARRL General Counsel Chris Imlay, W3KD:

“While this decision is positive for Amateur Radio in California in two significant respects, the record in this case shows that the small, roof-mounted VHF/UHF antenna at WB6X was insufficient to conduct any international communications. Alec’s tower is necessary in order to conduct international communications and to permit even a 50/50 chance of contacting Alec’s native Belarus on any given day. The Court ignored this evidence and it did not apply the “reasonable accommodation” test articulated by FCC and in prior case law, and it did not apply PRB-1’s “least practicable restriction” test at all. In essence, the Court applied a balancing test which FCC and several Federal courts have said is improper in conducting the PRB-1 analysis. It is not true that any accommodation for a radio amateur is reasonable accommodation, and it is not sufficient to simply permit a radio amateur “some participation” in our avocation. Instead, PRB-1 permits effective, reliable Amateur communications. It is hoped that the Court will revisit this portion of its otherwise favorable decision and get it right the second time.”

The court made three decisions that affect amateurs in California. First the court found that part of the Palmdale ordinance was unconstitutional because it was vague and could not be understood by a reasonable person. That part of the ordinance allowed an Amateur to have a vertical antenna up to 75 feet high when measured from the ground but limited the “active element of the antenna array” to 30 feet in height. The court found that the ordinance did not define “array” or “active element” and did not say where the height of such array was measured from. After a number of questions were submitted regarding this ordinance, the court determined that no one could really understand what it meant and declared it unconstitutional. This part of the decision, said ARRL Volunteer Counsel Shaffer, will affect only hams living in Palmdale.

The next issue decided by the court had to do with radio frequency interference. They said that only the Federal government could regulate RFI and any state or municipal law that tried to address it was preempted. That means it is not enforceable. That part of the decision affects hams throughout the state, according to Shaffer. He asks any California amateur whose municipality or county has an ordinance that limits Amateur Radio antennas or operations based on whether there is interference to consumer or other devices to contact Southwestern Division Vice Director Marty Woll, N6VI, at n6vi@arrl.org.

The final part of the decision had to do with whether Palmdale followed the law when they made Alec Zubarau take down his permitted tower but allowed him to keep a VHF/UHF vertical on his roof. The court said they thought this was a reasonable accommodation because it allowed him to be active in some part of Amateur Radio. “This decision is troubling,” said Shaffer, “and we are considering what options we may have regarding any further review of the issue. We will be conferring with various legal sources before any final determination is made.”

I think you'll find federal law makes it illegal there as well.
State law in California allows it, but federal law does not.

Even in California, the smuggler is violating both federal and state law.

Sadly, this clown has worn out his attempts at humor.

His shtick is getting old and tiresome.

It was entertaining for a while, but now it is time to move on to something a bit more, shall we say, creative?
Look, Jane, Look. See this story again?

I'm wondering where he is. It's been (almost) two weeks without so much as a peep out of him.

Maybe the methadone finally took hold. I dunno.

OK. Now that I've stopped laughing, let's get a few things straight. Ready?

1) There may be 100 people still reading this newsgroup. A few wackos never ceased.
2) Is there anyone else here from Barrie, Ontario, Canada? Does anybody really care?
3) First you say the rude language must cease. Then you say you can cuss with the best of them.
4) Are you a hypocrite or just a very bad troll?
5) I'm still waiting for you to drive down here and kick my ass. Let me know when you're coming so I can pack a lunch!

PS, when the idiots act up on the CB around here, I find a different band or turn on some tunes instead of worrying about what some asshole says on the CB!

Get a life!

I just saw 64.136.27.229 (Roger) and 208.124.71.79 (Todd) both browsing this place, and both of them were using MSIE 8.0, except that Todd was on Windows Media Center and had a more recent version.

Don't the two of you know that there is an unpatched 0-day flaw in the Windows SMB system, as well as a critical flaw in IE8's mhtml system? The latter flaw was patched just last week, but the SMB problem remains. I could p0wn either one of you, but you both have enough problems at the moment.

Roger is hiding from someone he made a death threat against, and Todd is under court restriction for doing a very similar thing.

One day, I'm going to get a few superballs, poke some holes in them, stick some string through them and attach wire to toss over the tree out my window. That will connect to ladder line to my tuner which has a built in balun. It should work. I'll get to use my SignaLink USB with my FT-857 for something more then EchoLink, like some PSK31.

If you get this, look for me on EchoLink with a -L. I left it on after hearing the DC repeater airing all the AR news services. I had NASA audio on for 5 minutes and got bored with it.

I read about a CB shoot out where one radio had a 70 K watt amp.
It was enough to wipe out the video on a camcorder and to eject the tapes on some others.

Classic dishonesty on your part, Harbl, given that you attributed to me
several statments that I did not make. Rather, you made them, Harbl, and simply altered the attribution to hide that fact. Thus you were effectively carrying on a conversation with yourself in multiple instances. What does your schizophrenia and penchant for generating random, non sequitur responses have to do with OS/2, Harbl?

Roger. Is that you?

Of course it is, you little pussy.

Did you enjoy Dave Heil's visit?
When his wife knocked on your front door? With you inside?
And the photos he and his wife took of your house?
The street sign photos?
Oh, but wait. YOU weren't home, were you? (your story #1)
Or, you WERE home but refused to answer the door. (your story #2)
Or you were gone and your girlfriend was there and she was afraid to answer the door. (your story #3)

Now, which of the three was it, Roger?

And do you still have that Celtic cross on your front door...the one that the Heils described in detail?
How would they have known about that Roger, if they were not there?

That must have been a fearsome night for you, Roger.
Did you pee your panties?

I bet you could not sleep for two weeks after their visit.

Dave - may I call you Dave? No, that would be inappropriate. I'll call you Alice instead. Yes, that's much better.

Alice, it's been fun. In this topsy-turvy world of ours, it's nice to know that there are some things you can depend on. Constancy in USENET kooks is one of them, and you continue to fill that role beautifully. We haven't gone back and forth like this in, oh, probably over a decade now, but it's nice to know that if I ever need someone to waste some time on, you'll be there.

There is one thing that I'm wondering about, however, Alice. How does it feel to know that you've spent the week being replied to by a CGI script? I mean, I'd imagine it to be pretty much like arguing with ELIZA, but with more references to choking down dicks for nickels behind the 7-Eleven dumpsters.

Anyhow, Alice, you now bore me, so I'll let you get back to cornholing OS/2 install media or masturbating cats or whatever it is that you do with your spare time that isn't faking comet photos.

BUT!

I have a parting gift for you. It's a good one, too, and I think you'll like it.

YOU MAY HAVE THE LAST WORD.

I can guarantee that whatever response you post in this thread will not elicit a response from me, so it will well and truly be the last word at least as far as I'm involved; there are others who may exercise their reply privileges in your direction. My recommendation would be to make it a good one, Alice, but something tells me that you'll at least meet if not exceed the high levels of mundanity we've become accustomed to seeing from you.

Famous Last Words. But quite irrelevant, given your claim rather convenient for you, Harbl, given your ironic remark

What does your classic unsubstantiated and erroneous claim have to do

Suffering from reading comprehension problems, Alice? The issue

Fellow CB radio aficionados (except for Bigbird; he's a fag) and OS/2 advocates,

I would very much be interested in knowing what OS/2 software exists that would help me get the most out of my CB.

Rig control, QSO logging, and shooting skip are all part of my interests, and it seems like pairing that with OS/2 would be cruise control for priapism!

PLEASE ADVISE.

Does Ham Radio Deluxe run under OS/2?

I control my FT-857 with HRD and the 857 is connected to a SignaLink USB that allows me to do all the digital modes with DM780 and I can also do EchoLink with this hardware.

That's actually kind of an interesting question.

I think I've got a copy of Warp/4 sitting around somewhere, believe it or not. How well OS/2 can run in a VM might be another question, though - it's not like anyone's really going to be falling over themselves to support it. All of my low-end PC hardware got ditched a couple of years back, so the VM's my only option to test that.

Nice.

Gotta say that I've become a fan of the Android Echolink app. It's not 100% perfect, but for PTT usage on that kind of device it's pretty damned good.

Chances are he/she/it's just using the same free NNTP host. There's not really a whole lot of competition in that arena these days, so chances are we're both using the same one.

Damn straight I didn't, and make no mistake. Incidentally, when I offered to let you have the last word, that offer was valid only for the thread in which it was written; no coverage of absolute finality of last wordedness was expressed or implied. If you took it mean something other than that, well, I can't be held responsible for your shortcomings in the not-reading-too-much-into-things department.

Feel free to go back and check that thread. You remember it; it's the one where we decided you would be better served by being called 'Alice'. I did indeed allow you to have the last word, and have not replied to it since. Neener.

No, not at all! In fact, I want to run OS/2 on everything. My TV, my fridge, my cat - and those are just for starters! It's truly the OS of tomorrow of two decades ago.

Nope, still wrong.

Sure we did! But just because you weren't a part of we (you're probably familiar with how that works) doesn't mean a thing.

Now, if the name Alice bothers you, I could use 291 instead. If nothing else, it's 40% shorter than Alice, so think of the time and bandwidth it'll save!

You seem like you should be wearing a polo shirt today, 291.

Why are you interested in my boner, 291?

Well, 291, it's just too damned easy to get a rise out of you by doing so. Sure, baiting 291's a cheap thrill for me; I have no problems with admitting it. But look at it this way, 291: it gives your life a purpose. Sure, it may not be much of one, but then some things are better than nothing, aren't they, 291?

291, that sounds like something you'd say if someone were to mention that you like to fake photographs of objects in space. Are you getting ready to weasel out of responsibility for your actions again, 291?

> What does your question have to do with OS/2, Harbl?

Nothing, 291. But it does waste a fraction of your time, 291, and therefore your life.

291, are you confused as to posting host and NNTP server now? It sounds like you are, 291. Poor 291.

The last several trips, we have run into long delays etc from roadwork, accidents etc. We could have routed around them if we had a heads up.
I've got a Teaberry that works great even if it is 40 years old.
But I don't want to put holes in our Ford Edge.
Also have to deal with all the static from the Ford.
What I want is the best radio and mount I can simply put in the back floor or in the console between the front seats.
The windows are factory tint so I understand the antennas that you simply tick on the window don't work well because of the tinting and might even damage the radio.
Some recommended rigs would probably be appreciated by a lot of folks.
I've got a handheld Roadtek. Might as well give it to the kids.

You might as well give up then. Small antennas and cheap radios don't add up to much performance. I've found the sideband radios have better noise filtering built in then AM only radios. AM only radios are made real small. You can't win for losing...

The Cobra 29 has always been a decent radio. I've had a couple and have never had any arguments. You can also get the version that has the weather channels built in. Shop around. They generally sell for around $125.00

For an antenna, go with a rooftop magnetic mount.

You can compile any linux soft.

Just install the gcc for os2
http://packages.debian.org/stable/hamradio/

"linux might be easier "

Or look for wubi, that is linux on win.

os2 is win compatible?

Roger gets up from the bar and heads for the bathroom.

A few minutes later, a loud, blood curdling scream is heard coming from the bathroom.

A few minutes after that, another loud scream reverberates through the bar.

The bartender goes into the bathroom to investigate why Roger is screaming. "What's all the screaming about in there?" the bartender yells' "You're scaring the hell out of our customers!"

"I'm just sitting here on the toilet," slurs Roger, "and every time I try to flush, something comes up and squeezes the hell out of my nuts!"

The bartender opens the door, looks in, and says, "You dumbass! You're sitting on the mop bucket!"

Or you could be really fancy about it and run OS/2 inside a VM under Linux, which itself could even be running in a VM!

A Pair of Lunatics
Todd Daugherty, N9OGL has been described as a threatening and perverse blowhard who enjoys publishing animated depictions of children being raped by adults. We have no idea why Wal-Mart in Taylorville, IL would want to keep him in their employ, but as yet they don't see the possibility of liability looming large in their future.
Mark Morgan has been described as a dimwitted liar with a penchant for repeating defamation learned under the tutelage of his Canadian sugar daddy, Karol Madera. Below, you'll find a few select quotes where Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ and Todd Daugherty, N9OGL are discussed by various and sundry at hamisland.net.

---BEGIN POSTS---

AL2N writes:

You guys can argue about this Todd fellow all you want to but the cold reality is this:

1. I do not know nor do I care to know what is going on between you all and this Todd guy.

2. After some research on this Todd fellow I can say that he is not welcome on any site that has my name attached to it. I have no assurance that he will not post the same child porn anime stuff here that he has on his blog. Such stuff is vile (there I said it too) and calling it art or free speech will not change that. Sick is sick. The Supreme Court just ruled that such stuff is NOT protected speech. Till that changes I am not going to take the risk of having him here. The moderators are on notice to ban him on sight.

3. If his IP was banned, it was because he either logged in under some unknown name and made some trouble, he was using a pirated call, or his IP is recognized by the forum software as a known spammer or other such location and blocked automatically.

You can now go back to your debate....

From KV1M (to Mark Morgan) on Sun May 18, 2008 5:31 pm

Hey Mark, quit stalking Paul already.

Todd has FCC trouble all on his own and I'm none to sympathetic to it myself. You wanna follow around Paul and post endlessly long rants about nothing then you might find yourself:

A) On everyones ignore list

B) Target number one to get you to melt down and get yourself banned so we don't have to deal with that kind of nuttiness.

From KB1OHK (to Mark) on Tue May 20, 2008 11:59 am

Mark's definition of the word libel is; Libel n., any statement that Mark doesn't agree with.

From KV1M (to Mark) on Tue May 20, 2008 2:06 pm

Finally, the thread returns.

Hey Mark, I got your rebuttal right here.

So you DO know the issue at hand with Todd then and tried to pretend there was no issue. And you think enforcement of the regs is being vindictive? You are a real piece of work.

I am most certainly not going to ignore you, I am going to go out of my way to make you look like the fool you are until I am told to stop by management or you get yourself banned.

If you climb the hell down and quite acting the fool and nutter then I'll leave you be, but I really don't see that happening since you have shown yourself to be a complete loon in the past already.

So fire away nutter, I'm in some kind of mood for conflict.

From KV1M (to Mark) on Tue May 20, 2008 3:55 pm

You're a freaking loon is what you are. Re read your own posts, they contain exactly what I say they do. You should know by now that if I am coming after you it is because you are being a nutter and a loon.

Have you stopped taking your meds or something? The stench of paranoia coming from you is hard to miss.

Nobody here give a rats a enough about you to DOS or TOS you, maybe your loony-ness has made you some friends elsewhere.

AD4MG wrote:

I'm pretty much a heathen, myself, but I have to agree with Mike. Many will find what Todd posts on his own private site very offensive, legal or not. Having raised two sons, I believe our children are our greatest treasure, and should not be depicted in such a manner. Anyone may disagree with me until time ends, and I'm OK with that.

But, seeing as this is a private site, and the owner has made his preference known, my support is firmly behind him on this matter. Todd's site is available for all to view, if one desires to do so. But it won't happen here. Not on our watch.

Let's put it plainly.

Todd posts child pornography on the internet. He can call it anything he wants, but graphic representations of prepubescent children in sexual situations IS child pornography. It doesn't have to be actual pictures of real children, Todd's little cartoons qualify as well. I have no use for anyone who enjoys that kind of crap or anyone who defends someone who enjoys that kind of crap. It's not about free speech, it's about perverts lusting after children. Todd calls it "fantasy" and in my opinion anyone who uses such images to fuel their sexual fantasies will eventually turn to real children.

I have no use for Todd.

If I have violated the TOS for this site please feel free to ban me, but I won't apologize or say anything good about a pervert. If all these threads about this guy will go away, I'll never mention it again but I find it difficult to remain silent when we have multiple threads about this guy.

Right and moral, are you serious?

You slander people on your childish blog, falsely report innocent people to CPS and law enforcement agencies, defend pedophiles and terrorists, verbally attack anyone you disagree with, and you have the nerve to call your behavior moral!

Now we can all sit back and watch Mark attempt to turn the tables. Mark will now deny all of my accusations and then say I am the one doing what he is being accused of!

He might even accuse me of libel.

From KB1OHK (to Mark) on Wed May 21, 2008 10:11 pm

OGL posts pedophilia on his blog and you defend him.

KFM makes terroristic statements and you defend him.

LAF asked about your antenna and you attacked him.

You accused a few amateurs of sex crimes involving children and reported them to CPS without any proof.

I did not libel you, please learn what the word means.

My moral standards happen to be very high, but yours seem to be non-existent.

You are truly a wretched man.

N1LAF (to Mark) on Wed May 21, 2008 10:20 pm

Lets talk about making mistakes. Was the Island down for security reasons? TOSed? Nooooo. What were you thinking? You think this kind of public statement isn't going to get peoples attention? You think you can get away from false accusations by using weasel words as 'I do wonder' and 'merely speculation'? What were you thinking? Do you hold yourself accountable for your own statements? You go and smear names around as some kind of troublemaker that you are. Do you really take us for fools, who do you think your fooling? The point is, the Island board had a software glitch, and you took the occasion to use it as a weapon. Shame on you!

I am done with you, back on the 'Foe' list!

KB1OHK (to Mark) on Wed May 21, 2008 10:43 pm

No, the statements I am making are 100% true. In my opinion, and the opinion of many others, you're nothing more than a pathological liar.

You reported several hams based on nothing. The truth is they made you mad and that was your way of retaliating.

Everyone sees you for what you are...A LIAR and you're not very good at it!

KB1OHK (to Mark) on Wed May 21, 2008 11:35 pm

It's pointless trying to explain the situation to you. You lack the ability to logically reason. Based on my observations you lack the ability to even reason on a remedial level.

Your ignorant off the wall ramblings combined with your illiteracy make reading your posts a painful chore. Do yourself a favor, invest in a spell check program. Also, please learn to punctuate.

I am done. I wish to debate with you no further.

AL2N (to Mark) on Thu May 22, 2008 7:16 am RQZ,

I will make you an offer. You are defending this Todd fellow and say that his IP has been banned. I have reactivated a number of accounts that were at zero posts and his was in the mix. Now, if you will give me his IP address, I would be willing to unban it and let this guy have his say one one condition- You assume responsibility for him. If he steps out of line and gets himself banned, you go with him.

Are you willing to be accountable for him and have him come on the forum to have his say? If so, give me the IP address and I will unblock it if indeed it is actually blocked. So far no one has given the IP address, all I have heard is complaining.

I received an email stating that you're posting about me on a site called nimbusters. I guess in your mind that's ethical. However, seeing as how I found the site to be rather offensive, I won't be responding there. So how is that treating me any better than your so called (imaginary) foes? Btw, if I did the same you would be crying slander.

kb9rqz wrote:

KB1OHK: I never attacked you, you perceive every statement as an attack against you. I guess that's how you make yourself feel important, but the rest of us consider you to be delusional and paranoid.

The answer to your question is, I am not worried, because I could care less if you reported me to any authority. I know your baseless accusations wouldn't go very far, but feel free to do so. The choice is yours.

KB1OHK:

Based on your past actions, and on some of the statements you have made, I wouldn't be surprised if I did get a visit from CPS, or some other agency.

Like I said, go for it! I have nothing to hide. I am an upstanding, law abiding citizen, no worries on this end.

imprison you for that, this is America, yanno'?"

Perhaps, expressing a bit of over-emphasis on the freedom thing ...

530. Audio compression optimization: decreasing bit rate preserving high quality

Hi,

Just would like to share an article on audio encoding optimization for podcasting. No need to think what bit rate to choose the batch file will automatically encode your podcast with the best bit rate to preserve the best quality and smallest file size. The approach was tested on MP3, Nero AAC and OGG.

This paper will give you understanding on how one can achieve better compression ratio by bit rate optimization. The key point is that our approach describes a fully automated manner of choosing the bit rate that will preserve the audio quality you define. Read this paper through and find out how to save on size when encoding your podcasts, save on bandwidth when transmitting your audio streams in the network, make more audio tracks fit your memory stick when grabbed from a CD, or store more audio books on your mobile device. This paper will tell you how to save up to 50% on audio file size and up to 50% on the bit rate you encode your audio with still having a descent sound quality.

Read full text of how to encode audio with lowest bit rate at highest quality in this blog post:

How 'bout we all call these numbers and complain about this Bigbird CB'er from Canada that's running obscene amounts of power and cussing, and he's making it impossible for us USA CB'ers to use the band. Oh yeah, he says he's in the Ontario area. If he's running that much power, he shouldn't be hard to find!

Hey, does your badge have 5 points or 6?

No idea how many points his badge has, but I bet his head has at least three.

Bigbird, what swear word pisses you off the most, cuntface?

Classic erroneous presupposition. Rather ironic, coming from someone with reading comprehension problems, given that the spelling above is correct, regardless of who you think wrote it, dizzy.

Of course, it's hard to think straight when you're dizzy.

I never said that it appeared in alt.test, Tholen, only that you set the followup-to: header to alt.test. Feel free to peruse my earlier statements for a refresher if your shortcomings in reading comprehension are causing you difficulty in replying accurately.

Nice try, but it helps if there's actual bait on the hook before you cast the line.

Well, you're certainly right that I wasn't asking you in a thinly-veiled manner if you smoke pole, but you chose to reply to me anyway. So since I have your attention now and I'd certainly hate to exclude you from all the fun, let me ask it of you very plainly: do you smoke pole, Tholen? And if you do smoke pole, how much pole do you smoke in an average day? Or week? Or month or year or hour? Would you say that you'd walk a mile for a pole to smoke, or that you chain-smoke pole?

Then why would you ask me what my reply has to do with alt.test,
Harbl? What does your reply have to do with alt.disney.cruise, Harbl, even though your reply didn't appear there?

50> only that you set the followup-to: header to alt.test.

Irrelevant, given that you asked what my reply has to do with Harbl.

Unnecessary, given that my reading comprehension is just fine, Harbl. Ironically, you don't remember that you didn't say anything about "follow-up" when you asked my what my reply

There is no such thing as "CD radio", Tholen. Radios with CD players attached (or vice-versa), to be sure, but a CD is not a radio transmission or reception device. You have failed. Again, and as with oh-so-many things in life.

Go smoosh a giant handful of dogshit into your face.

palmdale restricted him to operating on vhf and uhf only and took away his fcc-license authority to operate on hf. one of palmdalesexcuses for this was for rf health reasons, the larger the antenna the more rf radiation there is which is harming the residents in palmdale, such as hf antennas, and the smaller the antenna , the less rf radiation there is which is healthier for the residents n palmdale., like vhf and uhf antennas, therefore he is restricted to vhf and uhf antennas and can still paarticipate in a part of ham radio.
d
well, accordng to the arrl, the fcc rf charts and rules show that transmitting at 100 watts or less on hf is perfectly safe for everyone and under the mpe limits,and transmitting at the same power level on vhf and uhf with a small antenna is harmfull. and more than the mpe limits.
so by ruling the way they did, , palmdale has screwed theirselves
over.
if he was transmitting at 75 watts on hf with a hf antenna on a radio capable of only a 75 watte setting, perfectly safe for his nimby neigh bors. they and the city of palmdale and the state ofcalifornia ruled that he is not allowed to transmit on hf and is only allowed to transmit on vhf and uhf despite what the fcc says. and s only allowed to have a vhf uhf antenna. and if he is transmitting at 75 watts on vhf 2 meters , his nimby neigh bors are now getting more than the mpe limits of rf radiation.

why pay the arrl to upgrade your license as the california state ruling in the palmdale case has recently proved, it is a complete waste of money to pay the arrl anything to upgrade your radio license since local cities and states can take it away anytime despite what the fcc says. you pay to upgrade to a general or extra then the local city and local state takes it away by busting you back down to technician class even though younever violated any fcc rules and despite fcc rules saying no one except the fcc is allowed to force you to involuntary surrenderr your fcc license.
and if cities andd states can take away your general and extra class radio license despite what the fcc says as has happened in the palmdale case, then they can also take away your technician class license and even the right to operate your cb radio no matter what the fcc says.
why is this ruling of cities and states prohi biting you from having a general and extra class radio license despite the fcc granting you a license to operate general and extra class being allowed to stand.
whatever happened to the federal law trumps local city and state law the radio opeators were so fond of quoting in the past.

The tale the FCC explains is that Radioguy is transmitting from a very low powered and extremely short rubber dickie.

Nobody need pay the ARRL to renew or upgrade a Ham license.
Stop your silly trolls.

Does your sister have to pay the Health Dept for her massage license?
Even tho she often does not use her hands?

You don't pay the FCC unless you get a call of your own choosing (vanity).
You don't have to pay to renew your license on the ULS. You would have to pay W5YI to do it foe you. You have to pay the current test fee to the VEC unless you've got a VEC like the Laurel VEC that doesn't charge for tests.

The ARRL has nothing to do with license fees except to make recommendations.

If keep posting BS, I'll keep shooting holes in it.

These kinds of laws should be done at the state level and not the consumer level. IOW, the state should inform the manufacturers of the cars that if they want to market their products in the state, they must conform to the following regulations: (statement of regulations)

To expect the individual buyers of automobiles to get them equiped to the states regulations is a bit too much.....

Nothing. Nothing at all.

Why... Not a thing. There is not one iota of relevance to OS/2 at all.

It is of absolutely no relevance to OS/2, Tholen.

However, I am concerned with your apparent inability to grasp the concept that my replies to you are of no relevance to OS/2. You may want to consider undertaking some reading comprehension exercises to improve at least that one shortcoming of yours.

That said, I do still strongly recommend that you go smoosh a giant

About as much as mine did, Tholen. It's nice to know that your reading comprehension shortcomings aren't selective; I'd hate to think that you were depriving a portion of the fine people of these newsgroups of your obvious handicap.

You know, a schoolchild (possibly even one in your building) may be able to help you with overcoming that reading comprehension problem of yours. I'm not certain that having you in close quarters with children or animals if there's no independent adult supervision present is necessarily a good idea, however. In fact, even if independent adult supervision was present, it still doesn't sound like a good idea. Perhaps it would be best for you to start with this in the privacy of your own apartment:

http://www.hookedonphonics.com/1st-grade-reading-comprehension-workbook

And while you're giddily anticipating the arrival of that educational tome, you can entertain yourself and others by smooshing a giant handful of dogshit into your face.

If you drive at night and see an alien spaceship approaching, it is most likely an Ecuadorian truck :) This is a bit disorientating and gets rather annoying because you cannot really tell whether you are looking at the front or the back of the vehicle!

Lloyd has been Roger's victim for years.
Now check out Roger's neighbors names.
They all live on Glen Haven Avenue, zip code 26038.
....
D. Aston. Leah Bailey. Steven Bailey.
Stephen Balgo.
Joe Baum....
Need more proof, Roger?

How about Ryan Alfred?
Or Donald Stoetzer?
Or Thomas and Sharon Welsch?

And we don't want to leave out John Guzek or Dick Hall, do we?

And your neighbor across the street? George Manning?
Can't leave him out, can we? But didn't he recently sell his house? Not that it matters.

Perhaps you should consider ceasing the posting of Lloyd's personal information, Roger.
In fact, you had best cease posting ANY personal information of anybody, be it true or false.

I have more where this came from...much, much more.
I have not posted all of the names of the neighbors on your street, but can easily do so.

You have been warned, Roger.

If you see a rusty, two door 1976 Dodge with rusted wheel wells and seven or eight antennas on the roof and hood, it is Radioguy huffing and chuffing along.
His car pulls to the left due to a tire that cannot hold air and the woman in the front seat? That is his second cousin, but they are a "romantic couple" who have proclaimed their undying love for one another despite their parents disapproval.
Radioguy can't marry his cousin until she gets a marriage license and to do that, she has to pass a dental health test.
The Health Department has ruled that due to several impacted molars and some discolored teeth that his cousin must submit to some hefty dental care before a marriage license can or will be issued.
Not to be dissuaded, Radioguy and his cousin have, several times, consummated their lust for each other, which has done even further damage and has broken several of her already weakend front teeth.
This has not dissuaded them from their lust, however. A few fragmented teeth cannot stop True Love.
Nay...this pair of lovers will continue on...with Radioguy's cousin simply turning a 180 and presenting her "other" cheek.
But you have to give these lovers credit.
Especially when one realizes that Radioguy's cousin is incarcerated in a mental institution and conjugal visits are forbidden.
As Radioguy says, "Where there is a will, there is a way."

Watts are important here. If you are talking 100 milliwatts or less, then you can transmit pretty near anywhere and at pretty near any frequency. These are the levels of garage door openers and cordless phones. They are only good for 100 yards or less. But most lawmakers can't tell a watt from a volt or an amp. They are technical minus people, or they would get a real job and actually contribute to the society instead of parasiting off of it.

Delaware didn't outlaw CB radio. It decided that CB radios fell under the hands-free cellphone law while driving.

Oregon outlaws using cellphone or any other electronic device while driving unlessit is hands free.
The law also says you are exempted if you hold an amateur radio license or any other vald FCC license and are using a ham radio.
So according to Oregon law, if you hold a FCC GMRS radio license and are using a GMRS radio, you are in violation of the law since you are not using a ham
radio.
and iff you hold a FCC-issued GMRS license and are using a ham radio even though you are not FCC-licensed to do so, you are completely in compliance with the law and completely legal according to Oregonn law.
I thought that is a violation of federal law to transmit over a ham radio when you are not FCC-licensed to do so.
and what do all us federally legal cbers do. the federally legal c bers do not have a license to show to the cops or courts lthough they are federally licensed to transmit.
and why is this state law and other state laws overruling federal law if federal law trumps and overrules local and state laws like most posters in this newsgoup said they do. The FCC rules say we may transmit from anywhere the FCC has authority over radio.
so either the FCC fraudently lied or else the FCC told the truth and does not have authority over radio transmissions in Oregon and California and Maryland.

If the law is taken literally, then yes, any state that bans "hand held devices", would include CB radios.
But I believe most cops would not enforce that aspect of the law.

But would that law include hand held units that are not attached to the vehicle? Some cops may see those as they see cell phones.

That's an argument that would have to be settled in a court of law.
True, the FCC authorizes the use of CB radio. But states, certainly can restrict their use in a vehicle. That does not deny the use of them by any means. You just can't yack while driving.

BTW lawmakers, take a good close look at some expensive ham radio equipment for mobile use. What's that? You don't see that dial pad on the radio?
Guess what dude? That hammy can make phone calls with his radio just the same as any cell phone.

Obviously you haven't studied for an ham radio license in the US.

Part 97.115b allows a third party to use a ham radio as long as a licensed control operator supervises. An legal scenario under FCC rules would be where the driver is using the radio and the passenger is a licensed amateur.

You'd be pretty hard pressed to find an actual working auto patch anymore.
There are none in Baltimore as the misfits ruined it for everybody.

Well that's boston for ya. It's screwed up in every respect.
In cincinnati, auto patch still thrives well because of the people that run it.
although it is probably not used as much since cell phones are in wide use.

And when a ham radio operator (who has no better ability to drive than anyone else) goes over the cliff because he/she was distracted by operating his ham gear while driving, at least he wilol know, in those few seconds before he dies, that he was well within the law.

It usually isn't the misfits who ruin that stuff. Its the authorities inability to tell the difference between misfits and normal people. "they are quick to throw everybody into the same "misfit bag".

Garage door openers probably operate at less than 1 milliwatt and cordless phones at a few milliwatts.

Copi8ed from the internet:

Technical properties
Some DECT properties:[citation needed]

a.. Audio codec: G.726, G.711, G.722 (wideband), G.729.1 (wideband) and MPEG-4 ER LD AAC (wideband and super-wideband)
b.. Net bit rate: 32 kbit/s c.. Frequency: 1880 MHz-1900 MHz in Europe, 1900 MHz-1920 MHz in China,?1893 MHz-1906 MHz in Japan, 1910 MHz-1930 MHz in Latin America and 1920 MHz-1930 MHz in the US and Canada, US DECT and DECT 6 products may NOT be used in the UK as they cause and suffer interference to the UK 3G cellular networks with unlicensed use of such products being prohibited by UK agencies. As DECT and DECT 6.0 do not operate in the 2.4 GHz ISM band, they are not subject to the interference arising in this band from its use by 802.11b and 802.11g WiFi, and 2.4 GHz cordless phones.
d.. Carriers: 10 (1,728 kHz spacing) in Europe, 5 (1,728 kHz spacing) in the US e.. Time slots: 2 x 12 (up and down stream) f.. Channel allocation: dynamic g.. Average transmission power: 10 mW (250 mW peak) in Europe, 4 mW (100 mW peak) in the US
I was talking about the maximum power allowed by law for such devices, and not the minimum that some cleaver manufacturers have been able to achieve. A lot depends on the frequency and the available antenna swystem.

I've broached this subject before, some time ago.
I have a few health problems but would like to go hunting again.
Communication link with wife is essential. Any decent hunting is probably 20 miles away. Cell phones don't work for much of that area.
In addition when we travel, in the RV cell phones some time don't work and if one of us needs to go somewhere by ourselves we need communication.
The GMRS and FRS combo radios, we've tried, so far are a joke.
The ones we have now are Motorola. Paid about a hundred dollars for both of them. Trees, hills etc stop them. Plus the switches don't work worth a darn. That is critical when trying to guide Wife, backing the RV into a site.
Talked to a Dealer today about 2 meter radios. He was all negative and wanted to sell us two 300.00 each GMRS/FRS radios or other radios that he said would let us communicate over a small town 400.00 each. Yeah right.
He wanted a minimum of 800.00 each for 2 meter hand held radios.
That included the battery, charger, the little antenna and microphone.
he talked about all the complications of using the 2 meter and repeaters etc.
Which way to go for a decent range hand held radio?
Thanks

Pretty soon everything will be illegal.
There were over 44,000 new Laws and Regulations instituted, in 2009.
Most were restrictions on Citizens. Note I didn't say voted in.
Most Citizens would have not voted for most of them.
How many more were passed last year?
The only rights you will have are the privileges you can afford from Big

That's a rip off on 2 meter radios, which require a Technician license to use.
Look into MURS, a 2 watt VHF Part 95 service. Use one of the first 3 frequencies as the last 2 are the "Wal*Mart" channels, used by road crews and the like.

http://wireless.fcc.gov/services/index.htm?job=service_home&id=multi_use

*151.88
*151.94
-154.57
-154.60

*11.25KHz deviation
-12.50KHz deviation

Make sure you are using these frequencies as there is no room for slip ups in that range. There is public service and licensed operations nearby and they won't stand for intruders. ;)

How about that girl that they headlined on, "60 Minutes" that can drive without any arms....She uses her feet for everything... I guess she would be legal using her cell phone while driving. Right? Cause she does everything, "hands free".

Measage From The President
Feburary 24, 2011

To all our valued clients, present and future:

Hopefully spring comes early this year as in some past springs. Winter has hung around long enough this year. I know Iï¿½m anxious to smell the spring air and warm weather.

This off season, we had to downsize our company and move back to our old location on 2352 Pearl Road, Medina, Ohio, funny how things come full circle. We are going to have our landscape supply center also and will sell landscape material for pickup or delivery, call for price list or prices.

The economy and serious health issues, has forced this move and it is for the best to get back and service our clients best interest and condense our great customer base. I thank all of you for your loyalty and canï¿½t believe we are going on our 28th year in business; we couldnï¿½t do it without clients like you. Letï¿½s get ready for spring, get rid of our snow plows and smell the fragrances of fresh cut grass and flowers and trees budding in the air.

Best Regards,

Roger Nair

Not really the range I was hoping for. Things are a lot further apart, in some places we camp, or the few accessible locations, from home, where it might be possible to do a little hunting.

Take a look at MURS (Multi-Use Radio Service)-capable radios. 5W and they operate on 5 channels just north of 2m - somewhere in the 152MHz range, IIRC. No licence required; they typically have decent coverage.

The downside is that there aren't a lot of manufacturers out there making them, so they are kinda pricey. But a secondhand MARS/CAPped 2m/440 HT would fit the bill nicely ;)

OK. I have found 100 watts on 80 meters(3.5MHz) to work long ground wave.
A repeater is a station that receives on one frequency and simultaneously retransmitting it on another frequency. These stations are usually located in high places to maximize range. Using hand held radios will always be less then optimum as the radios are low power and have inefficient antennas.

There is no cheap and easy fix to getting more then 3 or 4 miles from ground based radios. Get a commercial repeater or a ham ticket. Ham can not be used for business or any way that making money is involved. $800 will buy a lot of radios on VHF/UHF. That guy is trying to get rich on you. Used gear gets just as much range as new gear. The antenna is the weakest link.

2 watts, but who's counting?

Well, I'll be damned. It is 2W. Probably confused it with... Well, something else, anyway. Not GMRS or FRS, that's for sure. I know that the MURS regs have been revised a couple of times, so maybe it was an old number that I was quoting. In any event, not what I thought it was.

I'll be sure to crank down the Tx power next time I'm on MURS with the HT ;)

804. now, Canada has outlawed simply having 2 way radios visible in your vehicles

In a further effort to further crackdown on perfectly legal 2 way radio operators, Vancouver, Montreal, and other Canadian cities have passed laws outlawing leaving valuable itemms like your ham radio or cb radio in plain sight in your vehicle. If you are in a restaurant or store and a cop or mountie looks inside your vehicles windows and sees your valuable ham radio or valuable cb radio in the usual place, under the dash, or amywhere at all where it is visi,ble instead of hidden where no one can see it, you will get ticketed and fined and prison time. Since you broke the law by leaving a valuable item or items in plain sight inside your vehicle.
The Crazy Canuck Canadians were not satisfied with only outlawing the use of hand-held microphones Now they also outlawed simplay having the radios visible in the ONLY NORMAL spot for a 2 way radio and outlawed having them visiIbe anywhere in the vehicle.
and then as usual, Kooky California will follow , and then other American cities and states will follow, also outlawing having any 2 way radios visible in your vehicle .
The reason the authorities gave for why they passed this law allowing them to fine ordinary citizens for doing so is to prevent theft of valuable items in vehicles by theieves and criminals.
however, we all know the real reason for this ridiculous law is so they can ticket and fine more people to get more money for theirselves. So the Canadian cops and Canadan Royal Mounties and Canadian governments are the real thieves.

read it again, although they did not outlaw ham radio , they, Delaware, outlawed even having a cb radio in vehicles at all unless it is in a commercial vehicle If a cb radio is in a private non-commercial passenger vehicle, it is illegal accordin to the new Delaware law, and you are violating the law, according to the new Delaware
law
and they wold have outlawed ham radios in them also if they could have However, they could not since the Fcc rules say they can not.
The Delaware law, as written and passed, outlaws even having a cb radio in a non-commercial vehicle even if it is mounted connected to the vehicle as usual. The law in that state says a cb radio is only legal in s vehicle if it is mounted in a commercial vehicle . non-commercial passenger vehicles are NOT exempt. Delaware has also made driving more dangerous with this law. I have driven through cities where the cities were broadcasting one-way traddic reports and road conditions on cb channel 19 which made my drive and other drivers drives safer as we kknew wgich roads they were doing constrution work on and to take and not take among other things. Now, if I have to travel to Delaware, my only choices are to leave a radio in my car and get fined or to spend time taking the radio out and travel through the other heavy-traddic cities without being able to hear the traffic safety reports those cities provide on cb channel 19 which makes the drive MORE dangerous and causes MORE accidents ,since regular am and fm broadcast stations no longer provide any such services since media consolidation, Dumb Delaware has made the roads more dangerous and increased the likelyhood of traffic accidents,

This is the greatest law passed in the history of any legal system, anywhere. I for one applaud Canada's approach to the issue of theft of personal property from vehicles, and fully support and endorse any efforts to bring such laws into effect on a global scale.

You, sir, clearly do not wish to reap the benefits of such forward-thinking legislation. Philistine.

If this is true then the next logical step would be to ban wallets that leave an indication of being in your hip pocket and....ban carrying handbags.

Jest another step in the gradual process of making the victom responsible for the crime. Liberals just love to do that.

I see no reason why a microphone couldn't just be another cell phone ap. the CB unit (or other piece of ham gear) could be completely hidden, and your cell phone could be the microphone that keys and feeds it.

Right. Soon, it will be against the law for good citizens to wander about freely where criminals could attack and mug them after dark. Everyone will have to report into their padded cells one hour before sundown every night, so they won't tempt the poor, desperate muggers, thereby forceing them to break the law.

Don't believe there is need to be concerned. Can't find a single matching link or post.
Canadian has so many regulations, on everything, it appears to be straight jacketing their Citizens.
The US put over 44,000 new regulations and laws on the books, in 2009.
One State passed over 135 new regulations, in two or three days last week. Pretty soon you will need a permit, or pay a fee, tax, or license, for what little leeway or freedom is allowed.

To some posters, anyone who disagrees with them are "trolls". Especially if they can't out-argue them with simple logic. They are quick to scream, "troll", and "gun nut" and or anything other than formulating a reasonable logical argument for their own point of view.

Yes. Unfortunately, the framers of our constitution didn't forsee the tax mania that was going to come about during the following 200 years. Today, the federal and state governments are forcing liberty into a huge black money hole by using the tax laws to control our morality and anything else they want to control. Don't want people to drink Coca Cola?
Well, just tax the living hell out of it. Does the soldier on the front lines fire an extra round or two for the people who drink Coke? No? Well what does that matter? We don't have to obey any laws about taxation. It wasn't mentioned in the constitution, so we can tax whomever and whatever we please, for no other purpose other than to make money.

It's the nature of nature that those who are big and powerful oppress those who are small, weak, and cowardly. It has nothing to do with the constitution. If mice don't want to get eaten by lions, they need to gang up on the lion and force it to do their bidding. And if that doesn't work, they need to run and hide.

To prove it has nothing to do with the constitution, just look at all the "unfair" taxes in countries that don't have constitutions.

Look at all the unfair taxes we have here, even though we do have a constitution. 30 years ago I needed some ethyl alcohol. I don't drink it, but I used it to clean my trumpet with. I had to buy 4 gallons of it at $40 a gallon. the vender told me that the government took 50% of that in taxes.
Normally, it would only cost me $20 a gallon. So, I had to find 3 other guys who would go in with me on the purchase, (most of them would drink it) and buy like 10x as much as I needed. that's our government in action for you.
(And for all you liberals out there who would be quick to tell me to use isopropyl alcohol, it makes me sick, so that's why I needed ethyl.)

Think of the implications that the first example you thought of was 30 years ago. If it was a big problem, wouldn't you have thought of a more recent example first?

Recently I had to get gas for my lawnmower. It cost me $8+ to fill my container, including highway tax etc. I suppose I should mow the highway.

Yeah, just hooked up my rig at our new house over the weekend (a turned up Uniden Washington hooked up to an A-99 antenna). It's been so long since I've had the thing on, I am not even sure if it transmits anymore. :) I have gotten into doing a lot of SSB up in the channel 36-40 range around 7pm or so eastern time, so if anyone hears 218 from the Buffalo area, feel free to wave back!

Yes. I am 75, so most of my lifetime examples come from a number of years ago. but I also keep up on the news, so I know that our tax laws haven't gotten any better. The tendency of the liberals to use taxes to control the morality of the people has gotten worse over the years. Also, they get money anywhere it exists whether the people they steal it from deserve the treatment or not. If you have money, then the liberals feel that you deserve to have to give it up. The fact that you may have spent years doing without and working your fanny off to get it don't make no never mind to them. They think everybody who rides through Sherwood Forest on a fine horse must be the Sheriff of Nottingham.....:^)

A minor point but one I understand. We had nothing and still have most of it.
After we are both retired we managed to buy a real performance automobile.
Had to pay a fine or sin tax, of 2,800.00, because it didn't get 25 or whatever miles per gallon. Never mind that those responsible, for the attitude and who's daily commute consumes the equivalent, of a large SUVs fuel, each way, for a month, or the limousines etc that they are driven in daily getting maybe 12 mpg.

They charge a healthy tax on gasoline. That should take care of it. The worse your mileage, the more gasoline you have to buy, and the more tax you pay. Why would the liberals want any more than this? Back East, they have toll roads. I can't think of anything more stupid than having to brake down from speed to a stop, pay a toll, and then re-accelerate back up to speed. How many gallons of gasoline a year are wasted doing this?

you would think that with all the innovations and developments in there would be a hand held CB with good range etc.

I've got a couple CBs and a hand held CB.
I don't want holes and trying to locate one in the vehicle.
There is a lot more congestion, on the roads these days. There is a lot of accidents, closed lanes, back ups, groups of semi's practicing micro

I need/want a good hand held CB. The Midland I have is next to useless.
It is supposed to put out four watts. Of course the antenna isn't much.
Is there anything out there that works?

This was answered in thread "Good range radio". The answer hasn't changed and it won't until physical law of nature are changed. My $150 2 meter FM radio accesses ham repeaters that cover the entire state and more. A ham ticket at the most will cost you a $14 VEC fee. A lot cheaper then $800!

No it's two questions. Bought two Motorola 2 Meter radios. They seem to work fine around here. The repeaters and so forth are still taking some getting use to.
What I need is a CB for on the road. The 2 meters don't cover those channels.
I really doubt there is a good hand held CB but there has been a lot of developments since my first CB in 1971. My brother still has that Royce.
Works better than many later ones except it occasionally has to have the crystal replaced. My Tea berry works fine except, the CB shop that replaced a meter stole the crystal or whatever and put in a cheaper lower powered one back in the 80s. The hand held Motorola CB just doesn't have any range, at all. The pkg is the right size but the antenna is the biggest limiting factor plus output. Someone might be making one that works a lot better.

Sorry to hear you had to downsize and move from your business location back into the house. Oh let's face it Mopey Dopey Steveo; I am not sorry to hear you are TEH FAIL. Maybe you should sell that faggy mopar and buy more snow plows. Then you wouldn't be so broke all the time.

Measage From The President
Feburary 24, 2011

To all our valued clients, present and future:

Hopefully spring comes early this year as in some past springs. Winter has hung around long enough this year. I know Iï¿½m anxious to smell the spring air and warm weather.

This off season, we had to downsize our company and move back to our old location on 2352 Pearl Road, Medina, Ohio, funny how things come full circle. We are going to have our landscape supply center also and will sell landscape material for pickup or delivery, call for price list or prices.

The economy and serious health issues, has forced this move and it is for the best to get back and service our clients best interest and condense our great customer base. I thank all of you for your loyalty and canï¿½t believe we are going on our 28th year in business; we couldnï¿½t do it without clients like you. Letï¿½s get ready for spring, get rid of our snow plows and smell the fragrances of fresh cut grass and flowers and trees budding in the air.

Best Regards,

Roger Nair

JEWS ARE SATANIC - PURE AND SIMPLE:

By 1999, certain Orthodox Jewish organizations were forthcoming, openly admitting that the Talmud describes Jesus as a sorcerer and a demented sex freak.

On the web-site of the Orthodox Jewish, Chabad-Lubavitch group one of the largest and most powerful Jewish organizatioins in the world ---> we find the following statement, accompanied by citations from the Talmud:

The Talmud (Babylonian edition) records other sins of 'Jesus the Nazarene'.

1. He and his disciples practiced sorcery and black magic, led Jews astray into idolatry and were sponsored by foreign, gentile powers for the purpose of subverting Jewish worship
(Sandhedrin 43a)

2. He was sexually immoral, worshipped statues of stone (a brick is mentioned), was cut off from the Jewish people for his wickedness, and refused to repent
(Sanhedrin 107b)

3. He learned witchcraft in Egypt
(Sotah 47a)

Gettin 57a says:
"Jesus is in Hell, being boiled in "hot" excrement."

Sanhedrin 43a says:
"Jesus was executed because he practiced sorcery:

"It is taught that on the eve of Passover Jesus was hung, and forty days before this the proclamation was made: Jesus is to be stoned to death because he has practiced sorcery and has lured the people to idolatry...He was an enticer and of such thou shalt not pit or condone."

The rabbinic teacher Moses Maimonides ("Rambam") is revered in Judaism as a supreme "sage" of the hightest stature. In his writings Maimonides taught that Christians should be exterminated.

Yebamoth 98a.
All gentile children are animals.

Abodah Zarah 36b.
Gentile girls are in a state of niddah (filth) from birth.

Sandhedrin 106a.
Says Jesus's mother was a whore:
"She who was the descendant of princes and governors played the harlot with carpenters."

Also in footnote #2 to Shabbath 104b of the Soncino edition, it is stated that the "uncensored" text of the Talmud it is writtenthat Jesus mother,
"Miriam the hairdresser", had sex with many men.

Sanhedrin 57a.
A Jew need not pay a gentile the wages owed him for work.

Sanhedrin 57a.
When a Jew murders a gentile there will be no death penalty. What a Jew steals from a gentile he may keep.

947. Who is Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ?

Who is Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ?

Mark C. Morgan of 17366 North River Road, Tapiola, Michigan describes himself as a "kinky bisexual, into bondage, domination, and sado-masochism." As indicated in the CCRAA club newsletter, Morgan was impeached by members of the CCRAA radio club, in the summer of 2008. His impeachment was partly a result of the fact that he falsely accused seven men of child pandering and partly due to the fact that his actions brought disrepute onto the club.

Mark Morgan is under investigation for identity theft related to the unauthorized use of another man's name and email address. Information related to the incident was posted on the website on February 13 at 1:15 AM. Morgan has continuously posted false and defamatory information about various individuals for a number of years.

On February 13, it was also reported that nine (9) accounts used by Morgan to flood multiple newsgroups with annoyance messages had been removed for terms of service (TOS) violations.

Amazingly, after falsely reporting an individual for child sex pandering last year, Mark Morgan has now stolen the email address of the same FCC licensee, and, as of 10 AM eastern time on 2/13/09, Morgan had already posted 308 fraudulent messages. Here is a link to the fraudulent profile created by Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ. The FBI and Law enforcement agencies in Michigan have been notified about this latest act of fraud perpetrated by Mark Morgan.

During the period prior to Morgan being impeached by the CCRAA radio club, the turbulence resulting from Morgan's fraud, malicious acts, and false accusations were acknowledged by club members to have cast a bad light on the organization. According to the club leadership: When Morgan began posting statements about the club on his private blog, leading to the possibility of the club being involved in a nasty civil suit, club members realized their mistake in electing him. After a short tenure as a club officer, Morgan was impeached by a margin of 11:1. Morgan's own vote was the only vote in his favor.

Like his friend Karol Madera, Morgan has a long history of involvement with the police, and the mental health industry. Law enforcement officials in Michigan have stated that Morgan was transported for psychiatric examination in 2004, to a hospital in Marquette, Michigan, under supervision of Sheriff's Deputies.

Morgan calls himself an ally of Karol Madera, VE7KFM.

In collusion with Madera, Morgan made malicious and false reports of child pandering to child protective service agencies, against 7 different men, in 7 different states.

Morgan was banned from qrz.com and hamisland.com for posting defamation about various individuals. Morgan has admitted he uses Google services (blogspot) to manage at least 3 defamatory blogs, using material fabricated by Karol Madera.

Morgan creates multiple identities, enabling him to flood the usenet service with thousands of nonsensical messages, in retaliation against those who have revealed his many lies and fabrications over the past 10 years. At last count, Morgan had posted well over 200,000 meaningless posts, using just a few of these multiple identities. Morgan admits he has rendered the service useless, citing "self defense." The removal of one of the many identities used by KB9RQZ on usenet is a victory in the effort to reduce the incessant flood of posts made by Morgan in an effort to deny others the ability to enjoy the usenet service.

Quotable Quotes ~ by Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ

On reporting 7 men for child sex crimes:

"likewise you can prove I made a charge , you can't prove it was flase and malicious you would have to prove that I did not suspect you, indeed if I am mental ill as you suggest in post 2 then your task becomes even harder, since if I am nuts who knows what I believe"

"if you try and stop me either nothing will happen , or I will never even notice the effort or if you manage to inconvence my exercise of my rights I will look into what price I can extract from you."

"you also provoked mater by insisting your had the right to control who responded to your posts in RRAP"

"I made no flase report to CPS (child protective services) indeed you don't what a fasle report is it seems since I did and do and in fact I am more convinced than ever that you are likely the offer of the note claimignt o be willing to rent me the sexual service of that 9 yo but in any event I started nothing with you YOU started thing remeber you insisted I hated Ham radio because I said its response to Katrina could be imporved"

"when you atack me you invite response the only question is wether you have the gut to allow the reponse"

KB9RQZ, on shooting a teenaged boy (according to Houghton County Sheriff's Department, it never happened)

"at about 6:35 this morning I was awakened not by the expected return of my wife form the renfaire but the sound of motors. the motors belong to an ATV that had managed to get a rope onto my tower (30 foot wooden structure and was puling the tower down. O got sever round with the shotgun did not score a good hit but but the cops found blood on the treea dn the trails lead back to n rover river road after a bit where it stop and free tire marks (looks like one of the pickups that carry atv's around here).

the rope parted and no real damage to the anttenas was done although my masting needs work to make it stable again. have had loads of fun with the cops over the matter. I wonder what poor kid (I could see he was not more than say 16 ish) the nutjobs conned into making the attack and with what lie. sad realy."

February 2009 ~ Yet Another KB9RQZ Identity Banned from Google Groups

Another of the email adresses (kb9rqz@yahoo.com) used by Mark Morgan of Chassell, MI to flood usenet with thousands of nonsensical, useless messages, has been banned by Google groups for numerous violations of Google's terms of use, which include efforts to defame, abuse, harass, stalk, threaten or otherwise violate the legal rights (such as rights of privacy and publicity) of others; posting inappropriate, defamatory, infringing, obscene, or unlawful Content, and; restricting and inhibiting other users from using and enjoying the Service, through repeated flooding, spamming, and changing of thread titles.

The following is a repost about Morgan, made on Daniel Jeswald's blog, attributed to Steven Robeson:

Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ, is a very disturbed, admittedly deviant, and dishonest person who has been harrassing Amateur Radio operators and disrupting radio, and other forums, since at least 1997.

As part of his on-going fusillade, he has, at various times, insisted that he's a "colonel" in the US Army "chemical corps," further insisting that he's been "drafted," and further insisting that he was not allowed to "resign."

Never mind that he was only 8 years old when the draft was stopped in the 70's! He's since recanted the "Colonel" claim, saying he was only a Lieutenant, then claiming he was only a Sergeant at discharge -- under another name that the CIA knows about -- and approved.

Oh, and he was kicked out of the service due to his "nerves" according to Mr. Morgan. However, the HCSD and MSP both have him on record as being transported to Marquette General Hospital in 2004, due to "involuntary commitment for psychiatric evaluation."

Mr. Morgan has perpetuated a smear campaign against other members of various forums, going as far as post-editing comments, forging posts, and even trying to make "complaints" to the Civil Air Patrol Inspector General Corps and the FCC, etc., about perceived slights that have nothing to do with CAP or anything with any bearing on reality.

Recently, Morgan reported 7 different men to Child Protective Services in 7 different states. All this, because he has allied himself with yet another lunatic in Canada, known as Karol Madera, VE7KFM, who is as bad, or worse, than Mark Morgan.

This behavior is nothing more than an attempt by Morgan to "silence" those who would expose his foolishness and who refuse to tolerate his dishonesty in public forums.

Mr. Morgan has admitted to various acts of perversion and deceit, going as far as bragging about his use of lying, and his belief that deceit should be proactively taught to children as part of their upbringing. He describes himself as a kinky, bisexual, rabbi, who is into bondage, domination, and sado-masochism. He's been banned from almost every polite radio forum on the internet, but he still spams usenet groups, nearly every day, with nonsensical messages and libel.

Mr. Morgan has even gone as far as to create multiple screen names with which to spam usenet and other forums, including one screen name that invokes the name of my deceased daughter in order to perpetuate his demented "point of view".

Be aware. Be informed. Mark C. Morgan is NOT a person of reputable character, nor does he have an honest nature. In fact, not only was he transported to Marquette General Hospital for psychiatric evaluation and treatment in 2004, but he has a long history of similar treatment and harassment of others by various devious and underhanded means.

Mark Morgan has been investigated for the abuse of his elderly father, and for making false sos calls, as recently as December, 2008. There have even been rumors that Mark Morgan stole money from his elderly father, in order to move to Michigan, to avoid prosecution there, for crimes that have not been published, yet.

This summer (2008) Mr. Morgan was voted out of the CCRAA amateur radio club by a vote of 11:1. He was ejected from that club and banned from the websites qrz.com and ham island.net. Reports of dishonesty, slander, libel, and theft, follow Mark Morgan around the internet, like the stench from the local dump.

Here is a link to one of the screen names used to flood forums with unwanted posts and garbage of the type I previously mentioned. And here is another from IP addresses at Hughes satellite services, the latest IP addresses being 69.19.14.28 and 69.19.113.131

In summary, beware of Mark C. Morgan of 17366 North River Road, Tapiola, Michigan. Do not hesitate to contact Houghton County Sheriff's Department if he begins stalking you, or your family. Unfortunately, I have first hand experience with his stalking and harassment.

Mark Christopher Morgan can be reached for comment at kb9rqz@hughes.net or by phone at 906-523-4520 or via his postal address at Mark C. Morgan 17366 North River Road, Tapiola, Michigan 49931

Who is "asshole", Campbell? There is nobody in comp.os.os2.advocacy

RADIO CRIME: HAM RADIO SCOUT LEADER MURDERED IN INDIANA

An Indiana ham radio operator and scouting leader has been brutally murdered. This, while leading a group of scouts on a nature hike. Amateur Radio Newsline's Mark Abramowicz, NT3V, has the details:

Seventy-six-year-old Arthur Anderson, W9WPH, of Kokomo, Indiana, was simply in the wrong place at the wrong time.

That the assessment from Indiana state police investigating the murder of the long-time Scout leader from Troop 506 based at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Kokomo.

They say Anderson was leading two scouts, ages 11 and 12 , on Sunday, Aug. 21 on a nature walk on the Nickel Plate Trail near the community of Bunker Hill, about 60 miles north of Indianapolis.

As the group stopped briefly near a tree, authorities say 22-year-old Shane Golitko leaped on Anderson and stabbed him in the neck with a 12-inch knife.

Investigators say another leader who was along on the hike shielded the young Scouts from the attacker, who then fled on foot after the assault.

Despite efforts to stop the bleeding, authorities say Anderson died at the scene.

Authorities arrested Golitko inside his nearby home where he lived with his mother.

He's now being held in the Miami County jail.

Investigators also learned a short time before the deadly attack on Anderson, Golitko had kicked and punched his mother in an unprovoked assault. She ran to a neighbor's home for help.

An Indiana state police detective who is part of the investigation called it a senseless act.
Authorities don't have a motive for the attack.

The Miami County prosecutor confirmed Golitko had a prior arrest for possession of marijuana. He says the man also was charged in an assault case in Ohio in July 2010, but court records show that charge was dismissed.

An official from the Boy Scouts' Sagamore Council in Kokomo, called Anderson a great leader who focused on training young Scouts to lead by example and try to motivate others.

Golitko is charged with murder and two felony counts of battery. He is being held without bond in the Miami County Jail in Peru Indiana pending appearance in the Miami Circuit Court where he will likely be formally arraigned. (Various published news reports and listener provided reports)

RESCUE RADIO: EAST COAST QUAKE POINTS OUT FRAGILE CELLPHONE INFRASTRUCTURE

Although amateur radio emergency communications was not particularly needed following a 5 point 8 earthquake that shook most of the east coast on Tuesday, August 23rd, the event did point out how fragile the publics personal communications infrastructure really is. Especially the aspect that deals with cellular telephones.

According to several news reports, cellular telephone service was crippled for a short time following the temblor that was centered near Mineral, Virginia. Verizon Wireless admitted that its service was slow for about 20 minutes after the quake struck just before 2 p.m. Eastern time. AT&T and Sprint also report very heavy call volume as East coast residents dealt with Virginia's strongest earthquake since 1897. The three companies say service was compromised because millions of people were making calls at the same time.

Also, according to K3VSA at least one public announcement went out from the FEMA that said due to overload of cell phone usage, there are reports of cell phone congestion. As such it was requested by cellular carriers that members of the public use e-mail or text messages if possible to communicate for the next few hours, except in cases of emergency. This so that emergency officials can continue to receive and respond to urgent calls.

However one story reported by KADI radio pointed out that even though the cellular carriers could not deliver the level of service the public expected that ham radio operators had no problems contacting one another. The KADI report also noted that this once again proves that ham radio still works in emergencies when all other means of communication fail. (ARNewslineT, K3VSA, K0ADI via the PR Reflector)

RESCUE RADIO: HAM RADIO EMCOMM AND HURRICANE IRENE

Ham radio operators involved in emergency communications are making ready for the imminent arrival of Hurricane Irene or her remnants to his the U-S shore. Amateur Radio Newsline's Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, is in our newsroom with the latest:

As this newscast is being prepared on Thursday evening, August 25th weather forecasters are calling hurricane Irene an extremely dangerous storm that is set to batter the East Coast from North Carolina to New England over the next several days.

Currently a category 3 hurricane with winds in excess of 115 miles per hour. Irene is centered about 490 miles south of Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, and moving north north-east at 14 miles per hour. Depending on the storms exact track, Irene is expected to make landfall over Eastern North Carolina on Saturday, August 27th and then work its way up the coast with it full force being fely between New Jersey, then across New York's Long Island, across Boston and into New England and possibly the Canadian Maritime Provinces.

Ham radio operators involved in emergency communications and relief support efforts are already geared up for Irene's arrival. At ARRL headquarters in Newington, Connecticut, bulletin station W1AW will be on the air beginning 7:00 AM Saturday, August 27th as a backup communications resource. This at least until the severe weather has passed and it can stand down.

As hurricane Irene advances toward the North Carolina coast, the states ARRL Public Information Coordinator Raymond Woodward, K3VSA, reports that ARES members will be staffing the North Carolina Regional Coordination Center in Kinston. This, beginning at 7:00 AM Eastern Daylight time also on Saturday August 27th. Woodward says that they will also be taking requests for additional support from surrounding counties.

Woodward also says that the National Weather Service office in Newport will utilize hams belonging to the SKYWARN network beginning at 9:00 AM the same day. He adds that because of the mandatory evacuations that are occurring, it's likely that radio amateurs will be asked to serve county emergency services facilities and emergency relocation shelters with backup radio communications support.

Meantime similar preparations are ongoing up the Atlantic coast all the way into New England and beyond. In an e-mail to Amateur Radio Newsline, Steve Schwarm, W3EVE, Wrentham, Massachusetts, who is the District Emergency Coordinator says that a list of hams available to server in this emergency is being created. This, for ARES deployment to serve as National Weather Service Storm Survey Teams.

Schwarn's note says that hams would also be dispatched to various Emergency Operations Centers, Red Cross and Salvation Army operations sites as well as hospitals as they are required. W3EVE tells the hams in his region that it is important to keep their situation awareness level high for any updates from ARES leadership. They do this by checking their e-mail and monitoring local SKYWARN, ARES and RACES frequencies for any updates on this developing situation.

Also ready for activation are several established operations. This includes the Hurricane Watch Net on 14.325 MHz. It provides storm watch communications to and from the National Hurricane Center in Miami, Florida during times of hurricane emergencies.

Also in operation will be the VoIP or Voice Over Internet Protocol Weather Net. This operation uses Echolink and IRLP to provide a similar service.

As hurricane Irene tracks up the Eastern seaboard its intensity will, as always, depend on many changing factors.

So right now it is too early to meaningfully state how the storm will affect specific areas.

Lastly, as we go to air we advise all residents in the affected regions, be they hams and non hams alike are advised to keep an ear tuned to their local newscasts and weather bulletins. These could very well save your life.

In the newsroom in Los Angeles, I'm Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, reporting for the Amateur Radio Newsline. Don.

WITH NEWSLINE: 2011 YHOTY AWARD PRESENTED TO KAITLYN S. COLE, KS3P

Satrurday, August 20th was a big day in the life of 11 year olf Kaitlyn Cole, KS3P. At the 2011 Huntsville Hamfest, Kaitlyn was presented with this years Amateur Radio Newsline Young Ham of the Year Award. Reading from a prepared statement, Kaitlyn had quite a story to tell about her involvement in the tornadoes that ravaged her home state and her decision to try to help those in need:

KS3P: "When the tornado struck on April 27th, I was very scared. We had no power and the phone was dead. I did not know how lucky we were until my parents took us out driving around our community.

"Some of my neighbors had lost everything or had their lives cut short by the tornadoes that struck. It was not some far off event on the news. This was personal to me.

"I didn't think a young ham like myself could do much, especially an 11 year old elementary student. My dad took me down to a command post in a Huntsville church. We signed some release forms and were given wrist bands. We then met up with Charlie, W1CST. Charlie gave me a chance to operate and provided guidance. It was really overwhelming at first because I was completely new to doing net control in a real emergency.

"At the time, I knew I was helping out but didn't think much about it because there were so many hams working. For me it was a way to cope with the devastation and to give something back to my community."

Kaitlin also shared her ham radio dreams of the future with the assembled crowd:

KS3P: "With amateur radio my goals and opportunities keep expanding. I've accomplished some of my goals but not all.

"I hope in the future to act as a DX station and not just work DX at home.

"I hope to do more videos on YouTube to encourage more youth into the hobby and to work some modes I have not yet tried.

"The sky is the limit with ham radio."

I had the honor of emceeing this year's award ceremony along with representatives of corporate underwriters Vertex-Standard, CQ Publishing and Heil Sound. And it was likely Rich Moseson, W2VU of CQ, who summed it up best as to why Kaitlyn was chosen as this year's award recipient.

W2VU: "Looking over the nomination for Kaitlyn this year the thing that jumped out at me were that an 11 year old - no go back to age 9 - and your typical 8 year old ham going to the Dayton Hamventionr and going to the Dayton Youth Lounge would be going there to do things and be guided by older young hams in things to do. But not Kaitlyn. She was there to help run the booth.

"And this spring with the tornadoes that hit here. Your average young ham might be helping out in the field or something like that, but Kaitlyn was net control.

"So, she is yet another example of those young hams who are head and shoulders above everyone else which has always been the defining qualification for this award."

All in all it was a great afternoon to honor a very giving young woman who even though she is only age 11 has proven that hams of any age are ready and willing to serve their community in times of need. As such, we join with our corporate underwriters and with the Huntsville Hamfest in congratulating Kaitlyn S. Cole, KS3P, for her dedication to the hobby, to the community and really to all of mankind. (ARNewslineT)

RADIO LAW: LA CELLPHONE TICKET GIVEN TO HAM OPERATING 2 METER MOBILE

A California ham has been cited for operating mobile using a 2 meter radio installed in his car and this could become a test case to find out whether the restrictive anti-cellphone law can be used against other two-way radio users.

According to a note from Dick McKay, K6VGP, a member of the Disaster Amateur Radio Network identified as Irving Osser, KE6YR, received a ticket for using his amateur 2 meter radio in his car. According to McKay, the Los Angeles motorcycle officer stated that he saw Osser on his cell phone. KE6YR tried to show the officer the two meter radio with the coil cord microphone and said he was talking to another amateur on the radio. He also tried to show the officer the hands free system he uses on his BlackBerry and finally tried to show him the cell phone log that indicated no calls were made or received.

But the officer was not interested in hearing about any of it and it has now became a tell it to the judge matter. And here is where the possibly becoming a test case for the California law. This is because Osser is an attorney by profession and plans to represent himself in court with the proper knowledge about how to address the subject.

While California does not provide any exceptions for ham radio operators, CB'ers and other non-emergency two-way radio users, by definition, two-way radio gear is not a hand held cellular telephone. None-the-less, KE6YR will still have the burden to prove in court that what he was doing was legal and that he was in fact not using a wireless telephone as defined by law. (K6VGP)

RADIO LAW: FAC AFFIRMS $10,000 FORFEITURE ORDER TO FLORIDA UNLICENSED BROADCASTER

A Florida resident who allegedly operated an unlicensed broadcast radio station has been ordered to pay a ten thousand dollar fine. In an August 22nd release, the Regional Director for the South Central Region of the FCC's Enforcement Bureau ordered Patrick Michael Ford of Fort Myers to pay a previously imposed Notice of Apparent Liability or NAL.

Back on May 5th the Enforcement Bureau's Tampa Office issued the Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture to Ford after it traced illegal broadcasts to him. The FCC says that to date, Ford has not filed a response to the NAL. Therefore, based on the information before it the regulatory agency has now affirmed the forfeiture order and given him 30 days to pay. If he fails to do so the matter can be turned over to the Department of Justice for collection. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: $25000 NAL ISSUED FOR INTERFERENCE TO AIRPORT WEATHER RADAR

The FCC has issued Rapidwave, LLC of Saratoga Springs, Utah, a $25,000 Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture order. This, for operating a 5 Gigahertz unlicensed Part 15 system in a manner inconsistent with rules, and for allegedly causing interference to an FAA Terminal Doppler Weather Radar system serving the Salt Lake City International Airport. Amateur Radio Newsline's Jim Davis, W2JKD, has the details:

According to the FCC, on Oct. 27, 2010, an enforcement agent from the Denver office, along with FAA personnel, located emissions at 5600 MHz coming from a Ubiquiti Xtreme Range 5 transceiver located at the Lake Mountain communications site in Saratoga Springs, Utah. The site in question was identified as being operated by Rapidwave LLC. Over the next 24 hours the FCC and FAA personnel established that this system at the Lake Mountain site was the source of the interference.

According to the FCC, all 5 GHz unlicensed national information infrastructure devices operating in the 5.25 to 5.35 GHz and 5.475 to 5.725 GHz bands must contain circuitry known Dynamic Frequency Selection. This is a radar detection capability which allows them to detect the presence of radar systems and avoid co-channel interference. During the Lake Mountain site inspection it was determined that as it was operating, the transceiver did not have Dynamic Frequency Selection functionality. Rapidwave changed the operating frequency to stop the interference to the Salt Lake City Terminal Doppler Weather Radar.

The inspection also revealed that Rapidwave had added a high gain parabolic antenna to the system. Calculations performed by the FCC agent indicated the Effective Radiated Power for this system may have exceeded the maximum permitted by the FCC Rules for operation on the frequency used by Rapidwave. You can read the entire text of this FCC enforcement action at tinyurl.com/fcc-utah-fine.

Rapidwave was given the customary 30 days to pay the fine or to file an appeal. (FCC, RW, TVT)

RADIO LAW: FCC TO ELIMINATE ANOTHER 80 OUTDATED RULES

The Federal Communications Commission is eliminating another 83 rules from its books. This, as part of its reform agenda and commitment to a request from President Obama earlier this year to improve or remove any rules that were out of date.

Among the eliminated rules is the Fairness Doctrine enacted back in 1949 which was intended to promote balanced discussion of controversial issues. As more broadcast stations and cable channels became available, the need to mandate a diversity of viewpoints was no longer felt necessary and the rule was abolished in 1987. As a result, the FCC has not enforced it in more than two decades, but it was never officially taken off the books.

Other rules deleted included media-related regulations that have not been in effect for years. The FCC said the 83 rules eliminated will not have any significant impact on broadcast businesses. So far more than 50 outdated rules in all services it oversees have already been eliminated as part of the FCC's reform agenda aimed at removing obsolete regulations and revising others to keep up with new technology. HAM RADIO ON THE WEB: QRZ.COM CREATES NEW FORUM FOR HOMEBREW GEAR SELLERS

The QRZ dot com ham radio website has announced the creation of a new Swapmeet Forum called Ham Made Gear dedicated specifically to the sale of home made ham radio equipment. According to site owner Fred Lloyd, AA7BQ, creation of this new area on QRZ is in keeping with the spirit of helping to foster small businesses started by fellow hams.

This forum is designed for hams who build gear themselves to sell to other hams. As explained by AA7BQ, previously, QRZ disallowed such postings as being "commercial" in nature. Cut says Lloyd this new forum solves that problem allowing semi-commercial, part-time, or hobbyist types of sellers to publicize, promote and sell their products on QRZ. There is no charge for this service, and any ham can participate so long as they are engaged in building gear themselves.

Lloyd stipulates that QRZ will not allow resellers of any kind in this area. All products offered must be manufactured by the seller, who must be a ham listed in the QRZ.com callsign database. (AA7BQ)

WORLDBEAT: RADIO TELESCOPES ASSIST IN STUDY OF BINARY X-RAY STAR

Astronomers from Wales and the Netherlands, in collaboration with five schools, have used eight radio telescopes simultaneously to study the strange behavior of an X-ray binary star system.

IGR J00291+5934 is a rare X-ray binary system containing a pulsar and a normal star. Only 12 such systems are known.

In September 2008, 00291 increased in brightness at X-ray wavelengths by a factor of at least a thousand times and in visible wavelengths by a factor of around a hundred times. While this type of outburst is not uncommon for this type of system, the timescale is usually months to years. However in this case 00291, was in its outburst for only 20 days and then faded away to its normal faint state but then re-brightened within 30 days.

The results of the study were presented by postgraduate student Fraser Lewis at the RAS National Astronomy Meeting in Llandudno, Wales, on April 18. (Science OnLine)

THAT FINAL ITEM: SPEED OF LIGHT PRECLUDES TIME TRAVEL

And finally this week word that physicists have confirmed the ultimate speed limit for the packets of light called photons and in doing so have made the concept of time travel even less likely than thought.

The speed of light in vacuum is considered the universe's ultimate speed limit, but experiments in recent years suggested that single photons might beat this. And if that were proven true, then at least in theory time travel might be possible.

Now, a paper in Physical Review Letters shows that individual photons are also limited to the vacuum speed limit. This means that photons maintain the principle of causality laid out in Einstein's theory of special relativity. This appears to mean that an event's effect cannot precede its cause by traveling faster than light. It is violation of this causality that would, in principle, permit time travel.

In ham radio, that would essentially mean that one cannot hold a QSO with a rare DX station until that station is actually on the air. This, even though some radio amateurs have been known to try.

More on this scientific discovery that is bound to annoy believers in warp speed travel is on-line at tinyurl.com/435b833 (BBC via Southgate) wrong. it never worked for me either and I have a completely new tv with a built-in digital atsc and used other such tvsets in the past.

and converter boxes in the further past. And NONE of them ever worked for ota reception. Even the ham radios who had the best equipment available were not able to get any ota atsc reception here at all while we all, including them, got several channels when it was analog ntsc.
Daniel Rouse is correct regarding atsc and ntsc, and I also frequently see digital atsc breakup and freezing on the analog cable channels from them transmitting atsc digital at the source.
However, Daniel most likely will not be happy much longer. where I am, the cablle compamy has already moved several of their analog channels to digital, and for the first time, the numbler of analog stations we get on cable has went down insead of up. And it is my undersanding fcc rules say the cablle companies only have to transmit in analog until 2012. Then in 2012, the cable tv companies are free to remove all analog cable transmission and have every channel in digital only, which I have already verified does not work even with digital cable when I used to have digital cable. The digital system is flawed.
so then his only choice (and all of us who have cable tv)n will be digital cable or nothing, and the digital cable is as bad, unwatchable freezing picture with audio stopped, and skipping.
the government has ruined free over the air tv and cable tv also. the effects of it on cable tv simply is not fully felt yet since cable tv companies still have to broadcast in analog until 2012. I have already seen digital cable and ota atsc. tv is dead.

Back on your meds, radioguy. Your spelling in your complaint is no better than it is here. You're singing the same song as you were a year ago. Your facts and logic are no better now than they were then.

ATSC works fine for everybody but you and Daniel. I believe you to be in need of a revival of sorts.

Your sin is that of Unholy Location. You surely live in the most God-forsaken, outback, boondock, backwoods, backwater, hell-hole, Never-never Land known to Civilized Man. This must end and you can do it.

Move! Move away, I say! Move away from the swamp, the hand-pump well, the outhouse, the chain gangs on the road, the broke-down car on your front lawn and those festering, inbred neighbors.

There's some hope for you boy, but not until you bathe in the light that is the Glory of ATSC Tee-Vee.

Hallelujah!

alt.checkmate, dizzy? Don't you have something better to

As if your kooky tholing has any relevance, tholen.

You do know, tholen, that your efforts have not helped increase the relevancy of discussion in the COOA, right? Where is the logic in that, tholen?

What does your ironic question have to do with alt.fucknozzles, rec.radio.amateur.policy,rec.radio.cb,comp.os.os2.advocacy, alt.checkmate, dizzy?

1541> As if your kooky tholing has any relevance, tholen.

What does your classic erroneous presupposition have to do with alt.fucknozzles,rec.radio.amateur.policy,rec.radio.cb, comp.os.os2.advocacy,alt.checkmate, dizzy?

1541> You do know, tholen, that your efforts have not helped 1541> Where is the logic in that, tholen?

There is no logic in your question, dizzy. When I ask someone what their posting has to do with the newsgroups in which it was posted, I'm trying to find out the relevance, if any, of that posting to those newsgroups. It is not an attempt to increase, or decrease, for that matter, the relevancy of discussion in any newsgroup, dizzy. Of course, that much should have been obvious by the wording of the question itself, but it takes decent reading comprehension and logic skills to understand that, dizzy. You have a lack in that capability, dizzy, as evidenced by your inability to comprehend how persent spells his or her alias.

RESCUE RADIO: HAM COMES TO THE AID OF SAN DIEGO WHEN ITS FAIL SAFE COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM FAILS

A ham radio operator uses his knowledge of two-way radio to supplement communications when power goes out and a failsafe 800 MHz system fails. Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, is in the newsroom with the details:

According to news reports, the power mains problem began near Yuma, Arizona. Affected by the September 8th black-out were parts on Southern California, South-Western Arizona and Northern Mexico. All of these areas share the same power grid and in Southern California alone some 8 million customers lost electric service. And when the lights went out in San Diego, so did parts of the regions 800 MHz shared emergency communications network.

The problem that arose was that in some North County service areas mobiles in the field could not hear their dispatchers. In other places the dispatchers could not communicate with mobile stations. But thanks to some thoughtful planning by North County Fire Battalion Chief Don Stevens, KF6ATL, a combination of ham radio know-how and an ageing commercial VHF radio system, not all was lost:

KF6ATL: "Probably 15 years ago most of the Fire Departments in North San Diego County were on the VHF system. Subsequent to that, San Diego County, fot inter-operability reasons built a regional communications that they call the RDS system. It's a Motorola system like other Motorola systems throughout the United States.

"Before we went to the system we are dispatched on at present, we were one of the last holdouts to go onto the 800 MHz system. And when we did that, one of the decisions that a couple of us made was not only to keep our (VHF) licenses, but also to turn our then remote-base transmitters into repeaters. We felt that we were not going to do what a lot of other cities did and that was to completely get rid of their VHF infrastructure all together."

Stevens tells Newsline that while his department is a part of the county wide 800 MHz system, when the switchover took place he decided to keep the San Diego North County VHF system as a back-up:

KF6ATL: "We had about 6 or 7 frequencies licensed to what was then the Fallbrook Fire Department which is now the North County Fire Department, and slowly but surely I took those licenses and turned three of them into what we call "Command Channels" or "Command Frequencies" and we strategically located them on mountaintops throughout North San Diego County.

"One of the first repeaters we put up was at a place called Buffalo Bump. Its on Camp Pendleton. It was followed by a same-licensed repeater up on Palomar Mountain and then another frequency located on Red Mountain, all within eye-sight of Fallbrook.

"And then I have one other repeater that bI consider a low level repeater located in downtown Fallbrook."

That forward planning by KF6ATL paid off then the power failure hit:

KF6ATL: "I was off on the day that the 800 MHz failure occurred with the power outage. Luckilly, one of my counterparts who works for the city of San Marcos - Dave Schloss - recognized that there was a failure - and like myself - he realized that we needed to do something with our 800 system to have redundancy. So he reacted quickly and called the Dispatch Center and started moving all the traffic over to my North County Fire VHF repeaters."

We asked Stevens if his experience as a radio amateur helped in the pre-planning of the North County VHF radio back up system:

KF6ATL: "Pretty much everything that I've done, Iv'e done myself. I've taught myself how to program repeaters. The only thing that I didn't do was was to hang the antennas."

--

In the end, Stevens hopes other communities will do as his did and make certain that some sort of back up emergency radio system is in place. This, just in case the unthinkable happens and the primary system fails.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, in the studio in Los Angeles.

If nothing else, this is another incident that proves putting all emergency communications eggs into a single, supposedly fail-safe system can very easily fail is not a very good idea. (CGC, ARNewslineT)

RESCUE RADIO: NEW RED CROSS EMCOMM GROUP DOWN-UNDER

A new Emergency Communications Network has recently been set up by the architects of Australia's Red Cross Emergency Communications known by the acronym RECOM. The RECOM organizational and technical model adopted in 1997 has been extremely successful in its work with Red Cross, and RECOM would now like to offer the new network infrastructure to other similarly setup amateur emergency communications organizations. You can find out more about this new network in an article by Phil Wait, VK2DKN, which can be found at tinyurl.com/3ccbys8 (WIA)

RESCUE RADIO: PUERTO RICE ORIGINATES IRS FIRST EAS NESSAGE

For the first time ever the government of Puerto Rico originated an Emergency Alert System message during the aftermath of Hurricane Irene.

According to FEMA Integrated Public Alert and Warning System Program Manager Manny Centeno, Puerto Rico had previously used NOAA Weather Radio to originate E-A-S alerts. Centeno noted that broadcasters and cable operators helped the Puerto Rico Emergency Management Agency transmit a message on August 24th.

The hurricane hit the island on August 21st and 22nd, leaving more than one million residents without power.

The Emergency Alert System or EAS is a national warning system in the United States put into place in January of 1997. This, when it superseded the Emergency Broadcast System which in turn had superseded the original CONELRAD System. In addition to alerting the public of local weather emergencies such as hurricanes, tornadoes and flash floods, the E-A-S is designed to enable the President of the United States to speak to the citizenry within 10 minutes. However, to date the nationwide federal EAS has never been activated. (RW)

RESCUE RADIO: CANWARN NET ACTIVATED FOR HURRICANE MARIA

I'm Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, back with some breaking news.

Ham radio operators in Eastern Canada are being activated once again. This as yet another tropical storm is expected to hit the Maritime Provinces in coming days.

According to Radio Amateurs of Canada, it's expected that Tropical Storm Maria will have a direct impact on Newfoundland, particularly the Avalon Peninsula. Due to a low pressure system that will likely merge, an exact track is difficult to predict. However, in the effected area storm surge, pounding surf, high winds and a unknown amount of rain tht can be expected.

As a result, full activation of a Newfoundland and Labrador Hurricane CANWARN Net will begin at 1430 UTC on Friday, September 17th on 3.740 MHz. Its operation will continue for the duration of the severe weather event. Other amateurs who are within radio range of this net are requested to keep this frequency clear until Hurricane Maria has past the area and net operations are secured. Meantime, hams in the affected area are advised to keep tuned to their local news and weather reports. (RAC)

YOUNG HAMS: ARRL FORMS YOUTH IN THE SECOND CENTURY COMMITTEE

The ARRL wants to learn more about getting youngsters into ham radio and has formed a special committee to find out how.

According to a Internet posting credited to K0CA, at its July meeting, the ARRL Board of Directors approved a motion authorizing the appointment of a Youth in the Second Century Committee. ARRL President Kay Craigie, N3KN, has since appointed the committee, which is chaired by Rocky Mountain Division Director and former Amateur Radio Newsline Young Ham of the Year Brian Mileshosky, N5ZGT.

The purpose and goals of this committee are to enhance the League's outreach to potential radio amateurs among America's youth. The League's centennial in 2014 will highlight not only the accomplishments of the past but also point towards Amateur Radio's future. The ARRL believes that meaningful plans to excite young Americans about amateur radio today and in the future must take into account the ideas, lifestyles, and experiences of youthful amateur radio operators.

The Committee on Youth in the Second Century will seek input from younger members of ham radio society and also from adult amateurs working with young people., It will make recommendations to the Staff and will report to the Board of Directors beginning in January 2012. (K0CA, UseNet)

ENFORCEMENT: FCC FINES LPFM $12000 FOR UNCERTIFIED TRANSMITTER

The FCC has issued a $12,000 Notice of Proposed Liability to Power Ministries' owned low power FM station WRLE (LP), in Dunellon, Florida. This, after a June 2010 investigation of interference to Federal Aviation Administration operations in the near-by city of Jacksonville revealed that the stations transmitter was the source.

After receiving the complaint from the FAA, an FCC agent used direction finding techniques and traced the interfering signal to the WRLE transmitter. When instructed by the agent to turn off the transmitter the operator on-duty refused to do so. Nor would the station owner authorize it.

The agent then spoke to the station owner on the telephone, reiterating the safety of life hazard and requesting that the station turn off its transmitter. The station owner still refused to do so unless his station engineer was present. Thirty minutes later, the owner himself arrived and allowed a station inspection and then turned off the transmitter.

While waiting for the owner to arrive, the field agent noticed the transmitter wasn't certified. The gear was a CSI exciter, model EX20F and a model FM250E PTEK amplifier. When the transmitter was turned off, the agent said that the spurious emissions and interference to the FAA ceased.

Power Ministries later told the FCC the non-certified transmitter had been used at WRLE from March to June of 2010. It added a certified transmitter was being used as of that July.

Traditionally fined low-power FM stations are only fined in the hundreds of dollars for rule infractions. But in making its decision to fine WRLE $12,000, the commission found the violations were particularly egregious because of the safety issues posed to flights into and out of the Jacksonville area. ENFORCEMENT: NEW MEXICO ALLEGED POLICE JAMMER DINGED $25,000

The FCC has issued a $25,000 Notice of Apparent Liability to Monetary Forfeiture to Esteven J. Gutierrez. This for his alleged jamming of the Las Vegas Police Department's two way radio system. Amateur Radio Newslines's Norm Seeley, KI7UP, has more:

The story goes back to this past February 15th. That's when an agent from the Enforcement Bureau's San Diego Office arrived with an mobile direction-finding vehicle to investigate, locate, and assist in resolving the interference on 159.150 MHz. .

On his arrival, the FCC agent was briefed by the Las Vegas New Mexico Police Department's Deputy Chief about the situation that included the subject's use of obscenities and threats against police officers and their families. A police sergeant identified the voice as that of to Esteven J. Gutierrez, who was known to the sergeant from prior incidents. The sergeant told FCC agent that he believed that the individual interfering with the dispatch channel was Gutierrez but that he had no known current address.

That evening the subject transmitted on 159.150 MHz making threats to police officers. The San Diego agent, accompanied by the police officers used radio direction-finding techniques and determined that the signal was mobile and was not transmitting from a fixed location.

On February 16th the subject again began transmitting and the agent again used direction finding and that this time the signal was coming from inside a duplex apartment. The San Diego agent informed the police sergeant of the subjects location. The sergeant along with several other officers identified and observed Gutierrez inside the duplex holding a handheld radio and shortly thereafter apprehended him. The San Diego agent and the police sergeant identified the handheld radio as an Icom model IC-F50, tuned to 159.150 MHz.

And now it appears as if its time for Guiterrez to pay the piper for his purported jamming of the Las Vegas, New Mexico Police communications system. While the combined base forfeiture for this sort of illegal action is $17,000 the rules give the FCC leeway in assessing a proposed fine. In this case the agency says that it finds Gutierrez's alleged misconduct particularly egregious because his unlicensed operation included willful and malicious interference police operations. Based on this the FCC says that an upward adjustment of $8,000 to the combined base forfeiture is warranted. Adding the two amounts together, that's $25,000 that the FCC wants for Guiterrez to pay.

Guiterrez was given the customary 30 days to pay or to file an appeal. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT REQUIRED: HACKER ISSUES FALSE TERROR REPORTS ON NBC NEWS WEBSITE

Talk about a truly sick joke. On the eve of the 10th anniversary of the 911 terror attacks on New York City and the Pentagon, a hacker gained access to the Twitter account of NBC News and sent out a handful of false tweets about a suspected hijacking and a plane attack at ground zero.

Staffers at NBC noticed the false tweets at around 6 p.m. Eastern time on Friday, September 9th. They quickly contacted Twitter and had the account suspended. NBC News anchor Brian Williams then read a statement on the air saying the reports were false. Several hours later the NBC Twitter account was restored and the false postings were removed.

A group calling themselves Script Kiddies mentioned themselves in the tweets and appeared to be responsible. NBC says that it has contacted authorities including the New York Police Department and FBI about the incident. As we go to air, several investigations are underway. (Published news reports)

STUFF FROM SPACE: LOOK OUT BELOW

A NASA official says that the decommissioned Upper Atmosphere Research Satellite is expected to re-enter Earth's atmosphere in an uncontrolled fall in late September or early October. Much of the spacecraft is expected to burn up during re-entry, but some pieces are expected to make it to the ground,

The Amsat News Service says that Leonard David reported in his September 7th Space Insider Column that NASA computer analysis showed about 150 component types, including the parent body of the satellite, will burn during re-entry, but up to 26 would endure the fiery fall to Earth. The analysis indicated a surviving mass of 1,170 pounds will reach Earth within a debris footprint some 500 miles long.

NASA says that the risk to public safety or property is extremely small but admits that there is a chance that pieces of debris from the satellite will crash in areas accessible to the public. It asks that if you find something you think may be a piece of the fallen bird that you do not touch it. Instead, please contact a local law enforcement official for assistance.

The Upper Atmosphere Research Satellite is 35 feet long, 15 feet in diameter, and weighs 5.7 metric tons. It's operational orbit was at 375 miles inclined at 57 degrees to the equator. The full story of its upcoming demise was published on September 7th on the Space.com website at tinyurl.com/falling-satellite. (AMSAT News Service, Space.com)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: CUBESAT STRAND-1 GETS OPERATING FREQUENCY

The International Amateur Radio Union Satellite Frequency Coordination Panel has agreed a frequency of 437.575 MHz for the UK STRaND-1 CubeSat. This satellite will carry a Smartphone and plans to have a UOSAT style speech synthesizer and a 9600 or 19200 bps AX.25 packet downlink.

STRaND-1 is a 3 unit mini-bird measuring only 30 by 10 by 10 cm. and weighing 4 kg. Unlike previous CubeSats STRaND-1 will feature full 3-axis control with the attitude an orbit control system comprising a nano-magne-torquer, nano-reaction wheels, GPS receiver, 8 pulse plasma thrusters and a butane thruster.

A six page article on STRaND-1 appeared in the Spring issue of OSCAR News available at tinyurl.com/strand-one. (M5AKA)

HAM RADIO AND THE WWW: HAM RADIO DELUXE WILL CONTINUE

Development of the very popular Ham Radio Deluxe software suite will continue. This with word that its current developer, Simon Brown, HB9DRV, has accepted an offer from Mike Carper WA9PIE, Randy Gawtry, K0CBH and Rick Ruhl, W4PC, to purchase the source and rights to it.

Ruhl has blogged via QRZ dot com and Facebook that they plan to continue the development and support of this fine product. Among their plans appear to be a new Digital Desktop for certain Alinco, Icom, Kenwood and Yaesu radios. This would allow the use of a single USB cable to interface with select radios or a full version for MFJ, Kantronics or AEA Terminal Node Controllers. This in turn would permit faster access for emergency communications operators to their Packet TNC's.

As to when a new edition of Ham Radio Deluxe will be made available? Ruhl, who owns W4PC Software says to be please patient. A formal announcement will be forthcoming in the not to distant future. (W4PC via QRZ and Facebook)

WORLBEAT: SOUTH SUDAN TO MOVE ITS CAPITAL CITY

South Sudan's Information Minister Marial Benjamin says the new nation is planning to move its capital from the bustling but crowded city of Juba to a town that offers ample room to expand.

Marial Benjamin released a statement on Sunday, Septembr 3rd that said the government has secured more than 15 square miles of land in the town of Ramciel, which he says lies along the Nile River in Lakes State. The current capital of Juba, in the south, only allocated less than 2 square miles. Benjamin says the plan's implementation will take several years.

Deputy speaker Daniel Awet Akot added the new capital city is located some 150 miles north of Juba. The South Sudan became independent in July after a January referendum. It came to the ham bands with the ST0R DXpedition which racked up over 121,000 QS0's in its time on the air this past July 22nd through August 10th. The ARRL approved the ST0R operation for DXCC credit on August 5th. (Southgate)

1170. DX coming back - freeband galore

Hey, all! The DX is lighting up again. Been making some great contacts on 27.555 USB and other freqs but still monitoring 38 LSB on occasion and engaging in the hash and trash there. Might even spring for a new mobile linear this year, nothing fancy, 100 watts or so, just something to get me overseas like the last solar flux increase. Where the hell is everyone? I know Doug went to jail, Mopar is still hanging around on occasion, Jim, I know you're still around, I still get your jokes. Hope all is well to all my radio friends. Y'all take care now, y'hear? Catch you all on the freeband ... and for those round robin nights on the upper (or lower, you never know ... well, SOME know) freqs where "the club" meets, I'm baaaack! Twisted, Twisted and more Twisted, still having fun on the Galaxy and old-ass Ten-Tec. Watch out channel cops, I'm back and loaded for Toll Free communications. Wonder where the Davemade came from that arrived in my mailbox the other day? We'll see how it compares to my trusty old Palomars. Dave Hall, my beam is pointing your way. Listen for your call sign, dude. We can talk boat-to-boat, that is, unless DX still conjures images of sheer terrorism along with visions of incarceration for breaking invisible and imagined DX boundaries. Wouldn't want to be responsible any more than I am for what you already lost. Seriously, with Doug in jail and Dave getting old, you fellas ought to have plenty to talk about. Now let's get busy and start making worldwide noise. Hammie tickets? Not these days. Let it expire three years ago and open communications have never been more free. Click, click, click. Waving a hand up there, Frank! Drop me a line, you still have the address (no this is not it).

"Fuck the FCC! Fuck 'em I say." Grandpa Muenster, Al Lewis, RIP

1178. difficulty selling certain "CB's"- help!

Newsgroup: rec.radio.cb

From: "Dr. Evolution" <drevolution@handle.net> Message-ID: <j59vpi$r71$1@dont-email.me>

A good friend of mine passed away recently and, as an agreement as part of his estate, his wife directed me to sell his CB's, but I am having difficulty. I am trying to use eBay as selling medium. It seems like I can list his Cobra 148 GTL's and Uniden Grants (he had about ten of these!) and they are selling within a few days, but he has some other radios that I got a warning about not selling because they aren't CB's(?)(something like that anyhow). I tried listing them several times, but each time the auction gets cancelled. Since I have never been into radio, a brief Internet search shows these radios not meeting FCC standards. Radios like Superstar, and I think a Uniden 2500 (or 2510). His wife tells me that these radios would bring the most money, but I don't want to jeopardize my reputation on eBay. Is there any way to sell them or should I just give them back to her and tell her to keep but never use them? Thanks!

You could post a message on a few Yahoo groups like cbtricks and the_mod.
Ebay says you can't sell them because the FCC says they are dual-purpose radios and are not allowed in the US under part 95. Personally, I use a 2950 on 10 meters and f--- the FCC. The 2510 you could sell to a ham.

Any radio with a 40 channel selector knob with banks is a souped up CB.
VFO and memories is a ham radio, like a 2510, 2600 or 2950. My FT-857 can be made to cover CB, and that radio is legal. Why is my 2950 not legal?

Stupid. Just stupid...

I been to a few. Recorded 'em. Posted most of them.

Passed extra a few years ago, now I won't freeband anymore. I still use my CB, get on 10 meters and played with VHF SSB for the ARRL VHF contest a few weeks ago. Managed to squirt my RF off the 7th floor of a 6 story building all the way to Troy, NY, 280 miles away with a 3 element beam.
I need to make a 6 meter antenna, probably a halo, an omni flat side antenna.

RESCUE RADIO: RACES AND THE BOUNDARY WATERS CANOE AREA FIRE

Hams in Minnesota became a backbone of communications for several days. This as authorities continue to deal with a 145 square mile wildfire that began in mid-August from a lightning strike in a remote area of the state.

The fire is located in an area called the Boundary Waters Canoe Area. This is a very large region along the US and Canadian border in North-East Minnesota where no motorized equipment or vehicles are allowed. Generally, wildfires in remote areas such as this are allowed to burn out as a part of natures own forest renewal. This fire went for several weeks with no problem until a front came through with strong North-West winds and blew it into a lightly populated zone. That in turn brought out a massive firefighting effort.

In a recent news story, WDIO television interviewed Jim Anderson, N0JWA, about the involvement of amateur radio in this emergency. We caught up with Jim a few days later and he told us that hams from Lake County RACES were called out on Tuesday, September 13th when the evacuation of the small fishing town of Isabella appeared imminent:

N0JWA: "We been training with all types of drills or activities through the years and the real call came last Tuesday from the Lake County EOC and the Lake County Sheriff. So seven of our guys got their stuff together, grabbed their go kits and away they went."

--

Also sent to the area was the groups well equipped communications trailer:

N0JWA: "We also had a communications trailer that went to Lake County first and they were directed to go up to Isabella. We had hams located there in Isabella, and we also had them in Silver Bay and in Finland (Minnesota). And those were evacuation points."

--

Anderson told Newsline that a formal net was in place to handle health and welfare traffic:

--

N0JWA: "N0MR, he was in a city in-between Duluth and the fire area and he served pretty much as net control. I was on this end here in Duluth prepared to do wgt I would have to do in any calling-out or calling family members o let them know that their relatives, sons, daughters, mothers, fathers, whomever that were up in the fire area were OK."

N0JWA that he was preparing to drive up to the fire area to act as a relief net control when word came on Sunday, September 18th that the services of the RACES operators were no longer required. This was because it had begun to rain in the fire area.

Winter weather tends to arrive early in the Northern Latitudes. Hopefully, this seasonal change will help to quickly extinguish this rather fearsome blaze. (N0JWA, N0ZRD)

RESTRUCTURING: REGION ONE QRP CENTER OF ACTIVITY COULD CHANGE

The IARU Region 1 High Frequency Committee meeting minutes caused some alarm and confusion over the future of 7030 kHz as the Region 1 QRP center of activity. This relates to the discussion about moving the frequency, and possible further discussion at the Region 1 Interim Meeting in 2013.

It is important to note that these discussion points did not feature in the minutes of the final General Conference Plenary. The question as to whether 7030 kHz is the best frequency for the QRP center of activity was actually raised in the context of discussing a proposal from Germany's Deutscher Amateur Radio Club to change the 40 meter Contest Preferred Segment.

The High Frequency Committee decided that this change couldn't be done without first seeking the views of the Region 1 QRP community. Further discussion across IARU Region 1 is expected over the coming months and years. It's important to remember that any change in the Region 1 plan for any spectrum will in some way eventually impact on Q-R-P operations in Regions 2 and 3 as well. (IARU R-1)

DX NEWS: SPRATLEY ISLANDS OPERATION CANCELLED DUE TO SAFETY CONCERNS

Plans to activate Thitu Island in the Spratley group have been cancelled. This due to the deteriorating safety to life and property issues in the South China Sea.

Back in January, some 30 hams had planned to operate for three weeks from the Philippines controlled island using the call DX0DX. Due to the security concerns the DXpedition was put on hold. Now, the Team Leader VK3FY says that it's off for good.

The Spratlys which lie between Vietnam, China, Malaysia, Brunei, and The Philippines is a much sought DX entity. However, VK3FY indicates that having a responsibility for the well being of the operators, he has concluded that the risks outweigh the wants or needs of the hobby. Its well known that personal safety conditions in the region have been deteriorating over the past 12 months.

And we will have more DX news near the end this weeks newscast. (VK3PC)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: NEXT MANNED FLIGHT TO ISS WILL BE NOV 14

NASA and the Russian Federal Space Agency have agreed on a November 14th date for the first manned Soyuz rocket. This following the launch failure of a similar booster carrying a robotic cargo ship last month.

The decision follows an investigation by Russian space officials to identify the source of that failure and ensure it won't plague future launches. It also clears the way for a new three-member crew to launch on a Soyuz to the International Space Station, sustaining the orbiting lab's 10-year streak for a continuous human presence in space.

The two space agencies had temporarily suspended all manned Soyuz flights while Russian engineers investigated the August 24th launch failure that sent the Progress 44 spacecraft packed with food and supplies for the space station. That spacecraft crashed over Siberia shortly after liftoff.

As most listeners know, in the wake of last summer's retirement of NASA's space shuttles, the Russian Soyuz is the only means of transportation for people to and from the ISS. (Various reports)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: THREE ISS CREW MEMBERS RETURN TO EARTH

Meantime, another Russian Soyuz capsule carrying three returning Expedition 27 astronauts from the International Space Station touched down safely in central Kazakhstan on September 16th.

NASA astronaut Ron Garan, KF5GPO, and Russian cosmonauts Andrei Borisenko, RW7LFG, and non-ham Alexander Samokutyayev landed some 93 miles southeast of the city of Zhezkazgan at 10 a.m. their local time. This, after spending 164 days in space on board the International Space Station.

But during re-entry there were some rather tense moments due to a yet unexplained communications breakdown. Repeated calls to the Soyuz TMA-21 capsule from Mission Control outside Moscow, went unanswered for several minutes, well after the craft had de-orbited. Communication was eventually established between the crew and an Antonov fixedwinged aircraft circling the landing site.

Sergei Volkov, UA1OSS, Mike Fossum, KA5AQG and Satoshi Furukawa, KE5DAW, are serving as the current Expedition 29 crew aboard the ISS. (Various reports)

ENFORCEMENT: HAM FINED $17000 FOR MARITIME BAND INTERFERENCE

The FCC has told a Tennessee ham that he must pay a $17,000 fine. This after admitting that he transmitted without a license on a United States Coast Guard frequency. Amateur Radio Newsline's Don Carlson, KQ6FM, is in Reno with the details:

In an acation date September 20th, the FCC has affirmed a $17,000 forfeiture order issued to to David Edward Perka, KA3PRB, of Lewisburg, Tennessee. This, for willfully and repeatedly violating section 301 of the Communications Act by operating without a license in the Maritime Radio Service and maliciously interfering with the United States Coast Guard on the International Distress, Safety, and Calling Channel in Annapolis, Maryland.

This case goes back to the spring of 2008. At that time agents in the FCC's Columbia Maryland Office alleged that on April 6th and April 7th of that year David Edward Perka operated on Marine Channel 16 or 156.800 MHz, which is the International Distress, Safety, and Calling Channel for stations operating in the Maritime Radio Service.

The unauthorized transmissions on April 6th, 2008 consisted of Perka making threatening statements to the United States Coast Guard. The ones on April 7, 2008 consisted of tones from a Dual-Tone Multi-Frequency keypad.

Although Perka holds an amateur license, the FCC says that he does not hold any form of certification to operate in the Maritime Service. The FCC order says that Perka later admitted to FCC agents that the transmissions on April 6, 2008 were intentionally transmitted to harass the United States Coast Guard. .

On March 27, 2009, the Columbia Office issued Perka a $17,000 Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture. In his response, Perka admitted to the findings leading to the proposed fine. At the same time he requested a reduction based on his inability to pay.

In examining Perka's response, the FCC says that is required to take into account the nature, circumstances, extent and gravity of the violation. Also, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses and ability to pay.

The FCC says that its Notice of Apparent Liability issued to Perka specifically stated that a cancellation or reduction based on inability to pay will not be considered unless the petitioner provides certain specific documentation. The Commission says that the only documentation Perka submitted was a single unemployment check from the State of Maryland dated April 6, 2009.

After receiving Perka's response the Enforcement Bureau staff provided him an additional opportunity to submit the proper documentation. The regulatory agency says that while it has evidence that Perka received that letter, to date it has received no response. Based on this the FCC says that it has no basis for assessing Perka's financial situation
As such a forfeiture in the amount of $17,000 in this matter is warranted in this case.

Perka was given the usual 30 days to pay the monetary forfeiture or to file a further appeal. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: MAJOR REDUCTION IN FINE TO FLORIDA UNLICENSED BROADCASTER

And a follow-up to another case we recently reported on. This involving an unlicensed broadcaster in Florida named Fritzner Lindor who was caught operating on 94.7 MHz in the city of Orange Park.

Back in June 2010, agents from the FCC's Tampa office had traced an unauthorized signal on 94.7

MHz to Lindor's home. During a station inspection, the commission said that Lindor admitted he had purchased the transmitter and operated it without a license. He also admitted that he knew his actions violated the Communications Act.

Lindor was eventually issued a $15,000 Notice of Apparent Liability. In his response he did prove the fine to be a severe economic burden by submitting the required documentation. In the end the Commission agreed to a dramatic reduction in fine from $15,000 down to only $300. Lindor was given the normal 30 days to pay. (FCC)

RADIO RULES: FCC GRANTS CAP-EAS TIME EXTENSION

Broadcasters and cable-casters are issuing a collective sigh of relief. This, with word that the FCC has approved another extension for broadcasters to comply with the Common Alerting Protocol or CAP-EAS deadline.

The new deadline is June 30, 2012 and supersedes the previous compliance date o this coming Sept. 30th. An earlier deadline was extended in March of this year.

The announcement was made at a regulatory session at the Radio Show that was being held this year in Chicago. In its statement the FCC noted that no one can yet comply with the new E-A-S rules because the commission has not finalized all the key technical specifics necessary for receiving CAPformatted alerts. (RW)

RADIO RULES: W6TIA ON CAP-EAS PROTOCOL

Meantime, EAS expert Richard Rudman, W6TIA, blogs that FEMA has a plan for how broadcast stations will get domain names or I P addresses that they will need to program in to their Common Alerting Protocol or CAP encoders/decoders. These are the devices which will then "poll" the federal CAP message alerting system. That's how primary stations will get their EAS alert messages to be re-transmitted across the daisy chain.

Rudman says Antwane Johnson, who is the Division Director and Program Manager for FEMA's Integrated Public Alert and Warning or IPAWS System told him that a PIN will be assigned to each of the approved EAS equipment vendors. To receive a PIN, each vendor will need to e-mail FEMA IPAWS requesting the PIN and the structure of the Atom feed URL.

W6TIA adds that once final security checks have been completed, FEMA IPAWS will update the EAS community with the release of the domain names to be used by the broadcaster community. More about the Integrated Public Alert and Warning System and how it might affect you can be found online at www.fema.gov/emergency/ipaws. (RW)

HAM RADIO BUSINESS: HRD VERSION 5.1 TO BE FREE UPGRADE TO REGISTERED USERS

The version 5.1 release of Ham Radio Deluxe will be made available at no charge to registered users when completed. So say Mike Carper,WA9PIE, Randy Gawtry, K0CBH and Rick Ruhl, W4PC.

The trio announced last week that they had acquired the source and rights to the Ham Radio Deluxe suite of software from Simon Brown, HB9DRV. Since then there had been a lot of rumor on the Internet chat sites as to what would happen next.

A lot of that was cleared up with the release of a statement by Carper, Gawtry and Ruhl over the weekend of September 17th and 18th posted on Facebook and other websites. In addition to making version 5.1 a free upgrade to registered users, the trio say that they plan to continue improving Ham Radio Deluxe to keep it as the best ham radio package available.

Whether or not it will remain free after the release of version 5.1 was not discussed in their news release. Right now Carper, Gawtry and Ruhl say that they are in the process of building a development environment for Ham Radio Deluxe. They say that their main concern is to begin by addressing some of the bugs in the existing "To Do List" for the upcoming version 5.1 release. (HRD Team)

NAMES IN THE NEWS: KA3HDO RETIRES FROM NASA AFTER 36 YEARS

After an illustrious 36 year career with NASA, Frank Bauer, KA3HDO, has retired from the agency.

In his farewell note to his colleagues, Bauer said that for someone who dreamed about space exploration as a very young child and started at NASA when the Apollo program was in its twilight, it has been truly a pleasure to spend over 3 decades developing and operating systems as part of the NASA team. Bauer said that he has had what he called a phenomenal time contributing to countless Human and Robotic spaceflight missions, flight tests, technology experiments, pioneering systems, studies, formulations and on-orbit operations activities as well as numerous agency-level, U.S. Government and international strategies and initiatives.

In addition to his job with NASA, KA3HDO, had a parallel volunteer career as one of the leaders of the manned Amateur Radio in Space program. Among his many achievements was taking manned ham radio operations on-orbit from the now retired space shuttles under the SAREX operation over to the International Space Station and into the ARISS program.

Bauer, who stepped down from ARISS and AMSAT duties in March of 2009, had served as ARISS Program Leader and ARISS International Working Group Chair. Since 1991, he had also held the title of AMSAT Vice President for Human Spaceflight Programs.

In May of 2009 Bauer was presented with the ARRL President's Award for his many contributions to ham radio's part of mans exploration of space. (ANS)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: FUNCUBE GROUP MEMBERSHIP EXCEEDS 2000 In under a year the AMSAT-UK FUNcube Yahoo Group has achieved over 2000 members.

The group was created by Rob Styles, M0TFO, at the end of October 2010. Its purpose is to provide support for the AMSAT-UK FUNcube satellite and the FUNcube Dongle Software Defined Radio package.

For those not aware, the FUNcube satellite is an educational micro-bird project with the goal of educating young people about radio, space, physics and electronics. Once on-orbit, FUNcube will provide a strong 145 MHz telemetry beacon for the pupils to receive. The bird will also have a 435 to145 MHz linear transponder for cross band SSB and CW communications.

The target audience for FUNcube is school students age 8 to 18. Planners say that FUNcube will support the educational science, technology, engineering and maths initiatives. It will also provide an additional resource for the RSGB's GB4FUN radio communications demonstration van.

Information on the FUNcube satellite project is at FUNcube.org.uk. You can join the FUNcube Yahoo Group at groups dot yahoo dot com and using the search feature to locate the FUNcube group. (M0TFO)

THAT FINAL ITEM: LPFM DONATED TO ILLINOIS STATE UNIVERSITY And finally this week, students at Illinois State University are the recipient of a Low Power FM license given to the school by a religious broadcaster. Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, is in the nerwsroom with the details:

Some good news for the proponents of college level radio. On September 1st, the Federal Communications Commission approved the ownership transfer of WEWT-LP from Rock in Victory Ministries to the Illinois State University Foundation. This was accompanied by a change in call letters to WZND-LP. As a result, 103.3 MHz will be the Low Power FM voice of Illinois State University students with the potential of reaching nearly 75,000 listeners with its 83 watts of power.

It should be noted that college radio advocates have long been protesting the loss of student-run FM stations. On campuses nationally, cash-strapped colleges and universities are selling or leasing stations to outsiders. And as broadcast licenses and studio equipment are lost, at best, students end up with Internet-only stations.

At least in Illinois, that's about to change.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, in the Newsroom in Los Angeles.

And that's a nice way to round out this week's newscast. (Radio Survivor)

I'd like to see the text of such legal codes.

Once again, you show us what ignorant asshole you are.
Post the proof, asshole. Post a link to an actual state law.

Apparently, several states have proposed the banning of certain devices while crossing a street. But most of those are just proposals. The first one, in arkansas, was dropped because the guy said there wasn't enough backing.

It is ridiculous on the face of it. If your wristwatch is electronic, you could get a $200 fine for checking the time while walking.... Or, how about listening to a radio while jogging? Or using a heart rate monitor while jogging?

It all boils down to people in the legislature who have nothing new to write laws on. So they dream this shit up because of one person got injured from it.

A couple of years ago Ohio passed a real doozie.
If you own a dog in ohio, you have to set up an escrow account for the dog.

Ohio law: No train may pass until the other has.

I've read that many states are now outlawing walking while chewing gum.
This will directly effect Radioguy.
Next up? The new Wrigley's gum packages will soon come with a warning label, similar to those on cigarette packages that state, "Warning. Walking and Chewing Gum At The Same Time Can Cause Injury or Death."

The violation of this law is a simple infraction, but can result in a $25.00 fine and the confiscation of the gum.

1232. resources for obtaining classic Cobra 148/ Uniden Grant?

Recently getting back into CB after a 12 year hiatus. When I left, I sold my baby, a Uniden Grant. Seeing that Cobra 148's were still around, I purchased one from the local truck stop, but quickly found out that these Chinese made 148's are almost nothing like the originals in performance and the Uniden Grant is no longer made. I'd like to get one of the classic radios once again. I've checked out Ebay, but find the prices way too high. Any suggestions? Also, I had a Galaxy FC-347 attached to my Grant before, but now I see the latest model is the 347B. Will this still hook up to the Grant/ Cobra?

Thanks,

Yes, but it all illustrates a basic problem with our government. since the legislature is there to, "Paqss laws", they are not considered to be doing anything unless laws are passed. So, they busy themselves passing laws whether those laws are needed or not. In fact, there are way too many laws on the books now, and what the legislature should be doing is UN- passing laws, or getting rid of them. We need a law that says the legislature can't pass any law without first removing one of equal length first. And, they should get as many brownie points for removing a law as they do for passing a new one.

That's right. Walking and listening at the same time is forbidden.... As a matter of fact, listening in general might as well be forbidden. It has become a lost art.....

Ya know, I think I few western states still have on their books, that gentlemen must check their guns upon entering a bar. Or some such silly thing.
You might even find a law in a state that requires a vehicle being propelled other than by horses, to have an escort on foot waving a warning flag.

Well, these kinds of laws are quaint, and like artificts in a museum, do little harm. The laws I am talking about are modern concoctions that juswt restrict peoples liberties for no real reason, like the "cant walk with an electronic device" law. Every time some new law is passed, someone's freedom is restricted in some way. It the law also protects the freedoms of someone else, then perhaps it is a good thing. But when the law doeswn't protect anyones rights from transgressions by someone else, then I seriously question its constitutionality. As a libertarian, I am generally against any law that restricts one persons rights without protecdting those of someone else. The motorcycle helmit law is a good example of this. If I get into an accident with you, you are better off if I am not wearing a helmit. So whose rights does such a law protect? Of what business is it of society to be protecting my head? My head is my own business. If I want to break it, well whose going to be hurt by that? There will just be a little more air and water for the rest of the society. So, in general, I resent laws that protect me, or purport to protect me from myself and my own foolishness. That's not what I want my legislature to be doing. The ultimate, and obvious endpoint of such laws is to put all of us in padded cells for, "our own protection". That's why I call these kinds of laws, "Padded cell laws". IOW, I think we should all have the right to harm ourselves, as long as in so doing, we don't harm anyone else.

10 meters sure was.

I've did Italy, Germany, Australia, Puerto Rico and a few in Brazil in about half an hour.

If you want to schedule a contact on 10 meters or Echolink, email me your call sign.
Sorry, I won't do freeband anymore or initiate DX on 11, however, if I'm talking local,
I won't be rude and ignore you on 11 meters if I hear you.

It's no dream. Turn on your radio. Channel 19 was S9+ like it is whenever the skip is running. The A index doesn't affect 10/11 as bad as it does the lower frequencies. Just look for lots of 'spots and the solar flux to be up in the 100's. I also made a contact on the 12th to Chile. I'm not dreaming dood!

The A index is basically yesterdays K index. The K index is a prediction of the solar perturbations for the day.

http://dx.qsl.net/propagation/propagation.html

Right now the solar flux is 169 and the K index is 2. I'm going out for more!

You know what, I feel like a fool. One of the members of the household here unscrewed the coax days ago and I didn't realize it. No wonder I haven't been hearing anything. Please accept my apology. Jason Dodo occurs. Hope you didn't key up with no antenna. By the time I got back out to play, 10 and 11 had died. There's always tomorrow after work.

Good. And congrats on Australia. What frequency was it? What radio are you using, Scott?

No, I usually just leave the radio on with the squelch up a little almost all the time. I guess when some other members of the family here decided to clean, they unhooked and moved the radio while I was at work. They did this on Mon and I never discovered the coax on the floor until tonight. No key ups as I thought the bands were dead. I usually monitor 10, 11 and sometimes 12.

Right above the techie portion on 28.510. I'm using my old 2950 and I couldn't take being semi-QRP, so I brought out my 2x455 box. I turn the RF on the radio all the way down and use the low setting on the box.
Puts me up at the 100 watt level. The antenna is a Wilson 1000 this week. It's a beater car so I'm drilling.
Got my NOS ball mount from 1994, some new RG-8X and

What does your donation have to do with OS/2, Morgan?

not only swedish childrens BOOKS , also American childrens tv shows.
When I applied for a credit card, and clicked on the link for picking the picture I want on the credit card, and saw their rules, I found out the credit card company will not allow pictures from the childrens tv series H.R. Pufnstuf, because the credit card company considers it it a death symbol, too violent, and even the name is disallowed as it is conidered by the credit card company as a reference to illegal drugs and promoting illegal drugs, which is disallowed on their credit cards. Even when told it is a perfectly legal kids tv show, they disallow it as it is considered controversial since the name can be interpreted as referring to and promoting illegal druga, and nothing controversial is allowed on their credit cards eirther. They are afraid they will get arrested and imprisoned from some nimby worker at some other company taking them to court over those for offensive pictures and promoting illegal drugs if they allow anyone to have those images on their credit cards.
and you know what In this day and age, they are correct that the nimbys will try to take them to court and imprison them for that if they allow it. no matter that it is a perfectly legal kids tv shows. after all, the nimbys are already trying to force all the people living in non-hoa non-CC&r houses on non-hoa non-C&R land into suburgatory. And the terrible part is so far, they have been winning, even in court. I have already seen several such non-hoa non-CC&R properties get taken over by CC&R-laden hoas without the permission of the property owners-homeowners. land and homes which were non-hoa non-CC&R when purchased now have CC&Rs requiring hoas against the will of the purchasers who purchased them to get away from the fricking horrible hoas. This kind of takeover of non-hoa non-CC&R land by CC&R-laden hoas should NOTbe happening in America, yet it is, even though the U.S. constitution expressly forbids it from happening.
As for the credit card, no matter. I wasnt going to use any of the images from H.R. Pufnstuf anyway. In this day and age, the putrid police all over the country would use that as both probable cause and evidence of being involved in illegal drug activities and selling illegal drugs, even though I have done no such thing and have never done any such thing, and never will. and it is only pictures from an old Saturday morning childrens tv series.

RESCUE RADIO: FCC AND FEMA ISSUE PERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS EMCOMM TIPS TO THE PUBLIC BUT NEGLECT TWO-WAY RADIO

The FCC and FEMA have issued guidelines on what steps citizens should take before, during and after a local disaster, but no personal form of two way radio is included. Amateur Radio Newsline's Don Carlson, KQ6FM is here with the details:

In an FCC press release, Chairman Julius Genachowski said that when disaster strikes, the ability to communicate is essential. However, power outages and other issues can interfere with the way people ordinarily communicate, making it harder to reach loved ones or emergency services.

Genachowski noted that the FCC is committed to ensuring the public's safety through the reliability of our nation's communications networks. But there are also simple steps that consumers can take to prepare for a disaster as well as practical ways to better communicate during and after an event. As such, Genachowski encourages all Americans to become familiar these the new communications tips and share them with friends and family.

Also making a statement was FEMA Administrator Craig Fugate. He said that between the East Coast earthquake, Hurricane Irene, Tropical Storm Lee, and wildfires in Texas and California, the public has received a lot of powerful reminders that disasters can strike anytime. This in turn and can often make it difficult for the public to communicate with friends, loved ones or emergency personnel.

Fugate said that an important part of preparing for disasters includes getting ready for potential communications challenges. He called the new guidelines simple tips that are easy for anyone to follow and could make a world of difference when it matters the most.

Among the simple steps suggested by the two agencies is to keep charged batteries and car-phone chargers available for back-up power for your cell phone. Also to not rely on Internet based telephones that come with bundled services. This means having hard copper wire service between you and the phone company central office. Also, keep at least one non-cordless wireline phone in your home because in most cases it will work even if you lose power. Also have a battery powered radio or television receiver available along with some spare batteries.

It should be noted that personal communications services including 11 meter C-B, the Family Radio Service and Amateur Radio were not mentioned in the new tips jointly issued by FEMA and the FCC. There is no mention of having a set of inexpensive Family Radio Service in your home. Nothing said about owning a battery powered C-B radio set to the local REACT channel or getting to know a neighbor who is a ham radio operator that will likely have communications when all else has failed.

The tips do note that broadcasters are a strong source of time critical information but also note that citizens should avoid putting strain on easily overburdened wireless service networks by watching streaming broadcasts and other high bandwidth services.

RESTRUCTURING: REVISED REGION 1 HF BANDPLAN UNVEILED

A revised International Amateur Radio Union Region One High Frequency Band Plan has been published. The changes are minor, and affect only the 40 and 10 meter bands in Europe, Africa and the middle-East.

On 40 meters, the CW contest-preferred segment of 7 point 000 to 7 point 025 MHz has been withdrawn. In practice this means in practice that CW contests on 40 meters are no longer confined to the first 25 kHz segment.

On 10 meters the changes are to the FM portion of the band. This includes adjustments to the simplex channels and the addition of four new repeater channels. A copy of the new IARU Region One High Frequency Band Plan can be obtained at www.irts.ie/downloads. (IARU - R1)

HAM RADIO AND SCOUTING: JOTA 2011 - OCTOBER 15 - 16

Get Ready for Scouting's Jamboree on the Air. This year's JOTA takes place on October 15th and 16th. Amateur radio Newsline's Mark Abramovich, NT3V, is here with the details:

This international event is getting a big push this year from the Boy Scouts of America, which, in cooperation with the American Radio Relay League, has been promoting not only participation of Scouts, but ham mentors who have a great opportunity to become Elmers to the next generation of potential radio operators.

Jim Wilson, K5ND, is the national organizer for the Boy Scouts of America participation in Jamboree on the Air...

"Jamboree on the Air is the largest Scouting event in the world," Wilson explains. "Last year, the World Organization of Scouting Movement reported just over 700,000 Scouts participated in the event from just under 6,000 stations around the world."

This year, Wilson says the BSA and ARRL, have teamed up to boost U.S. involvement. And, so far, the numbers are looking pretty good.

"We have 76 stations registered and if we count up the number of participants that they're expecting at their event, we're right around 10,000," Wilson says.

Many of the American stations will be setting up at weekend camporees or jamborees with a big opportunity to introduce Scouts to the fun of talking on the radio, using a computer for PSK activity, or even talking to an astronaut.

"NA1SS, which is the International Space Station, is going to be on the air throughout the JOTA weekend," Wilson says. "Astronaut Mike Fossum (KF5AQG), who is also a Scoutmaster, is going to be on the air during breaks from his work schedule.

"And, they think he's going to be available most of the passes around the world. The uplink is 144.490 and the downlink is 145.800 megahertz. So watch for that. I think that will be pretty cool."

Wilson, is also the new trustee for the Boy Scouts of America K2BSA call sign. He says you'll hear that and other special call signs on during JOTA.

"K2BSA actually has authorized some operations in California, here in Texas, in Alabama,"

Wilson says. "A number of 1-by-1 call signs like W2H is out of the Southern New Jersey Council and there's quite a few others."

Wilson cautions that JOTA operators, in the excitement of the moment, have to also be aware of third-party agreements.

"We have some information on that on our website, thirdparty traffic agreements," Wilson says. "So, if they're talking with a particular country that doesn't allow thirdparty traffic, they do need to be cautious.

"The ARRL keeps that list up to date working with the IARU and so we link to that list and we warn them about those concerns because we don't want to get anybody into trouble."

Wilson says the best resource on JOTA right now is the BSA's own website, which contains all the right links.

"We offer a website with resources on there for Scouting leaders and for amateur radio operators to get involved in Jamboree on the Air," Wilson says. And that's at www.scouting.org/jota."

Look for KC3BSA, Venture Crew 59's station on the air from eastern Pennsylvania on JOTA Friday night and Saturday during JOTA. Stop by and talk to some of our Scouts.
For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Mark Abramowicz, NT3V, in Philadelphia.

If you have the time, please get on the air October 15th and 16th, and support this very worthwhile scouting and ham radio event.

RADIO LAW: GOP QUESTIONS FCC SPECTRUM GRANT TO LIGHTSQUARED

Opponents of the proposed LightSquared national broadband network operating adjacent to Global Positioning System or GPS frequencies have new allies. The Republican party.
Norm Seeley, KI7UP, has more in this report:

The proposed LightSquared high speed broadband network appears to be becoming a true political hot potato. This as the GOP raises the question of political favoritism in the FCC granting of a permit to the company to begin experimental construction of the system almost a year ago.

On Thursday, September 8th several leading Republicans questioned why the Federal Communications Commission fasttracked an initial approval of the LightSquared proposal. A company that the GOP claims to have ties among Democrats.
It also questions the use of spectrum that other agencies say disrupts GPS devices that are an integral part of hurricane-tracking systems, military and commercial airlines and millions of civilian users.

At a House hearing, Republicans criticized the FCC for not using its own engineers to examine whether LightSquared's technology posed interference issues. The agency admitted that it relied on tests run by LightSquared and the Global Positioning System supply industry. But the FCC has defended its process, saying it has led to better understanding of an emerging technology.

Republican lawmakers note that the FCC gave a crucial green light this past January for LightSquared to begin building its system without a full commission vote. This, despite warnings from companies and federal agencies that the satellite network would harm communication systems essential to national security and public safety.

An FCC spokeswoman added that the agency granted expedited approval for LightSquared's proposed national broadband system only on the condition that the company resolves interference problems with GPS providers and other technologies.

But GOP lawmakers and members of a coalition formed by the GPS industry noted that the spectrum used by LightSquared was never intended for cellular telephones or other broadband devices. Rather back in 2002 the FCC granted a license to LightSquared, then known as SkyTerra, on the condition that its primary business would be to provide services for satellite phones.

With Republicans and Democrats in Congress at odds over just about every issue, the LightSquared proposed broadband communications system could find itself trapped in a long and very bitter political power play. (Published News Reports)

ENFORCEMENT: UNLICENSED STATION IN PUERTO RICO FINED $15000

The FCC has issued a $15000 Notice of Apparent Liability to Eleuterio Lebron of Guayama, Puerto Rico. This for operating a radio station without Commission authorization to be on the airwaves.

After receiving an interference complaint this past June, agents from the San Juan office traced the source of radio transmissions on 88.5 MHz to a building in the city of Guayama. They then made measurements and determined the signals exceeded Part 15 operation limits. During a station inspection, Lebron confirmed over the phone that he owned the station. He then told the operator on duty to take the station off the air.

In issuing its decision to fine Lebron the FCC said thathe controlled the station's operations, and the agency found that he willfully operated the station in apparent violation of the rules. Because the operation occurred on more than one day, the regulatory agency also found that the apparent violation was repeated.

The base fine for operating a station without a license is $10,000. Because Lebron had been warned verbally and in writing illegal back in February 2010 that operating a station without a license was, and continued to operate the station anyhow, the commission tacked on another $5,000, bringing the total fine to $15,000.

Lebron was given the customary 30 days to pay or ask to have the fine cancelled or reduced. (FCC)

THAT FINAL ITEM: COME AND JOIN US ON THE AIRWAVES REVISITED

And finally this week, the story of a music video about ham radio. It title is "Come and Join Us On The Airwaves" and it was written and performed by Andrew John Huddleston, OZ5E. Andrew, along with his wife Lissa Ladefoged, are country music devotees who live in Aarhus, Denmark, and are likely best known simply as The Ham Band. This, as a result of their 1994 CD of amateur radio related songs simply titled "Seek You."

About a decade ago, Andrew and Lissa produced a ham radio video titled "Come And Join Us On the Airwaves." The video features Andrew in a tuxedo atop a 100 foot high tower and Lissa at the 60 foot level performing the song while un corking a bottle of Champaign. Unfortunately, when the video was posted to YouTube, the technology of the day did not do justice to the visual content. Now with the advent of High Definition video on the YouTube site, that has all changed:

OZ5E: "The original version of the video that we uploaded to YouTube wasa actually quite good quality. I would say medium quality. It was viewed by about 18,000 people which I thought was quite impressive.

"And then the strangest thing happened. Some other people; I think two or three other individuals, have uploaded really low quality versions of the video (with) the wrong aspeact ratio and rotten sound and these versions have been viewed by no less than half a million people. So we thought to put the High Definition version out there so that people can see that our (ham) radio station is a very, very pretty one."

Comparing the original posting to the new upload by Andrew using true 720p high definition video is breathtaking. Especially when you look past the singers on Andrew's tower and gaze at the splendor of the Danish countryside where it was produced. It's so sharp and crystal clear that its as close as one can get to being there. You can experience the new Hi Definition "Come And Join Us On The Airwaves" on YouTube. Just use the shortcut of tinyurl.com/ham-song.

The groups website is in cyberspace at www.hamband.com. And less we forget to mention it, everyone seen on the tower was using safety gear. (ARNewslineT)

Can't believe an antenna out there almost has this name :). Really though, I lost my Wilson 1000 in a crash (antenna destroyed) but don't have the funds for a new 1000. How does the Little Wil compare? I know the whip isn't as long as the 1000, but....

Thanks for your opinion.

RESCUE RADIO: FCC STUDY ON FUTURE QUICK DEPLOYMENT EMCOMM RELEASED

The Federal Communications Commission is looking at ways to take emergency communications to new heights. In this case we mean altitude above mean sea level. Amateur Radio Newsline's Norm Seeley, KI7UP, has the details:

The FCC has released a study detailing some possible steps to insure reliable communications for first responders in times of natural or man-made disaster or any form of communications crisis.

Technologies mentioned include small unmanned aerial vehicles that fly to an altitude of 500 feet and support a single frequency band for cellular services.

Also being looked at are weather balloons acting as repeaters to carry multiple frequencies longer distances, high-altitude, long-distance unmanned vehicles providing a greater payload at specific locations and suitcase systems placed on low-flying aircraft to be used as repeaters.

The release outlines a few specifics on the potential uses of Deployable Aerial Communications Architecture or DACA. The DACA could be deployed within 12 to 18 hours following a disaster. Its minimum goal would be to restore necessary lines of communication for a period of 72 to 96 hours.

The release says that the system would restore cellular services for wireless priority service, Government Emergency Telecommunications Services, and 911 as well as public safety communications.

The paper notes the required cooperation of FEMA, the FAA and federal, state and local authorities on the coordination of spectrum usage and prevention of interference to and from a Deployable Aerial Communications Architecture system.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm, Norm Seeley, KI7UP, watching the developments in this emerging technology from Scottsdale, Arizona.

RESCUE: CUT TELECOM CABLE ACTIVATES ARES IN BENTON COUNTY MISSOURI

According to news reports, the Benton County Missouri Amateur Radio Emergency Services was called in to provide communications support early in September. This, after a cut telecommunications cable isolated the Johnson County 911 Center in the town of Warrensburg.

The Benton County hams worked with their counterparts in Johnson County quickly establishing reliable communications so that 911 calls could be handed off to Warrensburg officials for dispatch. About 15 calls were transferred and the amateur radio operators handled. At least one was of life-critical situation.

Radio amateurs remained on duty at their respective centers, until the local telephone company fixed the cable problem at 9:30 AM the next day, said Johnson County Emergency Management Director Gloria Michalski, who referred to the operators as "awesome."

The Benton County ARES group is made up of 14 active volunteers. Hey all donate their time, use their personal equipment and pay their own expenses to serve where needed. They often coordinate their efforts with the Emergency Management Center in Warsaw, Missouri. Yiu can read the entire story of this ham radio emergency response at tinyurl.com/missouri-ares-response. ARRL BRIEFS WHITE HOUSE STAFF ON AMATEUR RADIO'S CAPABILITIES DURING EMERGENCIES

The ARRL has gone to Washington, once again. This time at the invitation of White House Cybersecurity Coordinator Howard A. Schmidt, W7HAS.

On September 12th, the ARRL briefed several members of the National Security Staff on the capabilities of the Amateur Radio Service to communicate in emergencies. According to Schmidt, the White House is looking for ways that the work of Amateur Radio operators can continue to support emergencies in the future with particular attention to increased use and dependency on Internet-based technologies.

The ARRL presentation was conducted by Emergency Preparedness Manager Mike Corey, W5MPC along with President Kay Craigie, N3KN, and Chief Executive Officer Dave Sumner, K1ZZ. It focused on Amateur Radio's current and evolving capabilities to provide Internet messaging connectivity. (ARRL)

WORLDBEAT: NETHERLANDS BECOMES PRO-ACCTIVE TO STOP NON CERTIFIED TRANSMITTERS FROM ENTERING THAT NATION

The Netherlands will soon be a rather unfriendly place for those wanting to bring non-certified radio transmitting gear into that nation.

According to Media Network, the Dutch Radiocommunications and the Dutch Customs Agencies have pledged to cooperate in tackling the trade of illegal broadcasting equipment in Europe. The goal of this collaboration is to stop at the border the import of transmitters that do not comply with European regulations.

Through cooperation with Customs the plan is to prevent these transmitters entering the Netherlands, or being marketed and used elsewhere in Europe. Once in Europe, there is freedom of movement of goods between European Union member states, so other countries are also working intensively with their respective customs authorities.

There is also a close watch on devices being sold on the Internet. The Dutch Radiocommunications Agency says that it is working with eBay and the nations domestic site Marktplaats to counter the trade of what it terms as hazardous transmitters. It also is cooperating with the supervisory authorities of other European Union member states, the United States and Canada in this area.

The agency says that this proactive approach is more effective than enforcement actions against retailers later when the transmitting devices already for sale. (Media Network, RadioMagazine.nl)

ENFORCEMENT: $15000 NAL REDUCED TO $450 FOR NEW ORLEANS AREA CB OPRERATOR

A New Orleans area CB operator has had a proposed $15,000 fine reduced to $450. This after appealing the initial Notice of Apparent Liability back to the FCC. Amateur Radio Newsline's Bruce Tennant, K6PZW, is here with more:

Last June 7th the FCC Enforcement Bureau's New Orleans Office issued the $15,000 Notice of Apparent Liability to one John Hays of Bourg, Louisiana..this for allegedly operating his Citizens Band transmitter without the requisite Commission authorization.

As discussed in detail in the NAL, the proposed fine was issued after it was determined that despite verbal and written warnings by agents of the New Orleans Office, Hays continued the unlicensed and overpowered operation of a CB transmitter attached to a linear amplifier from his place of residence.

In his response, Hays acknowledged to the FCC that this was a very serious matter and he had not taken it lightly. He also stated he had made the changes to his station to bring it into compliance with the Commission's rules.

At the same time Hays requested cancellation or reduction of the proposed forfeiture because he lives solely on social security benefits and as a result he could not afford to pay the proposed $15,000 fine. He also supplied the FCC with the required documentation to show that it would be a severe hardship to pay the full amount.

After reviewing Hays appeal, the FCC concluded that the forfeiture should be reduced to $450. This, it said, was an amount within the range determined by the regulatory agency to be affordable by Hays. And as the fictional Captain Luc Piccard of Star Trek - The Next Generation might say in a situation such as this, the FCC made it so.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Bruce Tennant, K6PZW, way out West in Los Angeles.

As you likely have guessed, Hays was given the customary 30 days to pay the now very much reduced fine. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: TEN INDONESIAN BROADCASTERS ORDERED OFF THE AIR DUE TO INTERFERENCE TO AIRCRAFT COMMUNICATIONS

Several non-government radio stations have been shut down in Indonesia. This due to safety concerns at two major airports. Amateur radio Newsline's Jim Damron, N8TMW, has the details:

Indonesia's Communications and Information Ministry, through the Batam office of the Satellite Orbit and Radio Frequency Monitoring Agency has banned 10 licensed private radio stations in the city of Batam. This, for impacting on flight safety at Changi Airport in Singapore and Hang Nadim Airport in Batam.

Agency head Muhammad Sopingi told The Jakarta Post that the ministry's Directorate General of Post and Telecommunications had received letters of complaint in June from the Singapore and Hang Nadim Airport flight authorities about a radio communication interruption between pilots and air traffic controllers. This was found to be caused by what the regulatory agency called the frequency synchronization problems caused by the radio stations in Batam. During takeoffs and landings, pilots often heard songs aired from radio stations rather than air traffic guidance from from controllers and making for a dangerous situation to life and property.

Sopingi told the newspaper that a study is being conducting on whether it is feasible for any or all of the stations to return to the air after the technical difficulties have been worked out.

I'm Jim Damdon, N8TMW, reporting.

According to Media Network, some 200 employees of the 10 stations have already lost their jobs as a result of the closures. (Media Network)

RESCUE RADIO: STORM ALERT XTREME TRAINING CLASS NOV. 12 IN BIRMINGHAM ALABAMA

If you are a ham radio operator in Alabama and involved in emergency communications, listen up. The annual ABC 33/40 storm spotter training known as Storm Alert Xtreme, is coming to the Birmingham Jefferson Civic Center on Saturday November 12th.

Brian Peters, WD4EPR, who has qualified over 6,000 Alabama storm spotters during his days with the National Weather Service, will be doing the instruction. All existing Skywatchers are asked to attend for their annual "re training", and anyone that wants to join the team needs to be there as well.

This severe weather training event is free, and there is no need to pre-register. Planners think that because of the massive tornado outbreak last April 27th that they may easily top their record turnout of last year.

Also, those who do attend will be given free entrance into the Alabama International Auto Show after the training at the same venue. The planners of Storm Alert Xtreme say that this is being made possible thanks to the Birmingham Automobile Dealers Association.

Again, the date for this free severe weather training class for residents of Alabama is Saturday, November 12th, at the Birmingham Jefferson Civic Center. Planners say that they hope to see you there. (WO4W via Facebook)

REPEATER NEWS: VA3XPR - THE NEW VOICE OF DOWNTOWN TORONTO CANADA

Since repeaters tend to come and go, we do not usually report on their birth or demise unless they represent something special. And in the case of a new system in Canada, one could say that its license holder is pioneering a new aspect in ham radio relay communications.

On September 25th, a new voice with the call VA3XPR was added to the Amateur Radio community of downtown Toronto, Canada. What sets this repeater apart from others in the greater Toronto area is its unique purpose that might be best described a very local coverage system. While most system owners tend to find the highest spot and cover as many miles as is possible, Don Trynor, VA3HFT, decided to create a system with three simple objectives in mind. According to Trynor's posting on QRZ.com, these are to create a sense of community and promote diversity within the St. James Town and adjacent neighborhoods of Toronto; to act as a catalyst for education and learning promoting the growth of amateur radio; and to provide an alternate means of communications in the event of an emergency or natural disaster in the downtown Toronto area.

If you live in or near Toronto or are passing through, the VA3XPR repeater can be accessed on 441.950 with a positive offset and with a PL tone of 100.0 Hz. In addition to its excellent coverage area, it also provides its users with access to IRLP and Echolink for global communications. For more information on the VA3XPR repeater, please visit www.qrz.com/db/va3xpr (VA3XFT, QRZ.com)

RADIO IN SPACE: ROSAT EXPECTED TO FALL FROM THE SKY IN NOVEMBER

The next major bird to fall from orbit will likely be the Roentgen X-Ray Observation Satellite better known by the acronym ROSAT.

At the start of its mission, ROSAT was in an elliptical orbit at distances of between 585 and 565 kilometres above the surface of the Earth. Since then, atmospheric drag has caused the satellite to lose altitude. Last June it was at a distance of only about 327 kilometres above the ground.

As was the case with UARS, The time and location of re-entry of ROSAT cannot be predicted precisely. Right now scientists and astronomers expect the X-ray satellite to re enter in early November. At present, this date can only be calculated to within plus or minus five weeks. This time slot of uncertainty will be reduced as the date of re-entry approaches. However, even one day before re-entry, the estimate will only be accurate to within plus/minus five hours.

ROSAT was an orbital X-Ray observatory making observations at that very high wavelength and radioing the data back to Earth. You can keep up with the latest information on its upcoming firey demise at tinyurl.com/another-falling-bird (KC6WFS, ROSAT Website)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: AMSAT ISSUES ARRISAT-1 CHICKEN LITTLE CONTEST REMINDER

And not to be left out of the proverbial sky is falling arena, AMSAT says that it is still looking for entries in its latest Chicken Little Contest. This to calculate or guess when ARISSat-1 falls out of orbit.

According to AMSAT this is defined as the moment that the decaying orbit of ARISSat-1 it crosses an altitude of 78 kilometers. This is considered to be the point of no return back into space.

AMSAT has created three categories in its contest. First is a student category for Kindergarten through 8th grade. Next is a second student category for high school grades 9 through 12 while the third is for everyone else.

Submissions must contain the UTC date in the format of day, month, year, hours, minutes and seconds along with your personal contact information. Adults and individual students should include their name and amateur call sign, if they have the latter. Submissions are limited to one per person or group. The closest predictions in each category will be recognized for their achievement.

The ARISSat-1 Chicken Little Contest closes on October 15th at 23:59 UTC. Send your submissions by e-mail to chickenlittle (at) arissat1 (dot) org. (ANS)

ON THE AIR: CELEBRATING ARMENIA'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF INDEPENDENCE

To celebrate the 20th anniversary of the independence of Armenia, amateur radio special event stations there have been authorized to use the special prefix E-K-20. A special award is being offered to those working at least 20 QSO's or making 20 SWL loggings of these special event stations on allof whom will be operating on the various High Frequency bands including 30, 17 and 12 meters. Modes in used will be CW, SSB and Digital. QSLs for these special prefixes may be sent to: P.O.Box 22, Yerevan, Armenia 0002, or as directed on the air. An electronic version that you can print at home is available by sending a log extract of the contacts or reception reports to ek7dx (at) yahoo (dot) com. (Southgate)

DX

In down to Earth DX news, DL3OCH will be active as 5N7Q from Abuja, Nigeria, through October 15th. His operation will be on 40 through 10 meters using one of the largest fully rotatable short wave broadcast antennas in the world. It has a gain of over 20 dbi on all bands. Modes are CW and SSB. QSL via DF8DX.

Members of the Lufthansa Amateur Radio Club in cooperation with the Qatar Amateur Radio Society will be operational as A71DLH between October 22nd to the 29th. Their activity will be on all bands using CW, SSB and the Digi modes. QSLs via the DARC Bureau or their QSL Manager DL0LH.

W5JON will again be operating as V47JA from his vacation home located at Calypso Bay on St. Kitts, in the West Indies. This from October 10th until November 5th. John's His QTH is 300 feet from the Caribbean Sea in Grid: FK87. Activity will be on 80 through 6 meters including 60 meters running SSB only. Also listen out for him during the CQ World Wide SSB contest on October 29th and 30th. QSL to W5JON either direct or electronically using Logbook of the World.

THAT FINAL ITEM: NASA SWIFT SPACECRAFT SEES STAR EATING BLACK HOLE

And finally this week, astronomers say that a monster sized black hole shredded a sun-like star, producing a strangely long-lasting flash of gamma rays that probably won't be seen again in a million years. Amateur Radio Newsline's Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, takes it from here:

According Joshua Bloom of the University of California Berkeley, the inter-stellar happening was first seen on March 28th by NASA's Swift spacecraft, which is searching the universe for gamma ray bursts. This particular flash has lasted more than two months and is still going on as we go to air.

In a recent media interview, Bloom explained that this is definitely not the norm for gamma ray bursts. Those are energetic blasts that typically flare up and end in a matter of seconds even or milliseconds, and often the sign of the death throes of a collapsing star.

What makes this even stranger is that the black hole, located in the constellation Draco about 4 billion light years from Earth, was sitting quietly when a star about the mass of our Sun moved into range. Bloom noted that this was a black hole which was otherwise quiescent and suddenly had an impulsive feeding frenzy on this one star.

Thanks to the Swift spacecraft, data on this very rare space phenomenon which otherwise have gone un-noticed was discovered radioed back to Earth.

From the newsroom in Los Angeles, I'm Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, reporting

Researcher Bloom figures this type of inter-stellar encounter may happen once per black hole every one million years. (Science OnLine)

CRIME: HAM KILLED IN SEAL BEACH CA. MASS MURDER

A Seal Beach, California, ham was the innocent victim of a mass murderer. On Wednesday, October 12th, Scott Dekraai is alleged to have opened fire in a hair styling salon where his ex-wife was a stylist. She and eight others were killed in the rampage. One of those was David Caouette, N6DAC, who was sitting in his vehicle near-by as the gunman made his escape and shot him for no apparent reason. Amateur Radio Newsline's Joe Moell K0OV has what is known so far.

N6DAC probably didn't know Scott Dekraii. He was simply in the wrong place at the wrong time. The unfortunate 64-year-old father of three had stopped for lunch at a Seal Beach diner and was sitting in his Land Rover in the parking lot when Dekraii came out of the hair salon and opened fire on him.

David was a ham who loved off-roading in his Land Rover with a group of fellow hams. They remember him as a mellow guy who was always ready to blaze a trail and always ready to help others. In the Orange County Register, Ed Testa KI6OJV tells the story of how David stopped to help a fellow driver whose vehicle was disabled by a snapped Rod. N6DAC spent four hours figuring how to get that new friend back on the road.

A memorial and tribute to N6DAC took place on October 17 at the diner where he died, with many of his friends in attendance.

The 41-year-old Dekraai was scheduled to enter a plea on October 15th to eight counts of capital felony murder and one count of attempted murder. But the arraignment was postponed until November 29th after his lawyer asked for time to assemble a legal team. Prosecutors say they will seek the death penalty for Dekraai. Meantime some local Los Angeles area news reports say that the alleged gunman may have suffered from Bi-Polar Disorder and could plead not guilty by reason of temporary insanity. RADIO LAW: CEPT TO PROPOSE NEW 500 KHZ AMATEUR BAND AT WRC 2012

According to a bulletin issued by the Irish Radio Transmitting Society, a small allocation of about 15 kHz in parts of the 500 kHz band for the amateur radio service will be proposed at the next World Radiocommunications Conference to be held in 2012. This, as a proposal by the European Conference of Postal and Telecommunications Administrations, better known as the initials CRPT.

According to the Irish Radio Transmitting Society bulletin, this proposal has been made by a project team of about 50 representatives of European governments and other stakeholders in preparation for WRC12. The decision to proceed followed an invitation of the Federal Network Agency in Germany for a meeting that was held at the end of September in Mainz. The discussions there led to a compromise in the size of the amateur radio band, namely 480 kHz to 472 kHz, with a maximum effective radiated power of five watts. If approved, this allocation would be on a secondary basis to any and all current users. (Southgate)

RESCUE RADIO: HAMS IN THAILAND RESPOND AS FLOODS HIT THAT NATION

Hams in Thailand are now first line emergency responders. This as massive flooding rages across parts of that nation. Amateur Radio Newsline's Norm Seeley, KI7UP, has the latest:

The death toll from the most devastating flooding to hit Thailand in over 60 years has now risen to near 300. This, following monsoon rains that have swept across that nation since late July.

Amateur radio has been assisting with flood relief communications by helping victims in the affected areas. As we go to air, Thai hams are using the Radio Amateur Society of Thailand club station HS0AC and have also set up shop at a special flood relief centre at Bangkok's Don Mueang Airport operating as HS0AB. Take a listen:

Actual Thai emergency communications audio.

Locally, Thai hams are operating on VHF on 144.900, 144.9375 and145.000 MHz. World-wide, Thai emergency flood relief operations are on 7.063 and 7.060 MHz in the 40 meter band. If you happen to hear what sounds to be emergency communications on those two frequencies it is best to remain clear of them.

So far, nearly three million people in 26 out of the country's 77 provinces are said to have been affected by the disaster that has caused serious damage to that countrys agriculture and industries. Damage so far has been assessed at more than 20 billon baht or 6 million United States dollars. Meantime the city of Bangkok is bracing for a large amount of run-off water that is about to reach the it and which will coincide with seasonal high tides that will make it harder for the flood waters to flow out to sea. And with the volume of water and continuing rainfall, this emergency, and ham radio first response efforts are both likely to continue for days if not weeks to come.

A video showing activities at the special flood relief amateur radio station at Don Mueang Airport is on line at tinyurl.com/Thai-flood-hams. Also, United States hams are being asked to refer all inquires from local or national media to ARRL Media and Public Relations Manager Allen Pitts, W1AGP. Allen is in contact with those handling relief operations in Thailand and will have the most accurate information. His e-mail is w1agp (at) arrl (dot) org. (HS0ZDX, VK3PC, RAST, ARRL)

RESCUE RADIO: VK HAMS ASSIST IN HUNT FOR AIRCRAFT MISSING 30 YEARS

A group of amateur radio operators from Sydney, Australia, recently took part in a multi-agency search and rescue exercise in a remote area of New South Wales. This, to help in the continuing search for a small plane that is believed to have crashed some 30 years ago with its pilot and four passengers on board.

The single engine Cessna aircraft had the tail identification of VH-MDX. It had had taken off from Queensland for a flight to to Sydney's Bankstown airport when its pilot identified as Michael Hutchins radioed that he was experiencing severe turbulence. Also that the plane had been hit by lightning and he could no longer determine its orientation. To make matters worse, the wings were icing up and despite his best efforts, the Cessna was losing altitude. The aircraft then disappeared from radar and all communications ceased a few minutes later.

For thirty years since the accident, teams of volunteers have returned to the area to walk and climb their way through every piece of unsearched landscape in the hope that somebody will discover a piece of wreckage or spot something that helps to ends the riddle of VH-MDX. The regions that have been searched are marked off on a large map, so further unsearched areas can be checked the following year.

For the safety of the volunteer searchers, each of the six teams carried one vhf or uhf handheld radio and a portable 2-way High Frequency transceiver. Packed in a rainproof canvas box, the H-F sets included a short wire antenna that would work using skywave or N-V-I-S propagation. This, to contact any of several radio command posts set up and manned by WICEN of New South Wales. WICEN is a volunteer organization of licensed Australian amateur radio operators who donate some of their time and expertise to emergency communications to benefit the community much the same way that ARES members do here in the United States. Other groups helping with the search this year included the Bushwalkers Wilderness Rescue Squad, the New South Wales Police Rescue Squad, the New South Wales Volunteer Rescue Association and several others.

At the time of its disappearance the Cessna's four passengers were New South Wales Police Inspector Ken Price, who was traveling with Noel Wildash, Phillip Pembroke and Rhett Bosler. Search aircraft sent to the general area could find no sign of wreckage, and there was no smoke or fire to guide them. Several intensive land searches were also lunched but to date, no wreckage of the plane and the remains of its five occupants have been found. At airtime, the search is expected to resume sometime next year.

HAM RADIO NUMBERS: 700,000 HAMS IN THE USA

Figures released by the American Radio Relay League say that the number of United States hams now stands at a record high number of 700,000. According to ARRL V-E-C Manager Maria Somma, AB1FM, the number of Technicians peaked in March 2011 at 342,572, while September 2011 saw both Generals and Extras each peak respectively in their number of license holders.

In issuing her report Somma noted that as new Technicians earn their amateur radio licenses, and current Technician licensees move on to General and Generals upgrade to Extra, this can cause up-and-down fluctuations for the totals. None the less, Somma says that for the first time, there are more than 700,000 radio amateurs in the United States. (ARRL)

RADIO SCIENCE: LOW FREQUENCY GRANT ISSUED TO K4LCD AS WF2XXQ

The FCC has issued an Experimental License grant to Juan Granados, K4LCD, to operate on 130 kHz and 500 kHz with the callsign WF2XXQ. The permit is valid until October 1, 2016 and is tied to the ongoing Very Low Frequency Amateur Radio Experiment. More is on-line at tinyurl.com/4235u7s (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: ANOTHER UNLICENSED FLORIDA BROADCASTER DINGED WITH $10000 NAL

Posting information about his unlicensed station on the Internet could cost its alleged owner and operator $10,000. This after the FCC issues a Notice of Apparent Liability in that amount to one Neal Davis who the regulatory agency says operated such a transmitter from an a commercial property in the city of Ft. Lauderdale.

The case goes back to earlier this year. On January 21st, March 8th and March 10th agents from the FCC's Enforcement Bureau's Miami Office T-hunted the source of radio transmissions on 96.1 MHz to a location in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. While monitoring the station on March 10th, agents heard a male voice identify himself as "Shawty Pimp." On the same date, the Fort Lauderdale Police Department executed a search warrant at the commercial property and found Mr. Davis operating what it described as Disc Jockey equipment.

After the location was secured, agents from the Miami Office inspected the premises and found an unlicensed radio transmitter displaying 96.10 MHz. They also observed a Facebook page for "Nintysixonefm Realsideradio" on a laptop and an envelope addressed to Neal Davis near the equipment.

An agent from the Miami Office subsequently found information on the Internet advertising 96.1 FM, including a phone number that the FCC office previously heard broadcast on 96.1 MHz and information for a Disk Jockey that goes by "Djshawtypimp." Mr. Davis was identified by the agents as D J "Shawty Pimp" by comparing a photograph found on-line to that on Davis's Florida driver's license.

On October 17th, the FCC issued the $10,000 NAL to Neal Davis based on the information and documentation that it discovered during its investigation. Davis was given the customary 30 days to pay the proposed fine or to file an appeal. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: FCC ORDERS DETROIT FM TRANSLATOR OFF THE AIR

The FCC has ordered Radio Power, Inc. to take translator W284BQ in Detroit off the air. This due to unresolved interference to co-channel WIOT(FM), in Toledo, Ohio.

WIOT licensee Citicasters identified nearly 30 complaints from listeners within the station's protected contour describing difficulties in receiving the station in their cars and homes. In July, the FCC gave Radio Power 30 days to resolve all the interference complaints or suspend operation. Radio Power did try to resolve the interference, including modifying the antenna to suppress radiation to the south.

Nevada-based Radio Power, Inc. offered those listeners a smartphone with an iHeartRadio application installed, enabling the listeners to receive WIOT programming over the Internet. However the phones require a paid data plan to run iHeartRadio which WIOT considered to make this an unworkable solution and did not solve the interference.

For its part Radio Power disagreed. It argued that the use of a smartphone improves the reception of WIOT and eliminates the interference.

But it was the FCC that had the final word. In its order released on October 17th, the regulatory agency said that providing a smartphone to complaining listeners does not solve over the air interference. Also that Radio Power's attempted remedy does not fulfill its obligation to suspend operations until the interference has been eliminated.

The FCC's order to take W284BQ off the air is effective immediately. More is on-line at tinyurl.com/translator-interference-fcc. (RW, FCC)

RADIO SAFETY: LARGE FINE PROPOSED IN INDIANA TOWER ACCIDENT

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration has proposed a $91,500 fine for tower company ERI. This for alleged safety violations in connection with two tower related fatalities.

As Indiana's Lafayette Journal and Courier reported, two men fell some 340 feet and died in April while helping to build a 500-foot tower for the WASK Radio Group. Now, in its initial findings, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration says the men were exposed to fall hazards while riding the pole connected to the jump line of the gin pole. A gin pole is a vertical assembly used in the construction of towers to assist in raising and lowering such a structure.

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration also claims the two workers were not provided with adequate fall protection when accessing the man-basket and that load limits were not properly marked on some of the crew's equipment.

In reply, ERI President Tom Silliman said that some of OSHA's initial findings were incorrect and claims that the report is being revised. He added he could not comment until final determinations have been made.

According to the initial findings, the proposed fines can be appealed. (B&C)

WORLDBEAT: US TESTS TO BE HELD IN COSTA RICA OCTOBER 28

An ARRL Volunteer Examination Coordinator exam team will be holding an examination session in Costa Rica for United States amateur radio licenses. The tests will be administered on Friday, October 28th at 9:00 a.m. local time in the city of La Guacima, Alajuela.

The fee for the exam is $14, which is the same as on U.S. soil. It entitles the applicant to take exams and receive credit for as many test elements as he or she can pass that day. This includes those elements required for higher grades of license.

This may be the last opportunity to take a United States exam this year anywhere in Central America. Those interested should contact Carlos Diez, TI5KD, via e-mail to ti5kd10 (at) gmail (dot) com as soon as possible to make arrangements and to reserve a seat. (Via e-mail)

WORLDBEAT: AMATEUR RADIO FEATURED AT IAC2011

Amateur Radio was featured in several papers presented at the 62nd International Astronautical Congress held in Cape Town South Africa. This, for the first time since the formation of the International Astronautical Federation way back in 1951.

Several papers highlighted Amateur Radio involvement in satellites and in the search for extraterrestrial intelligence. A paper by Dr. Jakobus van Zyl and Johann Lochner, ZE6CBC, both engineers at SunSpace, covered a global geographical survey of received signal's strength in the VHF band.

Another report was on the data collected by the South African SumbandilaSat that had provided useful information for selecting future ground station locations for minimum interference. The study also gives an indication of frequencies to use for command and telemetry communication at existing ground stations. (SARL)

NAMES IN THE NEWS: NR6AV NAMED 2011 DISTRICT COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER OF THE YEAR

Some names in the news. First our congratulations to Ray Avesian, NR6AV, who has been named as the 2011 District Communications Officer of the Year at the Los Angeles County Disaster Communications Service Semi-Annual Meeting. In selecting him for the honor it was noted that Avesian has worked diligently to bring the Disaster Communications Service program at Temple Station District 5 closer, and using his experience as a successful coach, to build a team of dedicated amateur radio operators.

The Temple Station Disaster Communications Service District 5 serves a very large portion of Southern California's San Gabriel Valley. This includes the communities of Temple City, Rosemead, Bradbury, Duarte, South El Monte, and the unincorporated areas of Monrovia, Arcadia, South San Gabriel, East Pasadena.

The Meeting honoring NR6AV was held at the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department Sherman Block Headquarters Building in Monterey Park, California. (KE6VRL)

And while we do not talk about it much on these newscasts, as we go to air this week the Amateur Radio Page on Facebook has garnered some 717 friends. And we just want to pause for a moment to thank James Pastorfield, KB7TBT, of Lavonia, Georgia, who stepped up just after we created the page and offered to maintain us for us.

Like everyone else in our Amateur Radio Newsline family, James is a volunteer. In this case one of those very special people that makes it possible for us to have an active presence on one very special aspect of social networking on the World-Wide-Web.

If you are on Facebook but are not a follower of the Amateur Radio Newsline page, we invite you to join us. Just use the search bar on Facebook to locate us and join in. We would love to have you with us over there.

Also, for those wanting home computer delivery of the text version of these weekly newscasts, we invite you once again to join the Amateur Radio Newsline group on Yahoogroups. You can also use the site to find archived scripts going all the way back to the year 2001. Just use the standard Yahoogroups sign up procedure to obtain a yahoogroups account then locate and join the group called ARNewsline.

Either way, we hope to continue to serve you in cyberspace as well as on the air. (ARNewslineT)

CHANGING OF THE GUARD: TELECOMMUNICATIONS LEADER ROBERT GALVIN OF MOTOROLA - SK

One of the greatest leaders in the world of telecommunications has left the scene. This with the passing of Robert Galvin, the man generally credited as putting the name Motorola on the map. Chris Boone, WB5ITT, has the story of this industry giant who affected lives world-wide:

Robert W. Galvin, who took the reins of Motorola from his father and built a family-run business that pioneered Depression era car radios and wartime walkie-talkies into a global maker of color television sets, cellphones and other ubiquities of the electronic age has died.

From his days as a stockroom apprentice in 1940 to the midlife pressures of the executive suite and his retirement-in-name-only as chairman in 1990, Mr. Galvin spent his working life with Motorola, leaving it only for military service in World War II. By the time he stepped down, he had transformed the company from a moderately successful postwar enterprise into a high-tech international giant in a fast-changing, highly competitive business.

In the three decades after Mr. Galvin took control in the late 1950s, annual sales leaped to $10.8 billion from $290 million. Motorola, based in Schaumburg, Ill., built factories, hired thousands of workers, expanded its products and set high standards for innovation.

Galvin was the force behind a company that forged trends in radio, television and integrated circuits for computers and other products.

Robert William Galvin was born in Marshfield, Wis., on Oct. 9, 1922, the only child of Paul and Lillian Guinan Galvin. He grew up in Chicago, where his father and uncle had founded the Galvin Manufacturing Corporation in 1928. The company had begun by making battery eliminators. Devices to plug radios into electrical systems in homes and cars. Radios were originally battery-operated. By 1940, Galvin Manufacturing had evolved into America's premier maker of car radios and two-way radios, called Handie-Talkies which became a Motorola trademark. After World War 2 broke out they became walkie-talkies, and the Army bought $10 million worth. Galvin also prospered in government contracts for radar systems.

In 1947, the company changed its name to Motorola, a fusion of motor and Victrola. It also set up a profit-sharing plan for employees - one of the first in the country to do so. During the Korean War, Motorola made mobile radio equipment and began to develop microwave-relay communications systems.

Mr. Galvin became president in 1956 and took over day-to-day operations from his father, who was chairman and chief executive until his death in 1959. Robert succeeded him in both posts, and in the 1960s embarked on new paths: guided missile designs, space communications, radios for ships and aircraft, components and integrated circuits for TV sets, car ignitions and hundreds of other products. Motorola produced the first hand-held mobile phone in 1973 and later dominated the cellphone hardware business.

Mr. Galvin gave up Motorola's chairmanship in 1990, but continued for more than a decade to serve on its board and advise his son, Christopher, who succeeded him in 1997.

At airtime, it was not known weather Robert Galvin had been an amateur radio operator. According to both the QRZ and FCC databases, there was no issued amateur radio license for Robert W. Galvin who was truly one of the pioneers of two-way and telecommunications products throughout the world.

WORLDBEAT: YAHOOGROUP FORMED TO DISCUSS THE RSGB'S FUTURE

Concern over the Radio Society of Great Britain's accountability and the way it's been conducting itself recently appears to have prompted a new discussion group on Yahoo Groups from White Rose Radio. On its opening page the group says that the site is open to all radio amateurs and interested parties in relation to the RSGB proposals on its proposed reorganization of its governing body.

The White Rose Radio group claims that its purpose is to maintain the RSGB as a democratic, accountable membership organization. It also suggests that the RSGB is in reality a business whose singular purpose is to defend and protect the privileges enjoyed by radio amateurs within the UK.

Recently, the RSGB announced plans to hold what it called an Extraordinary Membership Meeting to discuss and vote on changes that would effectively remove most of its current Board of Directors and replace them with experts in various fields of corporate governance. At the same time its looking at various methods to enter a period of what might be best termed as fiscal economic measures to help it weather the current world economic climate.

You can follow the discussion on line by joining the new discussion group at groups.yahoo.com/group/whiteroseradiouk. (Southgate)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: UOSAT 1 LIFE CELEBRATED

Surrey Satellite Technology Limited has celebrated the 30th anniversary of the orbiting of Surrey's first satellite, UOSAT-1. Launched into orbit on October 6th 1981, UOSAT-1 was designed and built by a team from the University of Surrey led by its founder Sir Martin Sweeting, G3YJO.

UOSAT-1 was also known as UOSAT-OSCAR 9. It was a scientific and educational Low-Earth Orbit satellite containing many experiments and beacons but no amateur transponders. The satellite remained fully operational until it re-entered October 13, 1989 from a decaying orbit after nine years of service on-orbit. (ANS)

THAT FINAL ITEM: NASA KEPLER SPACE PROBE DISCOVERS INVISIBLE PLANET

An invisible planet, which has not yet been seen by eye has been discovered by scientists using NASA's Kepler spacecraft. The discovery was possible thanks to a companion of the unseen planet. Bill Pasternak, WA6ITF, is in the newsroom with more:

--

According to astronomers, the planet named Kepler-19c really cannot be seen, but it makes itself known by the way it influences other planets through its gravitational force.

The invisible planet has tugged at its partner the visible Kepler-19b planet, slowing it down and then speeding it up in its transition.

The Kepler space probe locates planets by looking for a star that dims slightly as a planet transits the star, passing across the star's face from the space probes point of view. Transits give one crucial piece of information regarding the planet's physical size. The greater the dip in light, the larger the planet relative to its star. However, the planet and star must line up exactly for Kepler to see a transit.

The visible Kepler-19b has a diameter of 18,000 miles, making it slightly more than twice the size of Earth. It reportedly transits its star every 9 days and 7 hours. It orbits the star at a distance of 8.4 million miles, where it is heated to a temperature of about 900 degrees Fahrenheit.

The invisible planet named Kepler-19c has multiple personalities that are consistent with the data found according to Daniel Fabrycky of the University of California at Santa Cruz. Fabrycky says that it could be a rocky planet on a circular 5 day orbit, or a gas-giant planet on an oblong 100 day orbit.

Currently the astronomers know very little about the new planets. The Kepler spacecraft will continue to monitor and radio information back to Earth regarding the twin Kepler-19's throughout its mission. This in hope of gathering more information about the invisible Kepler-19c.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Bill Pasaternak, WA6ITF, quite visible in the Newsroom in the City of Angels.

It should be noted that years ago astronomers discovered the planet Neptune in the same way. While tracking Uranus they noticed that its orbit didn't match predictions. That led to the later proven theory that a more distant planet might be nudging Uranus and calculated its expected location. (IB Times, Space.com)

Mark suffers from a severe gender identity crisis.
One day he is "straight", the next day he is bisexual, and the next day he can't decide.
Our synopsis? ANY guy who has sex with another male is a homosexual. A faggot.
A Queer. A cocksucker.
And Gav? Mark has "outed" her as being equally as messed up as he is.
One day she is a Jew, another day she is a self-proclaimed Witch, and the day after that she is outside having conversations with rocks. She is, according to Mark, also a fellow bisexual...who'da ever guessed?

This pair of dysfunctional clowns belong together. What is it about the dregs of society traveling in the same circles?
Obviously, losers find fellow losers...

Mike's Excursion into the Extreme

by Jay Lieberman

"Are you sure about this?"

The man's curt interrogative cut through Mike's lust-induced euphoria. Sitting here naked, in front of these three middle-aged men, his small cock hard with anticipation, Mike was at a loss for words. Here he was, it seemed, after all the time cruising chat rooms and personals ads, which he had just about given up on producing anything but geeky try-hards who just wanted to masturbate over his frank replies, then ran a mile when he suggested a meeting. Then he'd seen the ad posted by the three stern-faced, hard-bodied men standing over him, where he sat on the cold stone basement floor. Their ad had been short, sharp and to the point-

"Wanted- a boy who is prepared to give all to his Masters. Nothing ventured, nothing gained. Time wasters will be ignored. If you think you have what it takes, get in touch."

A day later, he had replied, then spent two weeks awaiting their reply. After the first week he had written them off as just another group of (or more likely an individual) the same pretenders he'd been almost driven to giving up by. Why was it so damned hard to find men, real men, who knew what they wanted from a willing sub and weren't afraid to go for it? Then- you've got mail, and he was astonished to find a detailed reply, almost three pages, including a photo of the bottom halves of three hairy, stocky well-endowed men, their erect cocks twice as long as his own small penis. Excited, he devoured their reply immediately, reading their terms, their needs, their conditions and what he would have to do to convince them he was genuine.

Mike's face had paled at some of the activities they suggested; he had always considered himself a pretty open-minded sub, he'd had his share of bondage, fisting, enemas and role-play. But these guys were the real McCoy. Totally extreme, the sort of people he had heretofore only dreamed about meeting. Fighting down a rising sense of apprehension, and fear at these three men thinking he was a lying pretender, he made the vow in his reply that he demanded, and included his phone number and a rather poor quality scan of his face, taken from an old ID photo.

Another two weeks passed, and Mike spent most of the time fretting and imagining what sort of reaction he would receive. Then another email, this one only two lines. It was an address, and a phone number. They wouldn't ring him; it was his duty to do the work. It also included a date and a time- the date was today's date, the time 3 hours from when Mike finished work. He couldn't concentrate on his work, so he took the afternoon off, and went home, showering and douching while he tried to screw up the courage to ring.

At around seven o'clock, he grabbed his touchdial phone and hurriedly jammed in the number, which was from across town. He made two mistakes, and on the third attempt finally got a ringing phone, which was promptly answered by a rather irritated elderly lady. He hung up in her ear, calmed himself down, and slowly dialed the number, pausing between each number. The phone rang... once... twice... three times... four ti-

"Hello?" The voice was thickly accented; German, perhaps, or maybe Dutch.

"Ah... is this... er I mean... do you... I'm the guy you emailed..." Mike cursed himself at his clumsy opening.

"Email? What's that?" The man barked, and Mike almost dropped the phone.

"Er... your email... it said to ring this number... I...."

"Ah, you want Franz. Hold on." The man bellowed out the name, and Mike could hear footsteps approaching on the other end of the line. The phone was dropped, then picked up again.

"Ja? Kann ich ihnen hilfen?" This accent was also Germanic, but softer, almost seductive in its quiet, even tone.

"Ah... your email... phone... I mean, I was trying to phone..."

"You are Mike, ja?"

"Yes. Yes, I'm Mike..."

"Are you canceling?" Franz's tone became cold, disappointed.

"N-No- I, well you put the phone number in the-"

"Well then I expect you at eight. Bring a change of clothes, you will be here for a while."

The phone was slammed back into the receiver, and Mike started. Trembling slightly, he once again cursed himself, and rose to get ready. Pausing to grab a clean shirt and pair of jeans, he threw them into an overnight bag, and headed out.

Arriving shortly after eight (traffic was bad, as always) he looked up at an impressive three storey house, in one of the city's exclusive suburbs. A neatly trimmed lawn framed the structure, a neo-Georgian affair which showed signs of the excellent skill of the artisans who crafted it. The large wooden door had a huge bronze knocker, which Mike chose to ignore, rapping instead on the door with his bare knuckles.

A beefy man in his late fifties answered it, admitting the nervous Mike, who felt as if his stomach was about to implode. Without saying a word, he looked him up and down, and escorted him down a short hall, to a set of stairs, where they both headed down. Downstairs was the basement where Mike now sat, and it was in that room that the other two men, around similar age as the man who had admitted him, awaited his arrival.

Mike gazed around himself, as he had when he arrived. The room contained several chairs, a metal table with straps at each corner, a rack, and rows of rather nasty looking implements. Leather restraints dangled from metal hooks set in the ceiling, while the floor was of bare concrete, cold on his naked behind. They had ordered him to strip upon arrival, and had stashed his clothes in a locker. Now the three of them, wearing white towels about their waists and nothing else, stood observing him calmly.

"Again I ask, are you sure about this?" The question was asked again, by the man Mike assumed was Franz. He was a stocky German, in his late forties, and had been in the dungeon when Mike was led downstairs by who he assumed to be the other man he had spoken to on the phone. The third man was the youngest, and leanest, although he was still quite stocky. He had not spoken a word since Mike arrived.

Mike looked directly up into Franz's cold grey eyes, and nodded once. He was certain; it might not seem it, but he had dreamed of such an encounter his whole life. He had engaged in activities to enhance his submissive role; his body was totally devoid of hair, even his groin, and both of his nipples were pierced. His slender, youthful frame didn't look capable of withstanding much punishment, however, and maybe this was why the man was hesitating.

"Gut." Franz nodded, and without another word dropped his towel. The other two followed suit, revealing penises that were impressive even flaccid. Beckoning Mike to his feet, they led him to the metal table.

Franz issued a series of instructions to his two companions, who he referred to as Hans and Helmut, who complied with grunts. Mike was placed face up on the table, which rose on an angle as he lay down, so he was lying at an angle of 45 degrees. His arms and wrists were bound, while his legs were spread widely, and placed in high stirrups, so he lay as if squatting low on the ground. His naked hairless anus was fully accessible, as the men desired.

Franz glanced down at Mike, toyed briefly with his penis, then strode to the nearest rack. Fetching an item down, he returned, and bid Hans to clasp Mike's testicles. A leather band was slipped round the balls, and fastened tightly by a metal stud. Mike winced, but said nothing, as his balls were constricted painfully near the base. Satisfied, Franz returned to the rack, and fetched a blindfold. Without asking, he wrapped the blindfold around Mike's head. This was followed by a ball gag, which was rammed unceremoniously into his mouth, and tied tightly. Mike struggled a little, and earned a stinging slap on his constricted balls. Moaning, he lay still, scared beyond belief, and yet also aroused beyond belief.

Mike heard a jar being opened, and then a creamy substance was smeared around his naked anus. Two thick fingers slipped in, coating the inside walls of the rectum with the greasy lube. Mike made a muffled noise at the unexpected intrusion, and was ignored. There were no safe words here, no turning back; they wouldn't harm him permanently, but by the terms of his contract he had ceded total authority to them for the session.

The fingers dug a bit deeper, then were withdrawn. Mike heard a satisfied grunt, then felt the fingers smear the substance on his chest. Someone grabbed his nipples and twisted them harshly; Mike arched from the table and made a muffled squeal. The twisting was intensified, and accompanied by several stinging slaps directly on his balls. Mike moaned through the gag, and the nipples were released. The men moved around, whispering to each other in their own language, and Mike awaited the first onslaught.

It came soon; Franz fetched a large rubber dildo from a shelf, roughly eight inches long, and the width of a beer bottle. Rubbing the end of the dildo against Mike's shaved hole, he uttered what almost sounded like a prayer, and began to roughly insert it, not pausing once. Mike thrashed and squealed as the latex intruder powered into his rectum, stretching the anal opening wide as it invaded. Pausing two-third of the way in, Franz yanked it back out, and thrust it in again. He proceeded with this rubber fucking, each time going a little deeper on re-entry, until finally the tip of the dildo came into contact with Mike's second sphincter, forcing it open painfully. Mike was not inexperienced in deep anal probing, and no real harm was done, but it was swift enough to cause even an experienced bottom a fair amount of pain.

Hans tore a strip of gaffer tape from a roll and slapped it over the dildo, keeping it rammed into Mike's stretched hole. Making a guttural noise, Hans moved to Mike's head, which was at waist height, and removed the gag. Mike was totally unaware of who was who, and didn't know whose cock he felt pressed into his face as he gasped for air. The cock was forced into his mouth, and began to swell to its full eight inches. Mike gagged and made a muffled sound, and it was withdrawn slightly, only to be shoved back in again, driving down his experienced throat. After two more thrusts, Hans' hairy balls slapped against Mike's chin as his cheesy dick invaded his throat.

Mike gagged as he vigorously sucked at the dick, the bitter taste of the cheese under Hans' foreskin an unexpected factor. But he was determined to perform, and began to relish this humiliating oral rape, taking the invader deeply, sucking at its impressive girth. Hans began to moan, and grabbed at Mike's nipples, twisting them as he thrust vigorously into his new slave's mouth. After a few more sharp thrusts he began to come, thick stringy ropes of semen spurting down Mike's throat. Mike swallowed the strong, salty cum thirstily, and continued to suck the softening cock.

To his surprise, the cock did not withdraw. Instead, he felt it twitch in his mouth, and then a gush of hot, bitter urine flooded his cum-soaked mouth. Gagging, Mike began to swallow the strong piss, to avoid choking. His face reddened and his breathing became irregular as he struggled to take all of this man's salty urine. Hans took a little pity and withdrew slightly, allowing Mike more time to swallow. But he was going to swallow every drop, as he vowed. Mike gulped and gulped until no more came, then gasped for air as the smelly cock was withdrawn. His head spun as he fell back, exhausted.

But the three men were far from done. Helmut, irritated at being left out thus far, clambered onto the table, placing his large, sweaty, hairy balls at the entrance to Mike's cum and piss soaked throat. Mike felt the pressure, and opened wide to admit them, sucking and nibbling the smelly testicles as his nose was driven into Helmut's unwashed anus, the strong smell of shit and sweat almost overpowering.

Helmut grunted as he masturbated while he sat on Mike's face, his strong man odors almost overpowering the young man. With a gasp he came quickly, aroused by Mike's expert oral work on his balls. Cum spurted in thick creamy gobs from his cock, splattering Mike's chest and groin. Muttering, Hans shifted his position so that his anus was now directly over Mike's mouth, and moaned anew as Mike's experienced tongue snaked out to lick at his hairy hole.

Mike smacked his lips as he licked hungrily at the hole, his tongue probing deep, coming back with a light brown smear as it encountered Helmut's shit. With a little panic, Mike realized suddenly what Helmut had in mind, but before he could think about it a small turd began to slide out, the slimy brown excrement sliding down Mike's tongue and into his mouth. Mike choked the shit down, trembling with nausea, but he managed to overcome the natural urge to puke his guts out, and managed to devour two more small turds, chewing on them and swallowing as the next came.

Satisfied, Helmut leapt off his toilet and grinned down at Mike's shitcovered mouth and nose. Rubbing his hair affectionately, he said something in German, then moved away. Franz had been happy observing up till now, and when Helmet dismounted he moved forward, standing next to Mike's head.

"Do you like our gifts, Michael?" He spoke in soft, seductive tones as he stroked his eleven inch shaft.

"Yes..." Mike was lost in a wave of pleasure mixed with nausea, and could barely think straight.

"I like how you devour our piss and our shit. You will be a good slave, Michael." Franz's voice trailed off, and he moved to the foot of the table.

With a sudden movement, he yanked the tape off the dildo and tore it free from Mike's now-gaping hole, admiring how clean it was, as Mike had recently douched. Placing it aside, he sat down on a stool between Mike's legs, and lightly slapped his balls while he worked a couple of fingers into the wide hole, the lube dripping out like someone's enormous load of cum, recently deposited.

Working the fingers in gently, he slowly added a third, then a fourth, and then finally the top joint of his thumb, twisting and thrusting as Mike gasped and groaned. Franz noticed he wasn't gagged, and nodded to Hans. Hans assumed Helmut's position, and forced his hairy asshole down on Mike's mouth, releasing a large, solid turd as Franz forced the widest part of his large hand into Mike's hole. Mike made muffled sounds around a mouthful of shit, and Franz drilled deeper, his probing fingers soon encountering the second ring of muscle.

Hans began to get hard again as Mike lapped at the shit tainting his hairy hole, and Franz penetrated the second sphincter with a greasy digit. Mike moaned and tried to say something. Franz barked something in German, and Helmut grabbed Mike's balls and squeezed them hard. Mike squealed like a pig, and then quieted. Helmut gave the balls a good twist, then a slap. Hans laughed, a cruel sound, and farted into Mike's face. Mike cried out again, and Franz added two more fingers to his internal invasion.

Franz's face was creased as he concentrated on achieving maximum depth without seriously hurting the young American. He knew by now Mike was no stranger to fisting, and was determined to go the distance with the slave. Mike made more weird sounds as Franz began to work on forcing his hand past this troublesome barrier to serious anal penetration. With a sudden thrust, he was through, past the widest part, and Mike's anus began to suck at his arm, pulling it in despite Mike's pleas for mercy.

Onwards Franz drove, past the hardest obstacle, deeper into the gaping hole that would most likely never be quite the same again. He managed to get his arm in up to just before his elbow, then made a final shove and achieved his goal. Mike was beside himself in a mixture of pain and pleasure, and didn't seem to notice as the piss of Hans and Helmut rained down on his constricted genitals. Cum spurted from his own small cock as the pleasure peaked, but Franz didn't notice or care.

With a sudden motion, he yanked his arm free, a wet sucking sound accompanying the pop it made as it came out, soaked in lube and traces of shit. Nodding, Franz repositioned the hand, and thrust back in, hard. The first punch fuck tore the breath from Mike, and he gagged and choked. Hans leapt off, not wishing to asphyxiate the young man, and Mike made ragged breathing noises as Franz, undeterred, began to roughly punch fuck his new slave, drawing almost all the way out, only to return to elbow depth with full force. Hans and Helmut were both hard again, and were jacking off into Mike's mouth, which was by now a shit pit, stained with feces and cum. Stringy gobs of semen leapt from their large tools into his gasping mouth; he licked at them and swallowed hungrily as Franz jackhammered into his gaping anus.

Mike was sure this was it, for him, but was still in for more. Hans waved a broken capsule under his nose, and suddenly he was euphoric, renewed with energy, and more relaxed than ever. He began to get hard again as Franz punch fucked him, and began to thrust back. Nodding, Franz paused, and a new pressure was added to Mike's anus. In shock, he realized the man fisting him was going to force his second hand in. Begging and sobbing, his pleas fell on deaf ears (in actuality, Mike would have hated himself later if they had taken him seriously) as Franz forced his second hand into the ravaged asshole, stretching it to insane proportions as he drove in with both hands.

Mike screamed now, as they hit the second sphincter, and his head lolled in delirium. Franz powered on, forcing first one hand through, and then part of the second. This was it for Mike, who came again while screaming for mercy. Helmut let fly with another stream of piss, and Hans belted Mike's balls with a birch rod. The second hand couldn't quite force the sphincter without serious repercussions, so Franz left it where it was, driving deeper with the other, then yanking both out, leaving Mike's permanently enlarged asshole gaping, its muscles totally extended. Mike was in tears now, as the fists continued their relentless assault.

Franz removed one hand then, and began to masturbate, pointing his huge cock at Mike's anus, which was too stretched for any fucking. With a grunt, he came, his come pouring into the wide hole, his other hand pushing the creamy goo deep into Mike's bowels.

"And thus I impregnate you, my young slave. Erotic, isn't it?" Franz grunted as he emptied his load into Mike's bowels, his other hand making sure every drop was forced as deep as possible.

Mike couldn't remember what came next; the second round of toilet servitude, the mounds of shit in his hair, in his mouth, or Hans shoving handfuls of his own shit up Mike's gaping, cum-filled hole. He had come several more times, during the next four hours, as the three men repeatedly worked him, every one of his holes filled with piss, cum and shit.

It was early morning when they untied him, and carried him to a soft bed, where he was washed and allowed to rest. When Mike awoke the next morning, the three men were awaiting him, hard dicks in hand, and bowels full of a mess that needed a warm mouth to harbor it.

Torture and Conversion
By RedRight

It was fucking awful. I hung in a pit, in a man-shaped rubber bag of shit. The sewage was up past my knees now.

Every hour or so one of the rubber clad skins would come in and repeat their little ritual. He'd always be carrying a bit of food, and it always smelled good. One time it'd be pizza, the next a cup of soup. He'd get down, right in my face and tell me the rule, "Allright fuckface, simple equation. You eat shit you get food. You don't eat shit, you don't get food." Then he'd sit on the rim seat over my head. I'd get a blast of strong poppers up the tubes in my nose and then he'd shit.

I could easily duck my head to the side, it was my choice. If I ducked the shit would hit me on the chest, or my back, or my shoulder. If the shit was dry it would just bounce off me, usually leaving a sticky smudge, and fall down into the bag, raising the level of the scum around me another fraction of an inch. If the shit was wet, I'd get sprayed and the wet slime would drool down me - slowly. With my hands bound to the sides of the bag, down in the pit there was little I could do. Sometimes they'd leave the fragrant food behind, always within sight. I could smell it too.

I didn't eat the shit. I didn't get the food. Hunger built. By itself, that wouldn't have been enough, but then came the show...

It was probably the third night of the ordeal. One of the skins came in and threw down a dirty wrestling mat. He came back and set several large candles around the room, lit them, and put out the lights. Moments after he left I heard two more of them coming down the hall. They were drunk, or high, or both. Rough-housing with each other, they stumbled into the room.

It was hard to tell these two apart. Both had shaved heads, muscles, and dark eyes. Both wore rubber chaps and tall rubber boots. One had a skull tattoo on his shoulder and the other had a flaming sword on the cheek of his ass.

Skull threw Sword against the wall and simultaneously kneed Sword in the balls and kissed him hard, really grinding their faces together. I could see Sword writhe from the blow to his balls, but he leaned into the kiss too. At the same time, his hands reached around and grabbled the cheeks of Skull's ass, squeezing hard, leaving marks.

Skull slowly worked his face down Sword's front side. He paused at the tits, gnawing on them until Sword tried to pull away. Skull shoved him back against the wall hard and continued down. By the time Skull got down as far as Sword's cock, he'd dropped to his knees. I could see he had Sword's cock deep down his throat and, at the same time, had a crushing grip on Sword's balls. Sword pressed himself back against the wall, lost in the pleasure and the pain. "Aw fuck... Aw fuck yeah..." he quietly chanted to himself.

"Fuckit," Skull said, and grabbed Sword by the waistband of his chaps. Roughly, he threw Sword to the mat, straddled him, and got his face back between Sword's legs. Skull's butt was pointed at Sword's face and slowly, as he sucked, Skull sat up. Just as Sword's dick slid out of his mouth Sword sat up and dropped his ass on Sword's face.

"Suck it, bastard," Skull said. Sword went at it. He reached up and grabbed Skull's waist and pulled the ass to him like a starving man.

Somewhere along here, my dick got hard. The shit was just sloshing up to the bottom of my balls now. If I thrashed around a bit I could get some of the slime up onto my cock for lube and barely rub my cock against the side of the bag. It was scant stimulation. Just enough to tease. Somewhere about here too, the poppers started to flow again. Before they'd just come with the shit, but now they flowed freely.

Skull lifted his ass off Sword's face. The narrow gap between the round cheeks of the ass and the sharp profile of the face was illuminated by the light of a candle against the opposite wall.

"You wanna eat, fucker?" Skull asked. Sword squirmed and whimpered softly.

"Come on fuck, you wanna eat?" Skull coaxed again.

"Feed me..." came a soft cry from Sword.

"Can't hear you dickwad!" shouted Skull.

"Feed me," Sword repeated.

"Tell me what you want, bastard!" Skull screamed in Sword's face.

"Feed me you bastard! Feed me your fucking shit!" Sword screamed back, matching his volume.

"Good boy," Skull cooed softly, stroking Sword's face and body.

Again, Sword sucked Skull's ass. He sucked for just a half a minute and then laid back, mouth open. I watched the gap intently, my dick just as hard and at attention as those of the men I watched. Some part of my head loved what I was seeing.

The shit started to flow. There was no mistaking it. Chunks of shit were falling out of Skull's ass and into Sword's waiting mouth. I watched, transfixed and hard-dicked as Sword first let the shit pile up in his mouth and then visibly chewed and swallowed. It didn't go down without a fight - several times I saw Sword's flat abs clench as he retched. Nothing came back up though. What he swallowed, he swallowed for good.

I could smell the rank odor and I could hear the mushy sound of Sword chewing it down. Softly, Sword moaned as he chewed. Mouthful after mouthful went down his hungry throat. As he ate his back arched and his hips thrust his stiff prick up into the air reflexively. He needed relief. Smiling, Skull reached out and grabbed Sword's dick in one hand and balls in the other. Sword's moans increased tenfold. Skull was gently stroking Sword's dick and roughly mauling his balls. With the pain and pleasure kept in the right balance I knew Sword would stay hard but never reach the release of cumming.

Soft farts from Skull's ass signaled the end of his dump. I heard loud burps from Sword as he kept trying to swallow the thick coating of shit lining his mouth and throat. As I watched I tried to imagine the heavy thick paste going down my own throat.

Finished shitting his load into Sword's mouth, Skull dove on Sword's dick, once again deepthroating it. Sword's body locked into an arc as if hit by a high voltage shock. Every muscle on his lean body stood out in relief. His screams of pleasure were near deafening in the small room. His hips slammed up hard into Skull's face and Skull kept sucking his hard dick.

I was dizzy with poppers, lust, and need. When the two of them collapsed, spent, I nearly cried. They were just a few feet away, but I could get no release.

They laid there panting. Slowly their breathing evened out and they seemed to sleep. I think I may have dozed as well. Later, I started awake. I don't know what woke me, but I realized that Sword was awake and looking at me. He squirmed away from Skull and started to half crawl, half slither over to me. My dick stirred.

With my face just at floor level he crawled to me until his face was just inches from mine. He stared into my eyes, drilling me. I could smell the heavy scent of shit on his breath. Each time he exhaled it was like the wind of a long warm fart blowing into my face. Same smell, same warmth.

He smiled at me. He came to within an inch of my face, and his long tongue snaked out and gave me a lick across my nose. My dick jumped with the contact. I could see that the inside of his mouth was more brown than pink. I could feel the smear of drool his tongue left behind and smell the shitstink from the bit of it that was under my nostrils.

I craved the contact and something more. I stared back into his eyes and opened my mouth. He smiled again and reached out one hand, holding the back of my head. He moved his face to mine again and this time we locked lips. The rich taste of shit, Skull's shit, I realized, flooded my mouth. I sucked at his tongue hungrily. What was this? What was I doing.

He broke the contact and pulled back. He smiled at me again and let out a low growl of, "Yeahhh, fucker. Yeah, you got the hunger now, don't you?" There was a crazy spark in his eyes to match the smile.

He reached down into the pit and released the bindings that held my hands. Then he stood up quickly and moved to the side of my pit. He swung the toilet seat away from over my head and started hauling on the ropes that suspended me. The pulley overhead squeaked loudly in the quiet room as I was raised. Skull stirred, but slept on.

I was a dripping, shit-slimed mess. Caked clods of shit slid down my body and fell back into the pit. Slime dripped off the tip of my dangling dick. Sword tied off the hoist ropes and then hooked an arm behind me, bringing my feet to solid ground. Seeming to sense that my legs were wobbly he kept the arm behind me for support while he unhooked the ropes from my harness.

Now I was free. It occurred to me, in passing, that I could run. But no. That was no longer what I wanted. Sword guided me over to the mat, the opposite corner from the inert Skull, and whispered for me to lie down.

It felt good just to lie there and let my eyes close. I heard Sword get up, walk away, and return. Soon I felt hands spreading the slime coat from below my waist up all over my naked body. The stink increased. I moaned appreciatively at the touch and my dick stirred once again to life. His hand cupped my balls and I felt his warm mouth envelope my cock. He sucked my rod, gently at first then harder. Every couple of minutes he'd pull his mouth off and slather more of the shitslime from the reserve around my balls up onto my dick and then go back to sucking. My cock rose and hardened under his attentions.

After I was fully, almost achingly hard, his active mouth started working its way up my belly, around my navel, up the crack between my pecs, and to my nipples. His mouth started milking me on the right while a hand worked the tit on the left. I reached up and grabbed his head. He responded by starting to really chew and gnaw on my nip.

I looked down and saw that my hands were leaving brown smears on his shaved head. I pulled, urging his face up to mine. He laid his body across mine and complied. He grabbed my head with his wet hands and soon our mouths were once again locked together, sharing his mouthful of shit-drool.

He wasn't satisfied with that for long. "Feed me," he whispered urgently in my ear. "Gimme some shit."

He rolled off me and lay on the mat. I stood and he grabbed my ass and guided it down to his face. As soon as my cheeks were in range he thrust his face up into my crack and started licking at it wildly. I stood slightly and he got up on his knees for better access. He pulled my ass back and probed for my asshole with his tongue. God that felt good! Slowly he worked his tongue deeper and deeper, first into my crack and then penetrating my hole. The harder his tongue probed the more I felt my assring relax.

"Oh yeah," he moaned, "good shit."

I stood there, enjoying the sensation of a hungry mouth working my hole. He reached around with one hand and started playing with my dick and balls. I was in heaven.

"Common man, feed me some," he urged me.

Carefully, I concentrated, bearing down gently with my gut. Piss spurted from my dick, wetting his hand and running down, dripping from my balls. He growled and buried his face deeper into my crack. "Yeah, give it to me," he urged.

Slowly, I felt my shit-load start to slide down my chute. I knew it had come within range of his hungry tongue when be broke off from my ass, sucked a lungful of air, let out a loud "Yeah Fucker!" and dove his face back into my ass-crack. I felt a small, hard turd slide from my hole and into his attached mouth. He growled his appreciation like a rutting animal.

He pushed my ass away, spun me around by the hips, and pulled me down to kneel, facing him. My shitlog stuck half out of his mouth like a short fat cigar, dark brown and glossy. We locked eyes and he put his hands on my head, pulling me in. Hypnotized, I opened my mouth wide and met him lip to lip. My mouth was open, surrounding the turd cigar but not touching it Even so, each time I took a breath I could smell and taste the shit.

Sword tightened his grip on my head, making it clear that I was stuck in this position until I took the next step. Slowly I relaxed my lips, feeling them make contact with the warm log of shit that was sticking into my mouth. Once my lips made contact I felt Sword start to push the log out, sending it deeper into my mouth. Reflexively, my tongue came up to support the load that was entering my mouth. The taste of my own shit blossomed in my mouth, rich and bitter. Crossing that line, my heart pounded and my mind raced.

Sword released my head and leaned back. "Good boy!" he said. "Feel that shit in your mouth, boy. Get off on it." With that he leaned in again. He wrapped his lips around the turd log again and started giving it a blow job like it was a dick. I gripped the brown log with my teeth now and nearly went cross-eyed watching as Sword moved in and out, slicking up the log with his spit.

"I'm hungry, boy. Are you hungry?" Sword said. He looked at the turd in my mouth again and then he leaned in, gave it another quick lick with his brown tongue and bit off a piece. He let me see the shit he held in his lips then he tossed it back, mouth open, and worked it around with his tongue. I watched, fascinated and horrified as he proceeded to close his mouth, chew it up, and visibly swallow it down. After taking the big gulp he again opened his shit-hole mouth, proving it was really gone. I could see dark bits of shit highlighted against the white of his teeth.

"Your turn, boy. Do it up. Bite it off, throw it back, and swallow it down. You don't even have to chew. Come on, boy, do it!" He leaned in and locked his mouth onto the part of the turd that was hanging out of my face. Gently, I pushed it a little further out and I felt him take it from me. I leaned back, my mouth free of the brown cargo for the moment.

Damn, could I do this? I couldn't deny that it was all turning me on more than I ever imagined it could. My dick was up, hard and aching. A hard dick doesn't lie! Sword put a hand on my shoulder and started pulling me in. I let him guide me and took it at his speed. As soon as the turd was in range I gingerly gripped the first inch or so with my teeth. It was harder than I imagined it would be. My teeth sunk in and I bit it off. Just like Sword said, I threw it back in my mouth and threw it down.

I felt every inch of it's slide as that hard little nugget went down my throat leaving a brown smear all the way. I did it! Triumphant, I opened my mouth so Sword could see. Sword smiled around the log in his face. Something snapped, I felt released. More! I wanted more! Again I leaned in and this time bit off a bigger piece a couple of inches long. There was no way this one was gong down without chewing it first -- it was just too big. I closed my mouth around the hard lump of shit, squeezed it with my tongue, feeling the clay-like mass start to ooze around. Now I could really taste it. Hard and gritty, I started to chew. I felt it disintegrate and turn to mush. Saliva started to flow and trickles of slime ran down my throat. I chewed, swallowed, and chewed some more. Sword watched with a beatific look on his face. I swallowed some more trying to clear the sludge out of my mouth.

Sword took the turd in his hand and bit off another piece. My mouth was empty and, incredibly, I realized I wanted more. I looked down at the shit in Sword's hand and then up at his face. He smiled while chewing, I opened my mouth, and he fed me the rest of the log. We sat there, both chewing open-mouthed, brown drool running down our chins. The feeling of intimacy and brotherhood was intense.

"Fuck yeah," he said. "Fuck yeah," I repeated, grabbing him for a kiss. As I shoved my tongue into his mouth I felt and tasted the remainder of the brown mud we'd just shared. When we broke the shitty kiss we just sat there panting, somewhere beyond words. There was just one thought on my mind, but it took a few seconds for it to bubble up out of my shit congested brain. One thought, one word, "More."

Sword sprung and tackled me to the mat. "Now I'm gonna feed you straight from the source, fucker. You're gonna love it," he said. He got up and squatted over my face. What a view! His tight white ass framed by the black rubber chaps was coming down on my face and I wanted it bad! I reached up and grabbed his hips, guiding him down. I raised my head, tongue out. Contact! I felt the soft hairs in his ass crack tickle the bridge of my nose as I sunk my face into his crack. I licked and dug with my tongue until I felt the rosebud of his ass.

I wrapped my lips around the hole and started to suck. I dug with my tongue and massaged it with my lips. I felt his ass tense and then he blew a little fart. The smell was amazing, it flooded my senses. At this close range it was ten times more intense than any fart I'd ever smelt before. I worked his hole even harder and was rewarded with a trickle of thick wet butt-slime. I swallowed it down.

Now I'd forced my tongue as deep into his hole as I could reach and I felt the beginning of his load. It slid down his chute with excruciating slowness. When I knew it had reached the lips I pulled my face back so I could watch it emerge.

His ass-lips flexed and quivered and then started to spread. First all I could see was the brown dot of the tip of the turd surrounded by his pink lips. Slowly, the turd emerged and the ass-lips spread. I could see that it was lighter in color than mine had been and the smell was sweeter too. It was just a shade darker than peanut butter. Once it reached a couple of inches out of his hole I could see that it was at full width of just a little more than an inch. I moved in and grabbed it with my mouth and tongue. Right away I found out his shit was even more different from mine than it looked. It was a soft paste in my mouth, smooth and creamy. The taste was indescribable. Bitter yet sweet. Decaying but fresh. Above all, strong and rich.

Slowly I felt his shit-paste ooze into my mouth. I sucked at his hole and the thick mush glued itself to my tongue and cheeks. I worked the thick goo around in my mouth and tried to swallow some of it down. I gagged and my gut clenched. Just short of panic I squeezed his hips in a vise-like grip and concentrated on getting control. He stopped the flow. My mouth watered hard and some of the shit oozed back out of my face, smearing into his crack. Swallowing hard and fast the paste started to go down. It was so thick I felt it clogging my throat. Determined, I kept swallowing it down. Sword rose and flipped around, hanging his dick in my face. Gratefully I took his hose in my mouth and accepted his gift of piss. He fed me a warm, sweet stream that cleared my throat in a few swallows.

I fell back, panting. He got down over me and smothered my face with an open-mouthed kiss. I felt his tongue digging deep into my mouth, hunting for the clods of shit that remained and greedily sucking them back out.

"Arrgh!" I growled when he broke the kiss.

"Ready for more, man?" he asked, sitting back on his haunches and smacking his lips.

"Yeah," I said, "Gimme that ass again fucker." I was over the line now and I was going all the way.

He turned and presented his ass to me again. It was a radically different picture this time, his smooth white cheeks were streaked with dark brown from my hands and lighter smears of his earlier shit. The crack was obscured, plastered over with the mess from my earlier feeding. I took a few slow, deep breaths, enjoying the view, relishing the smell, and taking stock of the situation. I moved in on the crack and dug a furrow with my tongue. I sucked down that mouthful and went in for another. Feverishly I excavated his crack until I could once again see his puckered pink lips. I sat back and sucked my mouth clear -- the thick paste still didn't go down easily and I could feel the trail of it clear down my throat to my stomach. Once my mouth was clear I chilled out for a few seconds, breathing deep.

"I gotta go man! Get in there!" Sword said, forcing the issue by reaching back, grabbing my head, and slamming my face back into his ass. Willingly, I met his hole open mouthed and started sucking. Once again, the thick paste oozed out of his dirty hole and into my mouth. Better prepared this time, I just kept on sucking. Sword's crap started a sensuous continuous flow across my tongue, down my throat, and into my sewer-pit stomach. The thick sludge kept flowing and I kept swallowing. I felt the weight of it gathering in my belly. I was nearly stuffed with my first shitmeal.

"This is the last of it man, keep it in your mouth so we can both share it," Sword said.

I closed my throat and the flow kept coming strong. I felt the shit fill my mouth and start to ooze out and fill my cheeks. By the time he stopped my cheeks were bulging out and I had a massive load of thick pasty crap in my mouth.

I laid back and Sword sat on my belly facing me. I opened my mouth wide and felt trickles of drool overflow the brown pit of my mouth and run down my chin. "Awww, fuck man, that's beautiful," Sword said. He leaned down and licked the drool away and then scooped a gob of shit out of my open mouth. He smacked his lips and opened his mouth, showing the thick strings of shit paste sticking his tongue to the roof of his mouth.

Suddenly, my gut lurched again as my gag reflex kicked back in. In a flash, Sword glued his mouth to mine. I couldn't hold back any longer and with the next spasm the giant load of crap in my mouth exploded into his. We were face to face and I could see his eyes widen with the force of the flow. I kept my bellyful but gave him just about everything that was in my mouth. Slime ran freely from our lips and across both our faces. He closed his lips, sat up, and threw his head back, now fighting his own battle to hold onto the load he'd taken. I watched his washboard abs flex and his throat tighten. Just watching him fight it was so damn hot!

Just as I caught my breath he came back down to me, cheeks still bulging out with the load, and locked onto my lips. I opened my mouth and he squeezed the load of mush back into my mouth.

Suddenly, I saw Sword's eyes go wide and, at the same time, felt a hot, wet stream start washing down my back.

"What the FUCK are you two pigs doing?" Skull's voice rang out.

I spun around, surprised, and saw Skull towering over me, his dick still spraying a stream of hot piss. I coughed the load of shit out of my mouth in shock. The shit exploded out of my mouth and caught Skull at crotch level. I heard Sword start laughing behind me.

"Son of a BITCH," Skull screamed. He stepped forward, grabbed my head, and slammed his now filthy dick down my throat. "Clean that up, bastard," he commanded me. "Clean it up good."

It was a big fucking dick and filthy with the load of shit I'd blown all over his crotch. Each time he pulled my face down on his prick my nose was smashed into his shit-caked pubes. He was merciless in ramming his cock deep down my throat. Several times I started to gag, but it didn't really matter - he just kept fucking my face relentlessly.

Sword was still laughing his ass off behind me, and I heard him come closer to Skull and I. He stood behind me and leaned over, kissing Skull hard on the lips. Skull eased up a little on his ramming my face with that and I almost had a chance to catch my breath. I swallowed a few times to clear my throat, feeling the slime slide on down to my sewer pit of a stomach. Sword must have been doing a pretty good job of distracting Skull, because now Skull all but stopped slamming his dick down my throat. With the easing I started to really enjoy my labors. I'd cleaned nearly all the shit of Skull's dick so I pulled my mouth off the rod and started slurping the rest of the shit off his crotch. I combed his pubes with my teeth and then started to lick down the insides of his thighs. Skull's growls and moans told me he was enjoying the hell out of the attention that Sword and I were giving him. Nothing like a couple of hot mouths to sooth the savage beast.

I let loose a big belch and was nearly smothered by the fumes that came up. It was a reprise of the stench and acrid flavor of every bit of shit that had gone down my throat. I gasped for air until I recovered and then went right back to cleaning Skull's crotch. The hunger was on me and I wanted more of that shit.

Sword gave a little shove and pushed Skull off balance. All three of us tumbled to the mat in a pig pile with Skull on the bottom. Immediately, Skull started cussing again, "Bastard! Get off me, fucker!" He struggled and fought until the three of us lay untangled on the mat. Sword threw himself over Skull and pinned him to the mat. Skull struggled but was held.

"Feed him," Sword encouraged me, "Shit on his pretty fucking face. Smother him if he won't swallow."

"No! Fuck, No! Slimy Bastards! Don't you fucking dare!" Skull ranted at the suggestion.

Sword laughed and said, "Do it! I've got him."

I hesitated, but saw that Skull's face showed more humor than anger and moved in to squat over his face. I reached down and grabbed his face, holding him still. He fought half-heartedly, still cursing loudly. I started to bear down and push a load of shit out onto his face. I could hear the shit squeeze out of my ass, even over the other men's heavy breathing and between Skull's outbursts.

"Fuck!" Skull shouted. "Fuck!" He tried to twist his head to the side, but I held him fast, getting a little revenge for the abuse he'd given me earlier.

My shit fell with a splat onto his face and that shut him up for a moment. Slowly, I lowered my ass. I felt the warm ooze of the shit as my crack hit the pile I'd just dropped on Skull's face. I pushed down more and really ground the shit into his face. He continued to make angry noises but they were pretty well muffled by my ass and the load of shit plastering his face.

"Yeah, fucker, take it!" Sword called out to Skull. Skull struggled at first but then he quieted and I felt his mouth open and his tongue start to work my hole. It felt damn good. I reached around and gently laid my hand over his throat. I felt his adam's apple bobbing as he swallowed my shit. He was doing it! The tough skin bastard was eating my shit!

Skull and Sword were squirming against each other urgently. There was still enough left of the shit I'd sprayed over Skull's crotch to work as a lube and I realized they were both working to come. I reached down and scooped a handful of my shit out of the pile on Skull's cheek and started to use it as a lube to jack my own hard cock.

I watched as Skull spat a juicy mouthful of shit spit into Sword's face. "Aw, you fucker!" Sword screamed at him. I laughed as Sword grabbed a mouthful of my shit off Skull's cheek and spat it back right into Skull's face. "Fucker! Skull screamed. They were squirming as they both locked faces and started to kiss hard. I knew they were probably tounge wrestling my shit back and forth and I could tell they were both close to coming.

I felt my shit caked balls pull up and tighten as I got close to shooting my own load. "Fuck, fuck, fuck," I screamed. "Cummon fuckers! Cummon!"

"Yeaahhrg," was all Sword could manage as he came. His body twiched and spasmed.

"Shitty Fuckers!" Skull yelled as he too shot his load all over Sword's belly.

"Oh fuck yeah," I yelled as I came. "Fuck yeah!" My whole body jerked tight and I fell to my knees. My cum flew across the two joined skins on the mat as I gave my cock a few final hard jerks.

There were a few minutes of near silence. We were all three panting like we'd just run a race. Sword recovered first and sat up next to me. Absentmindedly he stroked his hand up and down my body, smearing through the accumulated filth and cum. "Well, mate, I think we did it..."

"Yeah, how's that?" Skull came back.

"I think we've converted this one," Sword replied.

"Aww, fuck, I don't know mate," Skull replied, "I think we'll have to test him a few more times to be sure."

We laughed and all came together in a three-way shity embrace on the mat. We laid there for a time and, before long, we all slept.

GIVE ME ALL YOU GOT, STUD

Remember these guys?

"Ohhhhh, Yeeaah Yeeaaaah! Let me... Let me smell that shit, man. Awwwww, fuck That's a hell of a lot better turn-on than those poppers."

Again and again, the boy sniffed the stench into his lungs. His lips parted, his tongue crept out, curling spoon-like into the warm, fresh softness which only minutes earlier his stud's bowels had issued to him. Eagerly, he began to pull the brown waste into his hungry mouth.

"Please, Sir! I'm hungry. I'm starving for that funky turd.

"Oh, Stud! Give it to me! Let mehave it! Make me take it from you. Tonight, I'm your shitlicker, turd sucker, crap-eater. Force me to go all the way in serving you." In the back of his mind he wished this scene could go on forever. Hs needed to be possessed by a man who could really put him to use.

"That's it! Do your worst, Stud!"

"Jerk my yearning jaws open, stuff my hungry mouth with that beautiful offering from your big, hairy, full shitter. "Yeah, force-feed me! Shit fuck my crap craving mouth."

"All of it, Mister."

"Son-of-a-bitch, I want to eat all of it. Shove it on me; push it down my throat. Use me as your filthy toilet, Sir."

"Look at me, SIR!"

"Look at your shit in my mouth. Now you know me for the kind of kid I really am, so put me through your paces. Don't let me miss anything."

"Oh, Yesssss! Use me! Make me serve you, your buddies."

"Come-on, shit-face! Chew that fucking load up. Swallow that turd slowly or I'll cram this huge ram of mine inside that full mouth and pile-drive every bit of that shit straight down into your waiting belly.

"That's it, boy! Take it slow. There's a hell of a lot more where that came from, and I want to give it all to you before the night's over."

What a fucking turn-on this kid had become, laying there on the floor, chewing up the last of the giant turd, his enormous horse-like pecker clutched in his grimy hand.

From the rock hard erection he was displaying, to the look of total satisfaction across his face, it was easy to see that he was enjoying the hell out of everything that was happening to him.

Swallowing the last of the stud's load, he looked up and saw the man laid back not far from him.

Slithering across the floor, he cried out, "Let me lick your filthy hole clean, SIR. Oh, SIR! Push more shit into my mouth. MORE! MORE SHIT!!!"

"I'm so fucking hungry, hungry for your shit."

He loved groveling on the floor before this filthy asshole. He needed to be dominated, used, abused.

"MORE!" This time it was the tongue raped man making the demand. "MORE! Use your fist!"

"That's right, fucker. There's a lot more shit up this big butthole of mine, but you've gotta dive in there and get it yourself."

Knowing exactly what had to be done, the kid quickly reached out, scooping up as much of the softened shit and slimy spit as he could find, and began smearing the gooey mixture around the gaping crapper.

Forming a giant wedge, the fingers began sliding inside the man's butt as he strained to take them all the way.

"Come-on, Shit-Freak, work on that asshole," the guy cried as he felt the fist turning, twisting, pumping deep inside his shit tunnel.

It was obvious that he was really getting off on it the way he kept moaning, working his own body on it as he jerked his own fist up and down the colossal column of hard, rigid flesh which was stretching straight upward from his overgheated crotch.

"That's it, boy! Spread that big ass apart and search for your dinner."
"Yeah! Fuck the living shit out of my hole.

Hs felt the kid's fist sliding in and out of his butthole and knew that he was driving beyond the wrist, working in a big part of his forearm.

Pushing down, he tried to suck more of the arm with his eager hole.

The kid loved the way the taut asscheeks were working up and down, around his impaling fist, but he was anxious to get his whole face in there.

Hs pulled back, the asshole clutching, bulging outward like a giant pair of brown, puckered lips.

The steaming chute didn't want to let go of that plunging raper, that plowing fist. Twisting around onto his knees, the fisted guy, half-demanding, half pleading, cried out, "I want this asshole fucked wide open. Bust it with something. Get something big and shove it in there.

Spotting an enormous rubber dick laying in the corner, the kid grabbed it. "You sure you want this dildo?" he asked.

The man turned his head so that he could get a good Look at the size of it. "Hell, never in my life have I seen one as big as that, but I know that I want to have it. Yeah, I have to see what it's gonna feel like in my ass."

He started moving his ass beck and forth, grinding the huge set of lips against the head of the dildo.

"Come-on, kid! I can't wait to have you bust my ass with that thing."

"Shit, man! You got some big, fucking asshole," the kid moaned as he screwed the incredible head of that gigantic dick all the way through the extraordinary sphincter.

Squirming, thrusting, bucking with his hips, he wanted it! He wanted it all! He wanted it bad and the kid sure as hell was not going to hold back. No! He rammed the rubber dick into the man's gut with unrelenting fury, pounding the shit out of the super eager butthole.

Harder and harder, deeper and deeper, he pummeled the stud's asshole with the big, thick tool watching as his panting became very rapid as if he were suffering uncontrollable pain, but his cries were those of sheer, unabated pleasure.

"Go down on it, kid! You can take it! Hell, that grubby mouth of yours is every bit as big as my crapper. So, if I can take it, you can, too."

All the kid could think of was shit as he strained, his jaws aching, fucking the dildo in and out between his lips. The deep ramming caused him to gag. Shitty vomit rose into the back of his mouth, and he swallowed, reeating the bellyful, time and time again.

He had lost control, didn't care any longer how he was used. Any time, any place, any way, this shit fucking stud could have him, could use him, could give him away to be used by others. He had found what he needed. Now he would find a way to hold onto it.

Unconscious of what was happening, he suddenly realized that he had taken his own prick into his hand, and without moving a finger, he had bolted a. long, sticky, steamy supply of scum out of his horse-dick and across his body. Humbled but totally unashamed of all that had happened, he lay at the feet of his STUD.

Toilet Training Introduction
By Puddles Portalet

Here I am tied down in a box. I am in my master's buddy's house. In the basement. My hands are duct taped to my cock. My balls are stretched and hooked up to a sack of sharp needles connected to a wire that leads outside of the box. My master's buddy already pulled on it to let me know how painful those needles are.

I am strapped down to the bottom of the box by leather straps. all I can move is my hands and my jaw. My forehead is even strapped down to the box. My head is covered by a plastic cone opening to the top of the box. A small piece of tube is hanging over to the side of my mouth. My master told me I was going to serve my masters buddy for the weekend, and that I was to make him proud, or else.

My stomach rumbles uncomfortably. I have not been allowed to eat since breakfast yesterday. I was given a thorough high-colonic before I was made to lie down in the box. I was filled and emptied three times to be sure I was empty from end to end. I am starving and quite nervous. Master has never lent me out to anyone before. Master's buddy was quite brutal. Grunting commands at me to make me move or position myself as he wanted. Despite it all, I was hard.

Soon, I begin to hear voices. Distant, like upstairs. Foot falls of booted men. Master's buddy's slave scurrying in chains across the floors. I could smell food. My stomach cried out. It quieted while they ate. Mumbled conversation. Then I could hear them finishing at last. The sounds of chairs and foot falls again.

The basement door opened up. I could here many men filing down into this basement play room. A light went on and I could see an oval shaped light around my head. A panel closed over my face. "Is that the surprise, you told us about, Jack?" I heard one man say.

"Yeah, that's our highlight for the weekend, guys."

I could hear "Jack's" slave being strung up for punishment. Whips in the air and the gasps and moans as they where flogged for errors in serving the meal. It sounded like they where taking turns on each of his two boys. Then I heard someone ask, "Does this work?"

"Yeah, try it out. It shouldn't spoil anything."

I could here the guy next to my box undo his fly and sigh. Then piss splashing in a urinal. A second later the tube next to my mouth twitched and started flooding my face with hot piss! I opened my mouth and swallow the acrid urine. Master had trained me to be grateful to accept this gift from a master. I could lift my lips to the tube and drain the last of the piss coming from the urinal.

The whipping stopped and the boys let down. Then I could hear the master of the house approach my box. The lid above me was lifted and light flooded in. I could see that it was a toilet seat above my face. I looked to the tube and back up. "Oh, No!" I cried.

"Shut up, scum!" He spat onto my face. "You know better than to speak." He looked back at the crowd. Faces peered over the lip to see if I was really in here. "gentlemen, you will indulge me to go first. Please feel free to use my other slaves as you please. Then avail yourself of this unique toy as it becomes available."

He looked down at me. "Hungry, Boy?" he grinned, knowing I was starving. "Well, look out! It's dinner time for the scum hole!"

With that he unbuckled his chaps and pants. I struggled looking for a way to avoid this. I could drink piss. But... this?

His ass lowered slowly to the seat. His cheeks spread apart by the rim. His cock rested in a scoop at the front. Over my eyes. It seemed to lead to a bottle. The box became a little darker again as his body covered the hole. His stinking hole was a few inches away from my lips. He moved forward a little and I felt my head being jack up to his butthole. "Put you lips up to my shitter and kiss it in gratitude for the meal your going to get from it." Not wanting to disappoint my master, I did as I was told. His hole was a little puckered and was moist a little. It stank like shit already. Like he hadn't wiped last time. I kissed his hole and pulled my lips back. "No boy, give that hole some loving. Slip it some tongue."

I put my lips to his shitty hole again and stuck out my tongue. Which sank into his opening hole. It tasted bitter and rank. Like rimming someone who hadn't cleaned. Something master liked doing a lot lately. Now I understood why. "Good. Now lick my hole clean. Boy. I want your dinner spot to be tidy."

I tongued his hole. It tasted awful. I gagged a little and he pushed down some more. His hole opened and there was more to clean. I pulled back to take a breath and he farted. It smelled like ripe shit. Powerful. I put my lips to his hole again and stuck my tongue into his shitter. My tongue sank into hot, wet, soft, shit. I quickly pulled back and he moaned and my mouth was filled, cheeks full, with his steaming shit load. He laughed and looked between his legs to my eyes. "Chew on my hot shit, fucker. You are just my fucking toilet. Swallow my turd pile, scum."

My eyes watered with tears as I chewed and tried to swallow his shit. He looked mean at me. Like I had better not throw it up. Finally. I managed to gag his load down. Shit hung, wet, off his hole. I licked it up and his hole opened again. This time it was firmer and it came out in a steady loop of turd. I swallow quickly trying get it out of my mouth at least. I gagged a few times and my mouth filled up with my cheeks puffed out with his shit. Finally, the shit stopped. I chewed while he lifted up to watch. When I was done he made me lick his ass clean again. He stood up to cheers from the other men. "Remember, to flush the toilet, when you are through, guys." With that he released the piss in the bottle his cock hung into onto my face, I gulped up as much as I could to wash the taste of the shit that coated my hole inside of my mouth.

I discovered that there where twelve men at this party. because each one of them came to use the human toilet over the evening. I drank many many loads of piss out of the urinal, glad for the chance to rinse my mouth of their shit. I ate hard shit from a lean muscular butt. I endured diarrhea runny shit from a large man. Some had bits of food in it like corn, and peas. One guy got off on having my tell him how great I loved his shit in my mouth. While juggling a larger chunk of his turd in my mouth.

When the playing seemed done. Everyone got quiet. The whole top to the box was undone. I was unstrapped and lifted up my a few of the men. My stomach was bloated with all of their shit. My face was smeared and stained with their stinking mess. I was led over to a plastic playmat in the center of the room. Then the man who was my master's buddy announced that he did this to prove to his slaves that they should eat his shit as part of their service to him. They had agreed to begin that service on their new contracts, if he could show that other slaves eat shit in service of their masters.

The two boys looked angry with me. The master unlocked them and unchained them and led them to the mat. "My slaves may now exact their revenge on our toilet, who has brought them into my toilet service."

The two boys came to me and tackled my down. I was too weak to fight them anyway. They pinned me down and one sat on my chest. His knees around my head. He started to piss in the air landing it on my mouth. The other kicked my nuts, and my mouth opened to swallow his slave piss. The other one came around when the first stopped pissing. He sat facing his counterpart and placed his hole on my mouth. His shit slid out and he screamed at me to eat his fuckin shit load. The other chimed in with him is their derision of me. I swallowed the slaves shit dutifully. It tasted of dog kibble a little. Like the kibble I eat. I guess they are on the same diet. The first one finished and got his ass licked clean. Then he wanted to fuck me. He got behind and thrust in. The one on my chest moved off and dumped a load of shit on the playmat. A good size pile of soft, firm boy shit. He had me lick him clean too. Then he flipped me over with his friends dick still up my ass. Then he shoved my face into his pile of shit while the other continued fucking me. He forced me to lick the mat clean of his shit. Then he jerked off on my shit caked face and made me wipe it off and into my face. I was humiliated worse than anything I had ever imagined. But, as I swallowed the slaved cum and shit. I came too.

I just know that master and I will have a different relationship when I am returned.

RESCUE RADIO: HAM RADIO RESPONDS TO EARTHQUAKE IN TURKEY

Amateur radio operators again became communications first responders on October 23rd. This after a magnitude 7.2 earthquake struck the Van region of Eastern Turkey. Amateur Radio Newsline's Norm Seeley, KI7UP, has whats known so far:

News reports indicate that Ercis, a city of 75,000 in the mountainous province close to the Iranian border was hardest hit. As this report is being prepared the death toll stands at more than 450. Tens of thousands have been left homeless and even more have lost all means of communications.

To assist with the latter, hams associated with the Turkish national amateur radio society TRAC are responding to assist with communications in the quake devastated area. There are several frequencies in use on the High Frequency bands being used to link with Turkish government relief resources with some of the frequencies in use located outside the amateur bandplan. This will be the standard until more equipment gets to the region. When that happens, more traffic should move to the normal Emergency Communications Centre of Activity frequencies.

In the meantime, hams world-wide are asked to avoid the emergency traffic happening on 7.092 MHz on 40 meters. Also note that upper sideband is being used to allow communications with government stations.

As we go to air, close to 500 aftershocks have been recorded in the area since the earthquake. More amateur radio emergency communications information will be posted on the Turkish Wireless and Radio Amateur Society web pages when it is made available. These are in cyberspace at tinyurl.com/TRACwebsite (IARU Region 1)

RADIO RULES: FCC TURNS IT BACK TO HAM RADIO CONCERNS IN APPROVING MODIFIED BPL RULES

The Federal Communications Commission has affirmed its rules for Broadband over Power Lines or Access BPL with only minor modifications that do little to protect the Amateur Radio service and other High Frequency users from severe to intolerable interference.

According to the Second Report and Order issued by the FCC on October 25th, the rules it has created to govern Access BPL provide what it calls an appropriate balance between the dual objectives of providing for Access BPL technology that has potential applications for broadband and Smart Grid while protecting incumbent radio services against harmful interference.

Those incumbent radio services primarily comprise amateur radio operators and other users of the High Frequency spectrum. Hams started arguing against Access BPL when the commission first adopted rules for it in 2004, saying that in geographic areas where it was in trial that it severely interfered with their operations.

The American Radio and Relay League filed a lawsuit against the FCC in federal court, seeking full access to unredacted versions of staff technical studies upon which the rules were predicated. The ARRL was victorious. The FCC was ordered to supply the studies, allow public comment, and explain its method for measuring radiated emissions from Access BPL systems.

Now in its Second Report and Order, the commission said the resulting cycle of comments did not warrant any changes to the emissions standards but said that they were making several refinements none-the-less. And minor they are.

The Second Report & Order modifies the rules to increase the required notch filtering capability for systems operating below 30 MHz from 20 to 25 dB. It also establishes a new alternative procedure for determining site specific extrapolation factors and adopts a definition for the slant range distance used in the BPL measurement guidelines to further clarify its application. Slant-range refers to the diagonal distance of a measurement device to an Access BPL transmitter mounted at the top of a power pole.

Access BPL is said to support data rates of more than 500 Mbps and first and last mile ranges of up to 1,500 meters. The commission said that while it endeavored to minimize interference to ham radio operations that it remains a possibility.

In the end the Commission concluded that some cases of harmful interference may be possible from Access BPL emissions at levels at or below the Part 15 limits. However the regulatory agency feels that the potential benefits of Access BPL service warrant acceptance of what they call a negligible risk of harmful interference that can be managed and corrected as needed on a case-by-case basis.

The commission noted that Access BPL provides yet another way to get broadband to the masses. This is one of the key objectives of the Obama Administration, and more recently, the International Telecommunications Union.

The big question now is what action the ARRL might take to stop the poorer forms of Access BPL technology from being deployed. We will all likely learn that in coming weeks. (FCC, RW, Others)

RESCUE RADIO: FCC-FEMA-NOAA TO HOLD NATIONAL EAS TEST NOVEMBER 9

The first ever national test of the Emergency Activation System, or EAS, will soon take place. This as the FCC, in cooperation with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration announce that they will conduct a nationwide activation of the system at 2 p.m. Eastern, 11 a.m. Pacific time on Wednesday, November 9th.

According to FEMA, all EAS participants are required to take part. This includes over the air radio and television broadcasters, other television providers, satellite and digital radio along with cable and wire-line video providers.

During the approximate three minute test, radio listeners will hear a message indicating that "This is a test." Although the EAS test may resemble the Routine Monthly EAS Tests or R-M-T's that most of us are already familiar with, there will be some differences in what viewers will see and hear.

While the audio message will be the same for all EAS participants, the video may differ. This is because of certain limitations within the Emergency Activation System itself. As a result, the video test message scroll may not be the same or indicate that "This is a test." According to FEMA's website, this is due to the use of the live E.A.N. code which is the same cipher that would be used in an actual emergency callout.

Although local and state aspects of the Emergency Activation System holds routine weekly and monthly basis, there has never been an end-to-end nationwide test of the system. That will change on November 9th.

The FCC says that it chose that date order to minimize disruption and confusion during the test. This is because it is near the end of hurricane season and before the severe winter weather season begins. Also the 2 p.m. Eastern time broadcast will minimize disruption during rush hours while ensuring that the test occurs during working hours across the nation.

And while personal radio emergency communications groups like ARES, RACES, REACT and the like are not required to take part in this first ever national EAS test, there is the off chance that some may activate as part of local or regional training exercises in resonse to a national EAS alert. (FEMA, FCC, others)

RADIO LAW: LOADS OF INTRUDERS ON 10 METERS

Meantime, pirate operations are showing up on 10 meters seemingly en mass. Following the improvement in propagation on 10 meters in recent weeks, it appears that there are many illegal users of this band. Most seem to be using low power FM chanalized radios to operate taxi services. Signals mainly seem to come from the western part of Russia.

Information regarding these intrusions is being gathered by RSGB Intruder Watch program. It will be used to support a complaint to the Russian authorities in an attempt to clear this nuisance from what should be an exclusive amateur band.

But all of the intruders may not be Russians. Others are obvious unlicensed operators using A-M and SSB here in North America. These are likely illegal 11 meter export type CB sets sold by unscrupulous dealers here in the United States and elsewhere that only require a tweek or a cut wire to put them onto the 10 meter band. If you hear these operators and have a way to record them, do so and then send the audio file or cassette tape to the FCC Enforcement people with a cover letter stating what you heard and when you heard it. Be as specific as you can. The more information that you can provide to the regulatory agency, the better. (GB2RS, ARNewslineT, others)

RADIO HISTORY: NATIONAL CAPITAL RADIO & TV MUSEUM IN EXHIBIT SPACE CRUNCH

A suburban Washington D.C. broadcast museum is literally facing a tight future. This due to less and less floor space for its ever increasing supply of exhibit material.

According to The Gazette, the National Capital Radio & Television Museum located in Bowie, Maryland has reached out to Bowie's leaders at a recent City Council meeting. Museum Executive Director Brian Belanger, KB3PRS, asked the members for help in .

Beyond space concerns, Belanger said the facility has other issues. These include a location is not easily reached by bus; a second floor that is not handicap accessible and it lacks climate control.

The private, nonprofit museum is located in the Harmel House, one of Bowie's historic landmark properties. Displays include an early wireless telegraph from Guglielmo Marconi, early crystal sets from the 1920s, Depression-era cathedral radios and more.

Belanger says the museum receives 2,000 visitors per year, and their spending boosts Bowie's economy. In reply to the museum's request, Bowie Mayor G. Frederick Robinson asked for a list of specific needs of the museum. Mayor Robinson added that the council will try to put Belanger together with the right people.

More about the museum and the history it shares with rthe nation and the world is on-line at http://radiohistory.org. The complete story of the museums needs is at tinyurl.com/museum-space. (RW, ARNewslineT)

RADIO LAW: ODESSA TEXAS TO CONSIDER NO TEXTING LAW

Odessa Texas City Council members will consider an ordinance regulating texting while driving during their upcoming meeting 6 p.m.. The ordinance would prohibit drivers from viewing, reading, sending or composing electronic messages or use any other application software such as Internet, games or pictures while driving.

Drivers would be exempt from the prohibition while their vehicle is stopped, if they are dialing for a phone call or ending a phone call, using the cell phone's global navigation system and if the device is on voice-activated or hands-free mode.

The ordinance would also not apply to drivers trying to communicate with an emergency response operator, a fire department, a law enforcement agency, a hospital, a physician's office or a health clinic. (City of Odessa, WV6H)

ENFORCEMENT: ANOTHER FLORIDA UNLICENSED STATION PROPOSED FINE

The FCC has issued a $15,000 Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture, also known as a proposed fine, to John E. Criteser, Jr.. this for apparently willfully and repeatedly operating an unlicensed radio transmitter on the frequency 95.1 MHz in Lake Park, Florida.

On December 13th, 2010, and this past July 8th, agents from the Enforcement Bureau's Miami Office located the source of radio frequency transmissions on the frequency 95.1 MHz to Criteser's residence. Also, on July 8, 2011, agents from the Miami Office knocked on the door of Mr. Criteser's residence and requested to inspect the radio station located on the premises. The individual who answered the door called for "John" and shut the door. Soon afterward the agents observed that the radio station on 95.1 MHz ceased operation. Approximately 15 minutes later and after repeated knocks, Criteser opened the door, identified himself, and admitted to agents that he was operating a radio station on 95.1 MHz.

Now the FCC is having its say and it says that because Criteser operated this station consciously on more than one day, it finds that the apparent violations were not only willful, but also repeated. And based on the evidence before it, the regulatory agency finds that Criteser is eligible for the base fine of $10,000 for the illegal operation and an additional $5000 because the act was repeated.

Criteser was given the usual 30 days from the October 21st date the order was released to pay or to file an appeal. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: $10000 FINE IN SAN FRANCISCO FOR UNLICENSED OPERATION

Meantime, a similar situation out West where Daniel K. Roberts has been ordered to pay a monetary forfeiture in the amount of $10,000. This for allegedly operating an unlicensed radio broadcast station on 87.9 MHz in San Francisco, California. Amateur Radio Newsline's Don Carlson, KQ6FM, has the details:

The FCC alleges that Daniel K. Roberts was the operator of Pirate Cat Radio which operated a radio broadcast station without a license issued by that agency. According to the FCC, back in 2008 Roberts began operating Pirate Cat Radio from a radio studio located at the Pirate Cat Cafï¿½ and Studio. At the time the NAL was issued, the Pirate Cat Radio website prominently featured Roberts, and described the radio station as an unlicensed low powered community radio operation located at the same address as the Pirate Cat Cafï¿½ and Studio.

The Enforcement Bureau's San Francisco Office issued numerous warnings and Notices of Unlicensed Operation to Roberts and Pirate Cat Radio concerning the unlicensed operations. These detailed the potential penalties for operating an unlicensed radio station and for further

On August 31, 2009, the San Francisco Office issued a Notice of Apparent Liability to Monetary Forfeiture in the amount of $10,000 to Roberts. This after finding that he apparently willfully and repeatedly violated section 301 of the Communications Act by operating an unlicensed broadcast station. After the issuance of the NAL, the broadcasts on 87.9 MHz in San Francisco ceased.

Roberts filed a response to the proposed fine on October 23, 2009, after receiving an extension of time from the San Francisco Office. In his reply, Roberts acknowledged his involvement with Pirate Cat Radio, but argued that he is not associated with the transmissions of the station. Roberts alleged that the shows were an internet streamed program service and that Pirate Cat Radio was being downloaded and broadcast by third parties. He also claimed that he was financially unable to pay the forfeiture amount, but failed to produce any documentation to support this claim.

But in finding against him, the FCC said that despite some alterations to the Pirate Cat Radio website, Roberts, as the operator of Pirate Cat Radio held himself out as the station manager and held Pirate Cat Radio out as a broadcast station, not just as a source of internet programming. The regulatory agency noted that Roberts solicited funds on the Pirate Cat Radio website stating that donations go towards monthly station cost of running the FM transmitter and help Pirate Cat Radio buy new radio station equipment.

Thev FCC also notes that in August 2009, Roberts accepted a certificate from the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.
One which recognized Pirate Cat Radio - and we quote - "for its trailblazing efforts toward freeing the airwaves from corporate control, providing the community with training in radio broadcast skills, empowering voices ignored by traditional media outlets, and contributing to the advancement of the city's coffee culture."

After examining the response the FCC concluded that Roberts willfully and repeatedly violated section 301 of the Communications Act. It added that after considering the entire record in this matter, it found that neither a reduction nor cancellation of the proposed $10,000 forfeiture is warranted.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Don Carlson, KQ6FM, in Reno.

The FCC has formally ordered Roberts to pay the $10,000 fine within 30 days or take his appeal to the next level.

ON THE AIR: NEW 10 METER ALL DIGITAL NET ANNOUNCED

A new digital mode net to encourage use of these modes on 10 meters will be held every Saturday and Sunday at 1800 UTC. This according to Andrew O'Brien, K3UK, who says via the Digital Radio Yahoo that he is creating such a weekly gathering after noting that the band is open to distant communications more and more these days.

The net will gather on 28.125 MHz Upper Sideband, plus or minus for QRM, at 1800 UTC. R S ID and Call ID will be used to help people pick out the net and modes used. The Olivia 500/8 mode will be used to call up the net but the it may switch modes as needed.

K3UK says that the gathering will usually run 30 minutes and will try to include some brief announcements relative to digital modes on HF. It will also use the K3UK sked page at www.obriensweb.com/sked for on-line coordination during each session. (K3UK)

CHANGING OF THE GUARD: FORMER ARRL MIDWEST VICE DIRECTOR W0JCP - S.K.

The changing of the guard in amateur radio continues. This with word of the passing of former ARRL Midwest Division Vice Director C. Richard Dyas, W0JCP, of Oxford, Nebraska on October 17th.

Dyas who was a Charter ARRL Life Member was first elected Vice Director in 1975 and began his term on January 1, 1976. He resigned in 1985 to take care of his wife. In 1987, when then-ARRL Midwest Division Vice Director Richard Ridenour, KB0ZL, resigned, ARRL President Larry Price, W4RA, appointed Dyas to serve Ridenour's unexpired term.

Dyas passed away at age 90. He was laid to rest on October 21st with military honors by Oxford American Legion Post 219 in conjunction with the US Army National Guard Military Honors Team. (ARRL)

RADIO TO SPACE: NASA SEEKING NEW MEMBERS FOR THE ASTRONAUT CORPS

NASA says that it will seek applicants for its next class of astronaut candidates in early November. This, in the face of a National Research Council report that warned the corps was getting too small due to attrition and other factors.

The space agency will not be seeking hundreds of new astronauts. Rather there will be room for between 8 to 12 new members of the Corps. Also, this next class of astronauts won't necessarily be training as pilots. Rather the focus will instead be on long-duration missions aboard the International Space Station.

The class will also include a broad look at such topics as geology and geophysics, Ross said. The quest for astronauts comes on the heels of a September report from the National Research Council, which argued that the United States must maintain a strong astronaut corps, even though human space flight has been temporarily stalled for NASA and many astronauts have retired or quit this year.

Janet Kavandi is the Director of Flight Crew Operations at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas. She says that for scientists, engineers and other professionals who have always dreamed of experiencing spaceflight, this is an exciting time to join the Astronaut Corps.

To learn more or to apply to become an Astronaut please visit astronauts.nasa.gov on the World-Wide-Web. Also remember that with the 30 year history of the SAREX and ARISS programs that holding a valid Amateur Radio license and being an active ham could be a plus for anyone hoping to make it into this elite group of voyagers into the unknown. RADIO FROM SPACE: ROSAT DE-ORBITS INTO THE BAY OF BENGAL

A follow-up on our story of the imminent return to Earth of a defunct German research satellite. According to news reports, the ROSAT de-orbited on Sunday, October 23rd and crashed into the Bay of Bengal off the coast of India.

Most parts of the minivan sized research satellite were expected to burn up as they hit the atmosphere. However up to 30 fragments weighing a total of 1.87 tons could have crashed onto the planets surface. Luckily that surface turned out to be a watery grave.

ROSAT was an acronym for the Rï¿½ntgen Satellite. It was an Xray observatory developed through a cooperative program between Germany, the United States, and the United Kingdom. The satellite was proposed by the Max Planck Institute. It was designed, built and operated in Germany but was launched by the United States on June 1, 1990. The satellites mission actually ended after almost nine years, on February 12, 1999. More about this now fallen bird is on-line at tinyurl.com/rosat-deorbits (NASA)

ON THE AIR: COLORADO 6 METER BEACON BACK ON THE AIR

The Colorado 6 Meter Beacon is back on the air. This is the beacon that originally maintained by Glenn and Karen Schultz and sported the calls W0IJR and KA0CDN. With the passing of W0IJR, the KA0CDN call will be the sole ID for this machine.

The new beacon was built from the ground up by N0YE, W0BA, N0POH and W6OAL. The operating frequency is 50.065 Mhz. Further information on it can be found on-line at www.rmvhf.org. KA0CDN adds that she would appreciate QSN report's of its reception. (W6OAL)

THAT FINAL ITEM: INTERNATIONALLY CONNECTED ANNOUNCED AS THEME OF HAMVENTIONr 2012

And finally this week word that "Internationally Connected" will be the theme of the 2012 Dayton Hamvention. This according to General Chairman Michael Kalter, W8CI, who says that this premise emphasizes how amateur radio continues to build connections among amateur radio operators from all over the world.

Kalter, who is returning for another year as general chairman, noted that many international attendees return each year to meet other hams that they have talked to on the radio. He says that in 2012 the Hamvention is acknowledging the important role that ham radio plays in promoting this very special international goodwill.

To accomplish this, Kalter says that he has added a new committee whose task will be to make visiting Hamvention even more enjoyable for international guests. Assistant general chairman Joshua Long, KD8BVB, noted that almost all the committee chairman are returning and that many other volunteers have already committed to making 2012 an even better Hamvention than in years past.

The 2012 Dayton Hamvention 2012 is scheduled for May 18th to the 20th at its longtime of of the Hara Arena in suburban Dayton, Ohio. It is the world's largest amateur radio gathering and brings together some 20,000 people to the greater Dayton area each year. More information is already on line at www.Hamvention.org or by e-mail to media (at) Hamvention (dot) org. And less we forget, Amateur Radio Newsline will be there as well. (Dayton Hamventionr)

Hi Eric,
The first thing to do is remove the cover of the 142. Then, remove your tiny little prick from your pants and piss all over the inside.
This must be done while the radio is plugged in and turned on. This will disable the AGC circuit, you stupid fucking CB'er!

Not satisfied with just outlawing cb and ham radios which use handheld microphones, Canada has now outlawed hands-free ham radio by hams, and hands-free cb by cbers, yet still allows two-way radio use by taxi cab drivers, school-bus drivers, and businesses, police, etcetera even though all those people have MUCH LESS training in operating a two-way radio than hams do.

such as almost none, if not none, although it is usually none.

even low-class redneck cbers know more about how to properly use a radio then those people do.

yet the only ones allowed to use it are the ones with little or no training while the ones not allowed to use it ae the ones with the proper training in how to use it.

If the police had the proper training, then they would not be arresting people under phony radio laws which they claim is the actual law.

so that alone is proof the police do not have the proper training in howw to properly use a two-way radio since they do not even know the radio laws that they are trying to enforce, and therefore should also be prohibited from using a two-way mobile radio if the cbers and hams, which have the actual training as it is required to get their ham raadio license also are not allowed to operate their two-way radios mobile.

1372. very very very vague hoa rules

The names and call letters have been changed to protect the innocent.

Once upon a time, there was a ham radio operator who moved into a homeowners association which had the very very very vague rule "NO ham radio transmissions allowed on homeowners association property".

Originally, the ham thought this was a very very very specific rule which allowed him to transmit from ham radios off of homeowner association property while he was physically off of homeowners association property.

So he moved into the homeowners association and unlike certain other hams which hide antennas on homeowners association property in violation of the homeowners rules and the contract they signed, this ham actually obeyed the homeowners association rule and transmitted ham radio only when he was physically off of homeowners property using radios, and repeaters, and irlp and echolink..

However, he soon found out it was a very very very vage rule when the big bad homeowners association foreclosed his house on him for violating the rule and claimed that it was a very very very specific rule which prohibits him from making ham radio transmissions even whie he is off of homeowners property and using ham radios off of homeowners property while he is physically off homeowners association property.

It started because while he was making a ham radio transmission off of homeowner property while he was physically off of homeowners property, another homeowner in the association heard the ham radio transmission on his own scanner (no the hams scanner since he didn't have one other than the one he had off of homeowner association property, such as at his parents' house) and complained to the homeowners association about it.

Then the big bad homeowners association stated he broke the rule and fined him. The ham refused to pay the fine, stating that he never ever broke the rule and only made ham radio transmissions when he was physically off of the property and never ever even had a ham radio on homeowners asociation property at all.

Then the ham quoted the rule to the homeowners association as proof he never ever broke the rule.

Then the big bad homeowners association replied back with that it did not matter if he was on homeowners association property or not, that even though he was off of homeowners association property when he ade the ham radio transmissions, since the ham radio transmission could be heard on homeowners property , that it "was indeed a ham radio transmission on homeowners association property and in violation of the homeowners association rule of "NO ham radio transmissions allowed on homeowners association property"" and the fine stands and foreclosure stands if he eefused to pay the fine.

The ham refused to pay the fine, and wanted to take it to court. However, he could not afford to take it to court.

The big bad homeowners association decided to take it to court to collect the fine from him he refused to pay.

The big bad homeowners association then payed off all the lawyers and judge including the ham's own court-appointed lawyer.

So the judge wrongly ruled in the homeowners association and against the ham, since he and the lawyers were getting kickbacks from the homeowners association.

The judgee wrongly ruled that the correct interpretation of "NO ham radio transmissions allowed on homeowners association property" was a very very very specific rule which meant that the ham was indeed in violation of the rule and contract he signed even though he was physically off of homeowners association property when transmitting because since the tranmission could be heard on homeowners association property, and therefore the ham radio transmission was made on homeowners association property in violation of the homeowners rule and contract th ham signed, even though the transmissions were made from off of homeowners association property.

Plus had to pay court costs which he could not afford for losing the case.

Angered and miffed by this, the ham wanted to appeal the case, but could not afford the $1,500 application fee the appeals court required just to file an appeal (not counting all the court costs afterwards), the ham decied to get revenge against the homeowners association.

As revenge, the ham gathered some of his ham radio buddies, such as NO44TXU, NO4DWS, NO4STU, NO4DFG, NO4SWQ, etcetera and had them all go onto the homeowners asociation property and start transmitting on their ham radios while physically on homeowners association property..

This angered and miffed the homeowners association who tried to gget them to stop transmitting by saying it is a violation of the homeowners association rules.

The hams replied that they are not bound by the homeowners association rules since they never ever signed a contract with the homeowners association.

Then the big bad homeowners association tried to claim they were trespassing.

Then the hams replied they were not trespassing since they were gusts of the ham who got fined and lived on homeowners association property and were just visiting.

Then the big bad homeowners association tried claiming since they were guests of the ham who got fined and lives in the hoa building and are visiting him, that they too are bound by the homeowners rules even though they never signed any contract with the homeowners association at all and are in violation of the rules and will be sued if they refuse to comply with the rules to stp transmitting ham radio on homeowners association property.

Then the hams replied that even if the ham who got fined was in violation of the homeowners association rules, that the rest of them are not in violation because unlike the ham who got fined and foreclosed on, all their call letters start with the letters NO and the homeowners association rules plainly state "NO ham radio transmissions allowed on homeowners association property"

Not quite.
The Ontario law is requiring users of various devices to be "hands free" by 2012.

It is not all of Canada, just Ontario.

Another dumb, unenforceable liberal law. How can they possible know whether you are using a hands free transceiver or not? You are driving along with both hands on the wheel and talking..... For all they know you are talking to a passenger, or singing along with the music on your car radio. And why would it be any more dangerous than doing either one of those two things?

I don't know if it's still that way, but back in the 70's, if you even wanted to have a car radio in your car, you had to apply for a special permit at the DMV, and they would levy a tax and stamp your registration with the approval.

Where do you come up with this shit?
You don't say in which state this happened.
Furthermore, no HOA anywhere has the authority to enforce it's rules while off it's defined property or on public roads.

Can you at least identify the county court this happened in?

Where was this supposed to have happened? No state ever had such a law.

Ach... I thought I had mentioned the state. It was Wyoming, and they certainly did have such a law. I remember the headache when I tried to register my first car there. I ended up using a pocket transistor radio on the dash rather than pay the extra money (I was only 18, and didn't have a lot of disposable income at the time..

Check into the FCC rules (assuming this is in the USA) as while it's been a long time if memory serves the FCC preempts HOA rules.

THE BPL SAGA: ARRL ISSUES FIRST COMMENTS ON SECOND REPORT AND ORDER ON ACCESS BPL

The ARRL has issued its first comments to the FCC's Second Report and Order on Access Broadband over Powerline.
Amateur Radio Newsline's Mark Abramowicz, NT3V, is here with the details:

To sum it up, the American Radio Relay League is disappointed with the FCC's decision.
According to the ARRL Letter and the ARRL's website, the FCC's ruling on the whole issue of Broadband over Power Line missed the mark on the concerns about levels of radiated emissions which would cause interference on the ham bands.

For those who may not have been following this, BPL as the technology is called, is a way electric companies see of getting the internet out to suburban and rural customers, simply by having a customer plug into an electrical outlet in their home or apartment. The access would then be sent down existing electric lines.

But tests by the ARRL and other organizations shows the technology is pretty noise intensive. The ARRL's proposed solution to the FCC was mandatory notching of the amateur radio bands to a level 35 dB below the general emission limit.

The FCC rejected the ARRL's suggestion and those of its own staff and suggested 25 dB notching should be sufficient to handle the problem. That's only 5 dB above the current allowable peak of 20 dB.

The ARRL says the commission also made some changes on the distance for a measurement antenna and a power line being used for BPL for the purpose of extrapolating the level of interference.

The ARRL's Chief Executive Officer Dave Sumner K1ZZ, also is quoted as saying the league feels the FCC grossly mischaracterized the organization's position.

And, the ARRL accuses the FCC of defying the laws of physics in some of its arguments for its position.

But, the ARRL also praises the FCC for one statement in its findings. The conclusion that harmful interference must be corrected under any circumstance.

But Sumner, as quoted by the ARRL, says the FCC's actions don't back up its words, especially with regard to interference complaints. He notes that the ARRL's own, welldocumented formal interference complaint about BPL has been languishing at the FCC since last December.

The ARRL notes that the FCC's data on how many BPL systems are in operation today is flawed, and states the government agency lists so-called paper systems that were never even built, systems that are still in the planning stage, some in the trial stage, and those that simply were shut off.

The ARRL's Sumner vows a thorough review of the FCCs BPL document and pledges there will be a petition for reconsideration filed.

He notes that while the marketplace has not embraced BPL, there are some smart grid technology applications which could creep in and cause future problems for hams.

Sumner's bottom line according to the ARRL publication and website, is fixing the rules now - making notching mandatory, so anyone else deciding to use the technology will play on the same field as the few existing BPL providers who have acknowledged the need to notch their systems so as not to interfere with the amateur radio bands.

For those of you new to ham radio and who may be unaware of the kind of havoc that access BPL can bring to the amateur bands and what the League has been doing to protect the ham bands from it, you might want to take a look at the video titled "The ARRL Goes To Washington." RADIO LAW: FCC CLOSES THE DOOR ON PETITION TO MAKE ALL HAM GEAR FIELD SERVICEABLE

The FCC's Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau has terminated as dormant several pending proceedings, several of which involve amateur radio. The first matter terminated is RM-10412. This was petition filed several years ago by Nickolaus Leggett, N3NL, would mandate that all commerciallymanufactured amateur radios sold in the United States be field repairable and among other things would require a minimum component spacing.

In its decision to close RM-10412, the FCC noted that Leggett requested that it keep the matter open to allow various parties to submit additional comments on regulatory steps that would enhance certain aspects of the Amateur Radio Service. However, on April 15, 2004, the Commission released a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking and Order which specifically denied RM-10412. Since, by this action, RM10412 should have already have been closed, the FCC says that it rejects the request by N3NL to keep it open. (FCC)

RADIO LAW: 1991 PETITION TO PROTECT CIVILIAN COMMUNICATIONS GEAR FROM EMP DAMAGE DISMISSED

Yet another long dormant proceeding dismissed by the FCC was RM-5528 that has been going nowhere since it was filed back on October 22nd of 1991. Requested by Nickolaus Leggett, N3NL and Donald J. Schellhardt, KI4PMG, Docket RM-5528 would in essence have required all civilian solid state communications gear to be electronically and mechanically shielded against damage or destruction from Electromagnetic Pulse or EMP effects. Leggett and Schellhardt and wanted RM 5528 to be scanned into the Electronic Comment Filing System and that it be left open for additional public comments stating that EMP is a vital issue that needs to be addressed one way or the other. Now it appears that will not happen as the FCC notes that RM-5528 was closed by this previous action, the FCC rejects the request that the proceeding remain open. (FCC)

RESCUE RADIO: NOVEMBER 9 EAS TEST TO BE SHORTENED

Some breaking news regarding the nationwide Emergency Activation System or E-A-S test slated for November 9th at 2 p.m. Eastern Time.

According to an e-mail distributed by the National Association of Broadcasters to a number of industry leaders on November 3rd the NAB was informed by the Federal Emergency Management Agency that the audio portion of the test will now last 30 seconds, instead of the originally planned two and a half minutes. This should result in a total test time of approximately 45 to 60 seconds, including the data burst tones.

Radioworld on-line says that ths change was reportedly made at the direction of Secretary of Homeland Security Janet Napolitano. The National Association of Broadcasters says that it will be providing more information as it learns the details. (via e-mail from radioworld.com)

RADIO LAW: FCC CLOSES ACTION ON FCC PETITION TO MAKE 2300 to 2305 MHZ PRIMARY TO AMATEUR RADIO

Another rules change request being terminated is RM-10165. It was filed by the ARRL on May 7, 2001 and requested that the Amateur Radio Service allocation status in the 2300 to 2305 MHz band be changed from secondary to primary. The FCC says that after 11 years its time to finally bring this one to an end. Amateur Radio Newsline's Norm Seeley, KI7UP, has the details on this one:

On October 10, 2002, the Commission's Office of Engineering and Technology issued an Order dismissing ARRL's Petition. But the ARRL claims that the order did not resolve the issue of the allocation status of the Amateur Radio Service in the 2300 to 2305 MHz band, or ARRL's request for a primary allocation in that segment. As such the ARRL maintains that the status of the Amateur Radio Service allocation at 2300 to 2305 MHz remains relevant because of actions taken by the Commission with respect to an adjacent band at 2305 to 2320 MHz; because ARRL has filed a Petition for Reconsideration regarding the actions taken in the 2305 to 2320 MHz band; and due to other unrelated proposals for use of the 2300 to 2305 MHz band.

Regarding the 2305 to 2320 MHz band, on May 2010, the Commission issued an Order that amended certain rules governing the Wireless Communications Service or W-C-S.

This to enable W-C-S licensees to provide mobile broadband services.

In doing so, the Commission openly acknowledged that out-ofband emissions that could result from expanded use of W-C-S mobile devices in the 2305 to 2320 MHz band have the potential to increase interference to amateur radio operations in the 2300 to 2305 MHz band. However, during the course of the W-C-S proceeding, the FCC notes that the ARRL did not file any comments raising the issue of whether the Amateur Radio Service allocation status in the 2300 to 2305 MHz band should be modified. The FCC also notes that although the ARRL filed a Petition for Reconsideration of the W-C-S Order, it did not request a change in the status of the Amateur Radio Service allocation at 2300 to 2305 MHz in that filing. In fact, in its Reply Comments to the Opposition to its W-C-S Petition, that the ARRL specifically stated that it was not asking the Commission to revisit any aspect of its past decisions regarding that status.

As a result the FCC says that it believes that the RM-10165 proceeding concerning ARRL's request to change the status of the Amateur Radio Service to primary in the 2300 to 2305 MHz band should be terminated, since its request had already been dismissed and ARRL did not file a petition for reconsideration of that dismissal order.

However the FCC did leave open the door to future change.
In its termination order the Commission said that if the ARRL still desires a change in the Amateur Radio Service allocation status in the 2300-2305 MHz band, it can file a new petition for rulemaking. In the meantime, RM-10165 is terminated. (FCC)

RESCUE RADIO: THAILAND FLOODING HAM RADIO UPDATE

We have an update on ham radio assistance in Thailand where severe flooding has already claimed over 370 lives in less than three months. Word is that flood waters have closed in on the capital Bangkok. This as the authorities struggle to divert as much water as possible around the city as possible.

But according to Tony Waltham, HS0DX, for many areas to the north of the capital it is too late. Hundreds of communities are reported to be uninhabitable with flood water more than two or three meters high. 1 meter is the equivalent of 3.28 feet

Amateur radio has been playing an ongoing role in this disaster with operators helping to co-ordinate relief and rescue work using VHF two-way communications and repeaters, HF communications in the 40 meter band from 7 dot 060 to 7 dot 063 MHz on 40 meters. That operation under the direction of the Radio Amateur Society of Thailand continues as we go to air and is expected to be ongoing for some time to come.

There are also several Echolink conference rooms set up to aid in relief efforts. These include one named "Bangkok", "Thailand" and HS0AC. A list of VHF frequencies and repeaters can be found at www.qsl.net/rast.

Ham radio has also seen its share of destruction due to the rains. Among the areas inundated by more than a meter of water is the campus of the Asian Institute of Technology, where the Radio Amateur Society of Thailand's H-F club and contest station HS0ACis located. All the gear there is reported to be under water and may not be salvageable. (VK3PC)

ENFORCEMENT: ANOTHER UNLICENSED FLORIDA
BROADCASTER DINGED $10000

Florida seems to continue to hold the dubious honor as the nations unlicensed radio station capital. This with yet another unlicensed broadcaster being issued a Notice of Monetary forfeiture in the amount of $10000.

This time the recipient of the Commissions proposed fine is one Willis Cernogg, Jr. of Miami. According to the FCC, this past January 21st, March 24th, and April 14th agents from the Enforcement Bureau's Miami Office locate the source of radio frequency transmissions on 90.7
MHz to a residence in Miami, Florida, shared by Cernogg and several others. On January 21st and March 24th, the agents determined that the signals being broadcast exceeded the limits for operation under Part 15 of the Commission's rules and therefore required a license.

On April 14th Miami FCC agents inspected the station after the Miami Police Department executed a search warrant and secured the residence. The agents observed that the station's transmitter display read 90.7 MHz. A person who rented a room at the residence stated that Mr. Cernogg put the radio equipment in the locked area where police found it, and also provided Mr. Cernogg's phone number.
Subsequently, an agent from the Miami Office conducted an Internet search and found profile information for user "LadyLuckRadio907FMMiami" discussing an underground radio station on 90.7 FM. They also found a Twitter user called
"LADYLUCKRADIO" listing.

Based on the evidence it has gathered the FCC on October 25th issued a Notice of Monetary Forfeiture in the amount of $10000 to Cernogg.
He was given the customary 30 days to pay the proppsed fine or to register an appeal. (FCC)

ENFORCEMENT: FCC REDUCES $10000 NAL FOR UNLICENSED OPERATION TO $250

Still in Florida, the FCC has affirmed a monetary forfeiture in the amount of $250 to Thomas L. Morey of St. Petersburg. This for what the Commission says was his willful and repeated violation of section 301 of the Communications Act by operating an unlicensed radio transmitter on the frequency 88.3 MHz.

Back this past May 5th the Enforcement Bureau's Tampa Office issued a $10,000 Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture to Morey for his operation of an unlicensed radio transmitter without the requisite Commission authorization. Morey submitted a response to the N-A-L requesting cancellation of the proposed forfeiture, asserting that he was in no position to be able to pay the that amount. He also provided the necessary records to prove this to be the case.

After having reviewed Morey's documentation, the FCC concluded that the forfeiture should be reduced to $250. This they say is an amount within the range determined by the Enforcement Bureau to be affordable by Thomas Morey. Morey was given the customary 30 days from the October 18th release date of the order to pay that amount or the case may be referred to the Department of Justice for further enforcement. (FCC)

THE SOCIAL SCENE: NJ OLD TIME RADIO CONVENTION GOES QRT

The annual Friends of Old-Time Radio Convention, that has been meeting for 36 years, has gone QRT.

According to news reports the gathering that has been running each year since 1975. It has folded because of a lack of featured guests who were a part of broadcast radio in its infancy through its hey-day of the 1950's.

The final Friends of Old Time Radio Convention was held October 20th to the 23rd at the Ramada Plaza hotel across the way from Newark Airport in New Jersey. This year's honoree was 88 year old Arthur Anderson who acted as a teenager with the great actor/director/producer Orson Welles.

Also present were the grandsons of 1930's song and dance man Eddie Cantor and descendants of radio actor Brace Beemer. Beemer was the voice of the Lone Ranger for most of its run on radio.

But the stars and voices of that era have almost all fallen silent and with nobody left to tribute to, now so has the gathering that has honored this art form for almost four decades. (Earthlink NewsNet)

If you are a user of D-Star, or planning to get a D-Star radio soon, then put aside the weekend of Friday, November 11th through Sunday November 13th. That's when ICOM will host the 2011 D-STAR QSO Party on a S-STAR repeater near you.

According to Icom, the theme of this Year's D-STAR QSO Party is "Travel the World." You can take this trip vicariously via the D-STAR network, or on 10 or 6 meter simplex, to as many countries as possible using the D-STAR network.

In addition to the fun of meeting new people in the worldwide D-STAR Community, if you submit your log you have a chance to be one of fifteen lucky hams who will be chosen to receive a free model ID-31A or ID-31E D-Star handheld from Icom.

The basic rules are these: Submit your log with a minimum of one D-STAR contact and you are in the running. Submit a log with at least five foreign countries and you will double your chances to win. Submit ten countries, and your chances triple. And if your log has twenty or more unique countries, you quadruple your chances at becoming a winner of the new ID-31 portable.

While Jules Verne wrote about going the around the world in 80-days, you will only have 72 hours to fill your log during the D-STAR QSO Party. For complete rules on how to participate in this fun event, please take your web browser to tinyurl.com/d-star-qso-party. (Icom, Ham Nation)

HAM RADIO IN SPACE: AUBIESAT-1 IS ON ORBIT

AUBIESAT-1 and several other satellites are now on-orbit. The birds were launched on Friday, October 28th at 09:48 UTC on board a Delta II booster from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. Explorer-1, AubieSat-1 and M-Cubed were released at 11:26 UT. The Radio Auroral Explorer 2 followed at 11:27 UTC and the non-amateur Dynamic Ionosphere CubeSat Experiment or DICE satellite at 11:29 UTC. A few hours later, signals from Aubiesat-1 and two other of the cubesats had been heard and confirmed. (ANS)

DX

In DX, word that Sable Island is a go for this year. AA4VK, N1SNB and WA4DAN say that they will be active portable CY0 between December 29th and January 6th and that the aircraft to carry the trio to the remote outpost has been chartered. For more details and updates, watch the Web page at www.cy0dxpedition.com.

The Five Star DXers Association T32C DXpedition to Christmas Island is now history. Despite initial difficulties with their container of equipment not reaching the island, the team finished with over 213,000 contacts and this is the first time an expedition has exceeded 200,000 QSO's to that rare location.

DL7DF will be on holiday in Kenya between November 23rd and December 6th. He plans to be active as 5Z4HW and operate on all bands, 160 through 10 meters using CW, SBB, RTTY, PSK31 and SSTV as often as possible. His location will be Diani Beach at the coastline of Mombasa. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the DARC Bureau.

S01MZ in the Western Sahara has been active in past weeks on 20 and 15 meters. He is usually heard between 12:30 and 18:00 UTC but other details are known about this station.
He does say to QSL via EA1BT.

GM3YTS and GM0GAV will be operational from Malawi as 7Q7GM through November 13th. Activity will be CW only with a focus on the low bands, especially 160 and 80 meters. They are hoping to have an online log available. Look for all QSOs to be uploaded to Logbook of the World as soon as they return home. QSL via GM4FDM.

Lastly, JH8PHT will be active as AH0KT from Saipan on the Northern Mariana Islands between November 24th and the 28th. QSL via his home callsign only. Please do not QSL to Saipan.

THAT FINAL ITEM: 2011 NTIA SPECTRUM ALLOCATION WALLCHART NOW AVAILABLE

And finally this week, have you ever wondered what lies just beyond the band limits of your FCC operating license? Many hams have and now theres a free way to find out. Yes we said free and Amateur Radio Newsline's Michael Grebert, N4OZ, is here with the details:

The complete US Frequency Allocations between 3 kHz and 300 GHZ are published in a highly detailed, easy to read, color wall chart by the NTIA's Office of Spectrum Management. The new 2011 edition is now available to be downloaded at no charge from the Agency's website.

All US commercial, industrial, medical, military, broadcast and amateur radio frequency allocations are clearly marked and color coded to allow easy identification. Exclusive and non-exclusive bands and allocations are easily seen, as are band limits and different types of service.

The chart is available as a high resolution .pdf file, or as a 68 text based equivalent that may be more convenient for printing at home and keeping in a binder.

No matter how familiar you are with your own small part of our spectrum, this chart is a fascinating mosaic of all the varied and competing uses of this precious resource. Scanner listeners in particular will appreciate the breadth and detail included across the commonly receivable spectrum and beyond.

The National Telecommunications and Information Administration or NTIA is responsible for all US Federal Government frequency allocation and spectrum management. In this regard it is the companion body to the Federal Communications Commission or FCC, who manage the spectrum on behalf of all non Government users.

The NTIA's new chart shows the combined allocations for all users managed by both organizations, ensuring that no approved frequency usage is omitted.

Hams and radio hobbyists outside the US can also benefit from this information, as other regions and countries generally follow a similar allocation scheme, with many bands being used globally among similar services.

Both the full color wall chart and the text version of this excellent resource can be downloaded from tinyurl.com/2011chart.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I'm Michael Grebert, N4OZ, reporting from Music City, Nashville, Tennessee.

Once again that free NTIA chart can be downloaded free of charge at tinyurl.com/2011chart. And you have to admit that for that price it's a hard offer to pass up. (N4OZ)

Yeah.... That makes a lot of sense. Pay a tax for the privelege of killing yourself or someone else in a car accident.... but that should tell you what its all about.. Money. If the government sees some way to get some extra money from any of its citizens, they'll jump on it. They don't need any excuse. They just collect money for the same reason Hillary climbed Everest.... "Just because its there".

My sister used to live in "Sun City West". A Dell Webb community in Phoenix AZ, and she said that a neighbor couldn't persue his Ham Radio Hobby, because the neighbors complained about the antenna array on his roof.

I don't understand. Was the transmitter located in the homeowners house, so he could transmit by telephone? IOW, did he telephone his own house and talk over his transmitter from some remote location? If so, then he certainly broke the associations rules, since obviously it was the transmitter power they were bitching about and not the physical location of the DJ. Its kind of like you calling a radio station and talking over the air via your telephone. You could call from anywhere, but the stations power will still be there to amplify and transmit your voice with several kilowatts to an audience.

I can believe it. There have been many dumb laws passed. Some of them have been thrown out by the higher courts, either 'state or federal. Like the guy back in the 60's who wanted to start a cable TV business in southern California. Every movie theatre had a petition in their lobbys to prevent him from doing it. and hunderwds of thousands of movie goers signed it. Not only that, but the stupid
California voters voted for it! Of course, the California Supreme Court threw it out. (His cable business didn't take away anyone's rights. If he came to your door and asked you if you wanted him to deliver a cable signal to your house, all you had to do was say, "No", and slam the door in his face. Ande, if your neighbor had one delivered to his living room, You wouldn't even know it, so it wouldn't hurt you in the least) But millions of California voters pulled the lever on "no" for that poor guy, and it cost him a bundle to fight it to the state supreme court..... Go figure.....
People haven't a clue as to what the Constitution is all about. And by, "people" I also mean our legislaters....

That rule is not vague.

You were right, provided that your words: "transmit from ham radios off of homeowners association property" mean: "transmit from ham radios WHICH ARE off of homeowners association property."

I assume you mean that those radios and other stuff were all off of HOA property.

I hereby request that all state legislators in your state pass a law making it a misdemeanor for you to use the word "very" ever again.

If someone like me wrote the HOA agreement, it would have said (in more careful legal language) that all fines must be paid without setoff and regardless of any defense or proceeding to determine the validity of the assessment, and that the fine will be refunded if the member wins a protest with the HOA Protest Committee or wins a judicial determination that the assessment was invalid. If that clause is in the HOA agreement, you violated that rule regardless of whether you violated the radio rule.

If the HOA really said that, that was dumb. But that doesn't mean much. Either the non-vague rule was violated by a transmission from a transmitter on HOA property or it was not, and the subsequent dumbness of the HOA adds nothing and subtracts nothing.

Prove it. I'll believe it when you show me the order which says that or a transcript in which the judge said it. Until then, I will believe that the court decided that your transmitter was on HOA property when the transmission occurred. That decision would be correct if the transmitter was on HOA property at the time, regardless of where you were standing. And of course, that decision was wrong if you did not have the transmitter on HOA property at the time. An erroneous judgment can be made - that's believable - somebody lied and the court believed it. That's what appeals are for.

Useless, but harmless.

Just shows how dumb HOAs can be. It would have been more fun to stand outside and watch the parade until the hams figured out they were wasting gasoline and missing a baseball game on TV while accomplishing nothing.

Now that's funny. And clever. And useless, of course, since there was no trespassing and no violation of the agreement and no fine assessed against them and no court proceeding contemplated. Just more harmless fun.

Depends on the state. Texas has had examples of all sorts of game on the

They might be able to begin the procedings. But as soon as that happens, the mortage holder takes over.
Who do you make your mortage payments to? The holder or the HOA?
The holder has priority over the HOA.

Marvyn Richmond, 49, was so engrossed in a conversation with his mother that he failed to notice traffic ahead of him had come to a standstill, and ploughed into the back of the queue, killing Michael Buston, a passenger in a van.

Relatives of Mr Buston and road safety charities called for an outright ban on making phone calls whilst driving, which makes drivers four times more likely to have an accident, even if they are using a hands-free kit.

Mr Buston's father-in-law, Peter Long, whose son was badly hurt in the crash in March last year, said: "The use of hands-free phones should be stopped. Whether it's hands-free or not, it's still a distraction to any driver.

"What happened was totally avoidable. At the end of the day this man has ruined many lives, all because he was using his mobile while driving."

Richmond was jailed for four and a half years after being convicted at Lincoln Crown Court of causing death by dangerous driving.

Q. What are the sources of driver distraction?

A. There are many distractions in everyday driving. Events and activities inside and outside the vehicle can cause driver distraction. Many of these have been recorded in the Crashworthiness Data System maintained by the U.S. National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and include:

Something taking place alongside the roadway
An unexpected noise
Operating the radio, CD, or cassette player
Adjusting the climate or operational controls
Using other devices in the vehicle (navigational instruments, business tools, cellular telephones)
Eating, drinking and smoking
Other distractions while driving include personal grooming, conversations with passengers, disciplining or tending to children, reading or writing.

Back to top

Q. What are the consequences of driving while distracted?

A. Distracted drivers react more slowly to sudden traffic conditions or events, such as a car stopping to make a turn, or pulling out from a side road. They fail more often to recognize potential hazards such as pedestrians, bicycles or debris in the road. They decrease their "margin of safety" leading them to take risks that they might not otherwise take, such as turning left in front of oncoming traffic.

When a driver's attention is drawn away from the road and the surrounding environment, the result could be a delayed reaction to a hazard, or possibly a failure to detect it at all. All of these are common factors associated with vehicle crashes. Driver focus is critical to anticipating and avoiding collisions.

One of the earlier studies on distracted driving, released by Transport Canada's Ergonomics Division, 'The Impact of Cognitive Distraction on Driver Visual Behaviour and Vehicle Control' in February 2002 (Harbluk and Noy) found that performing a demanding cognitive task while driving produced changes in the drivers' visual behaviour, vehicle control (as indicated by braking behaviour), and subjective assessments of workload, safety, and distraction.

A more recent study by the U.S. National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) released in April 2006 concluded that driver age, experience, daytime sleepiness ratings and personality can make significant differences in a driver's involvement in crashes and near-crashes due to distractions.

Back to top

Q. How many collisions are caused by distracted drivers?

A. Driver distraction is cited as one of the most common contributors to traffic crashes but the numbers vary depending on the study. According to a 2006 study published by the U.S. National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) the various forms of driver distraction are estimated to contribute in 8 out of every 10 crashes (NHTSA, April 2006). This figure translates into almost 4 million crashes per year. Estimates of a similar magnitude have been cited in other reports (NHTSA, 1997, Treat et al. 1979).

signals are not understandable. Why would you possibly want to do this?

"The Canadian Automobile Association is convinced that driving while using a hands-free cell phone is no safer than driving with a handheld cell phone. It's pushing the provincial governments to expand their bans"
....

>Opinion poll items snipped>
Your silly opinion polls don't change the fact that you lied about all of Canada having such a ban.
As was said, "It is not all of Canada, just Ontario."

Integrated circuit package comprising a magnetic capacitor
The magnetic capacitor unit (130) has a positive terminal (132) and a negative terminal (134) connected to the substrate (110). Further, an integrated circuit package including an integrated circuit and a magnetic capacitor unit, which is stacked on said integrated circuit, is disclosed.

An integrated circuit package including a substrate (110), an integrated circuit (120) and a magnetic capacitor unit (130) as a power source is disclosed. The substrate (110) has a first surface (112) and an opposite second surface (114). The integrated circuit (12) is connected to the second surface (114) of the substrate (110).

Description
[0001] The present invention relates to an integrated circuit package. More particularly, the present invention relates to an integrated circuit package for magnetic capacitor.

[0005] The present invention provides an integrated circuit package for magnetic capacitor including a substrate, an integrated circuit and a magnetic capacitor unit. The substrate has a first surface and an opposite second surface. The integrated circuit is connected to the second surface of the substrate. The magnetic capacitor unit has a positive terminal and a negative terminal connected to the substrate.
[0006] The accompanying drawings are included to provide a further understanding of the invention, and are incorporated in and constitute a part of this specification. The drawings illustrate embodiments of the invention and, together with the description, serve to explain the principles of the invention

the IRS is after her for the profit Smiley is making, and she could go to jail on charges related to Smileys Illegal

CAVIAT EMPTOR. This means let the buyer beware. A lot of people here in Corning, Ca. have been ripped off by Smiley Rook. That should come as no surprise, since He is an ex-con. Beware, Has he mentioned that he is working out of a packing crate? If that place catches fire, then there is no way for the people to get out since there is one door, right next to the likely source of the fire. Any body in this packing crate will get cooked, or asphyxiate. I have been there I have dealt directly with Smiley Rook, Who may be somehow related to Lisa M. Rook.
Smileys phone # (530) 824-4005
Smileys email smileyscbshop@yahoo.com
Lisa's phone # (541) 850-9581
Lisa's email patience3987@yahoo.com

I am currently searching for more information on these two, They may be in cohoots. I think Lisa lives in Bend Oregon, While Smiley is a minimum of ten hours away, in Corning, California.

Hello Group,

Everyone pile into the packing crate death trap called Smileys CB Shop. This shop is set up in a ten foot by 20 foot packing crate. One entrance/exit. In case of a fire the people in the back of the shop have no chance to get out. Though, I am sure smiley will get out first, and with no problems.

In his spare time he causes fights on the CB radio mostly on channel 8 and 17. Very mature. Sounds like the kind of person I want to do business with. A crap stirring ex-con. Just what this town needs! Another one of those.
